

SELLING OUT! SELLING OUT!

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

The whole Stock must be cleared out.

The Greatest Bargains Ever Offered In Town.

See the values we offer in Dress Goods, Prints, Muslins, Flannels, Shettings, Tickings, Cottons, Shirtings, Flannellets, Ladies' Vests, Hosiery, Gloves, Ribbons.

Ask to see our Ready-made Clothing. Bargains in Overcoats and Jackets.

Also, Caps, Furry Robes, Blankets, Comforters. Everything we offer for Sale is new and bright, being nearly all purchased for this fall trade.

Gen's Furnishings, Ties, Collars, Shirts, Sox, Braces, all reduced in prices.

The Biggest Bargains on earth in Shirts and Drawers.

N.B.—All accounts must be settled at once.

TERMS CASH. WIMS & CO.

Bogart Bros.,

ST. GEORGE STREET,

DISHES, DISHES, DISHES.

Dinner Sets, Tea Sets, Toilet Sets, Glass Sets.

Lamps, Vases, Water Sets, large variety of Fancy Dishes of all kinds, at prices to suit the times.

GROCERIES.

Canned Meats, Canned Vegetables, Pickles, Sardines, Salmon, Jams, Jellies, and Rolled Oats.

Agents for

SALADA CEYLON TEA

—AND—

FLFISCHMAN'S Compressed Yeast

Goods delivered to all parts of the town.

Bogart Bros.

Drop us a

POST CARD

And we will send you

samples of any kind of

Dry Goods you may require. Our Mr. Reid

has just returned from Europe, where he visited the leading manufacturers of England, France, Scotland and Germany, and secured

the newest goods at the lowest possible

prices.

Our store is full of beautiful new goods and it will be a pleasure to send you samples.

As our assortment is so large be as definite as possible in ordering. Mention about the price you want to pay and whether you want black or colored.

Don't think you are bothering us. We will be glad to send samples whether you buy or not.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.,

Importers,

LEWISVILLE.

P. Slaven & Co. will move into the store on George street now occupied by W. H. Braton on Nov. 1st.

A full bloom blossom of most dainty hues was plucked from an apple tree in James Whitton's garden on Tuesday afternoon.

A meeting of the electors will be held to-day for the purpose of nominating a candidate to fill the vacancy in the West ward.

W. D. McRae has purchased a bicycle and is busy breaking records along the highways under the friendly rays of the harvest moon.

The Canadian Maf, published at the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Belleville, comes to hand in its accustomed bright and attractive style.

The weather during the past week has been cold with boisterous gales and sharp frosts. A light fall of rain on Sunday morning. Yesterday was a grand autumn day.

F. J. Rogers and family have again taken possession of their residence on Green street, after spending the summer at Bay View Ranch, where they found a most healthy and pleasant retreat during the hot season.

With this number THE TRIBUNE enters upon its Fourteenth Volume, having never missed a week since its first issue. We trust that the coming volume will in every sense be superior to any of its predecessors.

J. J. Kerr, has made heavy importations for fall trade, and a visit to his store will reward those who wish to make bargains. J. J. Kerr is perfectly satisfied with the season's trade thus far, the recent cold weather having given a great boost to his business.

C. W. Tucker and R. J. Phillips and their families left by the Bay of Quinte Railway on Monday morning for Tweed, where they took the C. P. R. for their new home on Lake Temiskaming, Nipissing District. Friends were at the station to bid them farewell, and all unite in wishing them all success in their brave enterprise.

Our thanks are due to R. J. G. of Thurlow, for a very large quantity of first prize apples, pears, etc. Mr. Garbutt took first prize for his collection of fruit at the Shannonville fair. He is always a successful exhibitor at all the fairs of the district. The samples have been on exhibition at THE TRIBUNE Office, and a host of visitors have admired the noble specimens of choice fruit, which evidence what can be accomplished by skilful culture.

Messrs. Tucker and Phillips and party arrived safely at Mattawa at 9:30 on Tuesday morning, after some experiences of slow trains and delays on the C. P. R. They were thus unable to make connections and had to remain at Mattawa until Thursday morning. They had rain on the journey, with flurries of snow at Pembroke. All the party were well though the women and children were tired as the result of the long journey.

J. A. Anning, formerly of Deseronto, writes from Moreno, California, to renew his subscription to THE TRIBUNE, which he finds a very welcome weekly visitor. Mr. Anning has been a foreman during the past three years and a half of a very extensive ranch, which is set out with oranges, lemons, and other semi-tropical fruits. Moreno is a flourishing locality, not far from Riverside. His old friends will be glad to hear that he is prospering on the Pacific coast.

Rev. W. W. Peck was ordained and inducted into the pastoral charge of the Presbyterian congregation of Napanee last evening. Rev. W. S. McLaughlin, B. D., was the preacher on the occasion, while Rev. J. Mackie addressed the people and Rev. M. Gillivray addressed the minister. The new pastor was given a hearty reception at the close of the proceedings. A party from Deseronto drove down to take part in the proceedings.

G. E. Sider is in his new shop, which he has fitted out in most elaborate style. The improvements are not all completed but enough has been done to show that he has one of the best jewelry establishments in Eastern Ontario. Travellers assure us that his stock is not excelled either in quality or quantity by any shop of the kind in the district. Mr. Sider is receiving visitors, and welcomes all to inspect his new premises.

A Successful Contractor. D. L. Brown, formerly of Deseronto, is meeting with much success in St. Johnsville, N. Y. He has at present the contract for the erection of a large school building 67,400 ft., which will cost $8,000. When completed it will rank among the best school buildings in the state of New York.

Public School. At a meeting of the Public School board held last week Miss Robertson's resignation was accepted, to take effect on the 20th inst. Miss Pagan will take Miss Robertson's department on her retirement. Miss Anderson will take Miss Pagan's room. The board have advertised for a new teacher to fill the vacancy in the staff.

Sudden Death. Emily Gaylord, only daughter of Luther Gaylord, Main street, died suddenly last Friday evening after a very brief illness. The funeral took place on Sunday, religious services being conducted at St. Mark's church by Rev. J. H. Coleman, after which the remains were interred in the Deseronto cemetery. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family, and father of the deceased, in his grief for the past few weeks.

Good Templars. No. 160, Good Templars, has changed its night of meeting from Thursday to Wednesday evening. The lodge is in a prosperous condition.

Deseronto Minstrels. The Deseronto Minstrels played to a large house at Centreville last Saturday night and gave such an excellent entertainment that they were asked to return at an early date. They go to Oshawa this evening.

Bible Society. The collectors for the Deseronto Bible Society will call at each house in town during the next week or two. They will as formerly be kindly received and it is hoped that no one will refuse a contribution.

Big Mill. The east side of the Big mill closed down for the season on Monday evening. The number of men who were employed in that department will go at once to the shanties in the back country to cut down next season's supply of logs.

Harvest At Home. A Harvest At Home will be held in the basement of St. Mark's Church on Tuesday evening, 8th inst. The admission to this novel and unique entertainment will be only 10 cents. A good programme is being prepared, and the first number will be called at eight o'clock. All welcome.

Blessing the Bell. His Grace Archbishop Cleary will arrive at Marysville at one o'clock this afternoon and will be the guest of Rev. Fr. Quinn. On Sunday next, 6th inst. at 10:30 a. m. he will perform the ceremony of blessing the bell of St. Mary's church at Marysville. A great many from all parts of this district will, no doubt, be present to witness this impressive function.

The Lassie's String Band. The famous Lassie's String Band of the Eastern Ontario Province, under the command of Staff-Captain and Mrs. Southall, will conduct a concert at the Salvation Army Bazaar next Wednesday, 9th inst., commencing at 8 p. m. The band is an excellent organization, and comprises guitar, mandolin, violin, cornet, &c. A good programme will be furnished. All are invited. Admission only 5 cents.

Canadian Oddfellows. At a meeting of the Royal Hastings Lodge, No. 158, C. O. O. F., held last Saturday evening the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:—George Morlen, N. G.; N. T. Lowe, V. G.; A. D. McIntyre, Secretary; Wm. Dean, L. M.; J. H. Topping, Warden; W. D. Perry, Conductor. These officers will be installed next Wednesday evening at which time the ceremony of initiation will also be performed. This lodge is in a most prosperous condition. Few lodges have their finances in such a healthy condition.

Citizens' Band. A few instruments in the Citizens' Band are now ill and the Band invites any young men who may wish to become members to send in their names to the secretary. This is an excellent opportunity to secure a good musical training, and many will, no doubt, take advantage of it. All will be pleased to learn that the Band have engaged Prof. Denmark for another year, a sufficient guarantee that the organization will maintain its reputation as the best band in Eastern Ontario. The open air concerts will soon be discontinued as the cold weather is now setting in.

Hymenical. A very quiet wedding occurred at St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston, Monday morning, Sept. 30th, when Miss Kate Morrison, second daughter of the late Mr. Morrison, of Kingston, was married to D. J. Hogan, merchant, of Napanee. The bride was tastefully attired in a travelling dress of blue and white and was attended by Miss Mary Higgins, of Centreville, and her sister, Miss Anna Morrison, of Deseronto, who was in blue and brown pupils. Chas. Morrison, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. Vicar-Gen. Gauthier, of Brockville, assisted by Very Rev. Vicar-Gen. Kelly, of the archbishop's palace. Only the immediate relatives of the parties were present. After the ceremony the party returned to the residence of the bride's mother and partook of luncheon before leaving for New York and Boston. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hogan will reside in Napanee. The bride is well known in Deseronto and a host of friends will unite in hearty congratulations.

Police Court. A young man by the name of Luke Loe, who was arrested last Saturday night for interrupting a meeting of the Salvation Army at their barracks, appeared before Commissioner McCollough on Monday to answer for his offence. He had been arrested for the prosecution and W. S. Herington, Napanee, for the defence. After the evidence was all in Mr. Herington requested that he and Mr. Bedford might be allowed to talk the matter over between themselves and with the consent of Captain McKinnon, an agreement was made to that the prisoner should be released on his own recognizances, with the understanding that the prisoner should appear in court on the date of which he desired him and all others to take notice that on another offence of this nature being proved before him he would agree to no settlement but inflict the utmost sentence allowed by law. Captain McKinnon stated that he had no objection to the prisoner being released on his own recognizances, but that he would not have Loe's name in the list of prisoners who had been released on their own recognizances. He also humbly requested that he had called his last baby Faith, Love and Truth. The evening was one of a most happy character and shows the fraternal spirit which actuates the members of this lodge in a very marked degree.

PERSONALS.

Miss Frank Hudson, of Belleville, will take a post-graduate course at nursing in a hospital in New York City.

Miss Phippen, of Kingston, has been visiting in town as the guest of Miss Poltras, George street.

Messrs. Neil and Anderson, after a stay of some weeks in town, have returned to London, England.

Chas. D. Gouge, of the General Office, returned home last Saturday from a pleasant trip to Ashabula and Cleveland, Ohio.

Robert Wiseman spent a few days in town, and has left on a visit to friends in Chicago.

Nelson Jackson, of the stenographic staff of the Central office, is enjoying his vacation.

Henry Rabbun, of Kenedyville, was in town on Saturday and favored us with a call.

H. E. McFall, of Wellington, favored us with a pleasant call last Saturday.

W. W. Carter, of Fraserston, spent a few days in town during the week and also took in the great exhibition at Shannonville.

Chas. A. Millener left on Saturday on a trip to London, England.

Mrs. Edward Wilson and family returned home last week from Morven where they spent the summer.

Mrs. Marsh has returned home after visiting friends in Prince Edward and Fredericton.

Wm. Jamieson and family drove up to Shannonville last Friday and enjoyed the great exhibition.

Messrs. Robertson, Macfarlane, Pegan and Sanderson, of the Public school staff were among the visitors to the Shannonville fair.

Robt. Geddis and Miss Geddis enjoyed the great exhibition at Shannonville last Saturday.

Wm. Knight, who has been spending the summer in Dr. Dulmage's office, left last Saturday for Toronto to resume his studies in the Dental College.

Frank Howard has been laid up for several weeks with malaria fever.

Mrs. E. R. Martin, of Kingston, has returned home after a few weeks' visit with her sister, J. W. Asseltine.

Rev. T. F. Dibb, of Odessa, is suffering from a severe attack of inflammation of one of his eyes.

Mr. & Mrs. George Hewitt left on Monday for Port Huron, Mich., where Mr. Hewitt has secured a good position.

Miss Emma Loft and Miss Pickett, have returned to Waterford after spending a month with Mr. & Mrs. A. Loft, of Forsters' Island Park.

Wm. Evans, inspector of halls, Toronto, and Mrs. Evans spent a few days in town during the past week. Mr. Evans is looking well and was warmly greeted by a host of old friends.

Mr. & Mrs. G. A. Grant have been enjoying a pleasant visit to friends in Napanee; Tweed, Nanaimo, etc.

James Waterbury and family drove up to Shannonville last Saturday. Mr. Waterbury owns a fast trotter.

Wm. Edwards George Borchard and the gay crowd on the Midway Plaisance at Shannonville last Saturday.

Homer Solmes and M. Woodcock were visitors at Shannonville last Saturday.

Chas. G. Shields, who left for Shannonville last Saturday.

Prof. Richardson, of Albert College, wheeled down to meet friends at the Shannonville fair.

Wm. Harvey and R. Clement and families took in the fair at Shannonville.

Miss Maggie Stoddard was a visitor at Shannonville last Saturday.

Miss Brown, of Ensey Hill, attended the fair at Shannonville last week.

Mr. & Mrs. John Walker have again taken up their residence in Deseronto.

J. A. Davis has been suffering from a sprained ankle the past few days.

During the time of drought, it is the duty of all citizens to boil all water before drinking. Attention to this will prevent much sickness.

Obituary. On Tuesday evening, W. P. Skelleg, of this office, received a telegram from his home in Kingston announcing the sudden death of his father, Joseph Skelleg. Mr. Skelleg had been suffering from malaria fever and this developed into typhoid with unexpected fatal termination. Deceased was a native of Hartford, England, and came to this country when eight years of age. He was fifty-two years of age and leaves a wife and seven children.

Presentations. The members of Royal Hastings Lodge, No. 158, Canadian Order of Oddfellows, gathered with their wives and sweethearts, mustered in force at the hospitable residence of Mrs. N. T. Lowe, Maple avenue, on the evening of Friday 27th, for the purpose of spending a few social hours with Mrs. G. W. Tucker and family before their departure from Deseronto. A very happy time was spent in games and other amusements. A service of cake, coffee, etc., was dispensed and enjoyed. At this stage of the proceedings Bro. Lloyd, N. G., said that the time had arrived for the performance of a pleasant task. He called upon Bro. A. D. McIntyre, who after some most profuse remarks, presented Bro. Tucker with a Past Noble Brother of the Jewel as a token of the appreciation in which he was held by the brethren. Bro. Tucker replied with his usual eloquence, thanking the brethren for their handsome gift and assuring them that he would never forget Royal Hastings Lodge. He also humbly requested that he had called his last baby Faith, Love and Truth. The evening was one of a most happy character and shows the fraternal spirit which actuates the members of this lodge in a very marked degree.

Casualties.

While getting off the B. of Q. train at the fair mill on Monday evening, J. E. Platen made a misstep and a severe fall was fractured near the knee. Dr. Vanderweil reduced the fracture. On Wednesday afternoon a number of the fall and Jacob Borden being unable to get out of the way his left leg was broken near the ankle. Dr. Newton was summoned and reduced the fracture.

Central Grocery. Wilbert Woodcock has purchased the stock-trade of Watson & Co., grocers, Main street, and taken business on his own account to-morrow. He has imported a large stock of choice groceries, etc., etc., so as to give every choice to customers. Special attention will be paid to the grocery department. He will also carry a large stock of tobacco and cigars. The stand is very central, being immediately opposite the O'Connor House. Mr. Woodcock is one of our most popular young men, and there is every reason to believe he will secure a fair share of public patronage.

METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. R. Taylor has been suffering from an attack of malarial fever, and was unable to undertake pulpit duties last Sunday. Mr. Taylor is improving, and expects to be about next week.

Rev. D. A. McKenzie will occupy the pulpit next Sunday. All invited.

At the meeting of the Epworth League last May evening, Rev. Robert Wiseman gave a very interesting account of his trip to the Bradford convention.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES. The Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held Sunday next, the Rev. W. Lewin, of Kingston, will preach both morning and evening. At the 11 o'clock service there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion. The service in the evening will be choral.

Contributions of flowers, fruit, etc., will be held Sunday next. The Rev. W. Lewin, of Kingston, will preach both morning and evening. At the 11 o'clock service there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion. The service in the evening will be choral.

In addition to the services on Sunday, there will be a "Harvest At Home" in the basement on Tuesday evening, to which all are cordially invited. See the notice of this in another column for further particulars.

A severe cold prevented the rector from taking part in the services last Sunday. The Church Women's Aid Society met on Tuesday, and received a very satisfactory financial report.

The choir will be strongly reinforced for Sunday, and some specially appropriate and beautiful music has been prepared.

CHURCH OF THE REDEMPER. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the morning service next Sunday. The usual preparatory service will be held this (Friday) evening.

Rev. W. G. Geddis gave a very interesting report on the Christian Endeavor Society last Sunday evening.

The pastor welcomes men to the Bible classes on Sunday next.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold their annual fund offering service in the parlor of the church on Wednesday evening, October 10th, 1895.

The programme will consist of a positive exercise, addresses, and music. All are cordially invited to be present. The offerings, however small, will be placed in ornate envelopes, together with a slip of paper inscribed, containing a special cause for gratitude during the next year.

A meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society, held on Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the next month:—President, Rev. J. E. Stoddard; Secretary, Mr. J. E. Stoddard; Treasurer, Miss Elliott; Vice-presidents, Miss Macfarlane, secretary, Miss Davis, corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. E. Stoddard.

The plate collections past Sunday are in all of the Session Fund.

CEMETERY CONSECRATED. On Wednesday, his Grace Archbishop Cleary drove up from Napanee for the purpose of consecrating a new cemetery recently purchased and laid out by the congregation of the church of St. Vincent de Paul. In the same carriage with his Grace were Messrs. J. E. Platen, of Belleville, Vere Rev. Dean Gauthier, of Brockville, and Father Hartigan, of Centreville. The distinguished party arrived at the cemetery at 1 p. m. and were received by Father Hogan, pastor of the parish, and Father Quinn, of Marysville. Although not a very conspicuous ceremony, a large number of people had assembled to welcome the Archbishop and take part in the religious ceremony. The Archbishop, after a short prayer, pronounced the consecration of the cemetery in accordance with the impressive ritual prescribed by the Roman Rite. It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

It is a very fine lot of ground and the congregation on the nature of the ceremony and the duty of a proper care and veneration for the sacred spot where the dead would be interred, concluding by pronouncing the Episcopal Benediction. It was quite evident that the clergy and the congregation, with the manifestation of respect and affection shown by the Deseronto congregation, and he could not fail to admire the devotion and the piety of Father Hogan and the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul who with such spirit acquired this property, and who had so nobly responded to the call of their pastor.

1

DON'T'S FOR THE SUMMER GIRL

Don't let your summer young man witness your reception of your fiancé at the depot.

Don't insist on riding with the driver when you go out with him.

Don't go to more than one hop in a week, and don't stay late at any of them.

Don't forget that the bearing capacity of the average hammock is very limited.

Don't be one of the plaza crows.

You'll be dubbed a scandal-monger if you do.

Don't pay more attention to your clothes than to the development of your muscle.

Don't fail to run about cheerfully and do things for your father or mother.

Don't forget that plain and inexpensive clothing is most appropriate to the country.

Don't think that life is impossible without passing the summer in the country.

Don't wear an abbreviated bathing suit unless your figure is above criticism.

Don't give as an excuse for not being in to dinner that the wind died out where it did not.

Don't go to sleep in a hammock in

Don't write to your friends at our summer resorts that they ought to where you are

Don't judge a man's financial resources by the number of his colored shirts or duck trousers.

Don't be too lazy, or you will deteriorate physically and mentally when you should improve.

Don't read too many novels, for you will thereby injure your eyesight and fuddle your brain.

Don't worry about sunburn freckles. The latter are an indication of unaffected good nature.

Don't spend so much money that you will have to live in discomfort for the rest of the year.

Don't help to make a summer resort a breeding place of envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness.

Don't talk learnedly with farmers about cattle and horses when you know less of the subject than they do.

Don't go into over-ingenious schemes for amusement. They are apt to end in amusement and bad times.

Don't shock the artistic sentiment the community by wearing black tan on your feet at the same time.

Don't think that a summer resort is most favorable place to lay the foundation of a life of domestic happiness.

Don't allow yourself to be monopolized by one young man. It may make guests at the hotel think you unpopular.

Don't imagine that every young man who behaves foolishly is in love with you.

Don't, if you happen to look better flannel than in muslin, call the people who flutter in ribbon and lace "idiots."

Don't call the girls who spend a deal of time with the summer men "ragacious flirts." They may be more popular.

Don't powder so thickly that you look like a miller, but don't at Don't flirt with the hotel clerk who is on duty. You will cause embarrassment to shy people who want to go to the office.

Don't avoid the piazza too completely, or your little idiosyncrasies will be magnified into crimes by those who frequent it.

Don't strive too hard to get into pretentious attitudes on piazzas, boats, and Don't forget that many young men making a bluff. The poor man sometimes pretends to be rich and the rich man to be poor.

Don't forget that there is more hunger at a summer resort than anywhere on earth, and don't contribute to it more than you can help.

Don't forget if you go yachting, wind your life out and leave you all alone.

Don't expect a poor tired man, who is starting over from Saturday to Monday morning, to be able to do much of anything.

SOME SAYINGS.

Projdine is a good friend, but a m bad enemy.
I never no which is the wust, pride fancy dress, or pride fur plain dress.
Sayins 'thout morals are like mon never sed—no good.
Charly begins at hum. Sumthin m a damed the stream purty near the hea fur verry littl; of it ever gets away f its startin' plint.
A man wat won't tell the truth wi out his oth, mite furgit how when h took his oth.

Honesty's the best policy, if it wuz
I wudent pursoo it.
Dido—The man hoo luv'd his nat az hiself.
A mother's love is pure—selfishness.
The man wot dize his mustac or deceives hiself.
All roads lead to heaven—excep the what don't.
Whisky is a long-winded rascal. Af a man has 'downed it a good meny ti it nautic' bows him at last.

Selfishness is like asbestos, it ware out.
You can't walk thro smut without tin' black.
I'm allus a leetle suspicious of man wot knows everything.
The man whot holds onto a t cuz hiz father did, ort to mo hiz vith a sickle, and rock his babes in troff.
Tradition iz good enuf in its

New Fall Goods

Our new Fall Goods are almost all in stock and exceed our highest expectations.

We are prepared to offer better value than ever before, and invite all in need of anything in our line to call and see the Bargains we are showing in all departments

We are Agents for Standard Fashion Company and Swiss Steam Laundry of Toronto

R. MILLER,
ST. GEORGE ST.,
DESERONTO.

J. J. Kerr's
—THE GREAT—
DRY GOODS,
BOOT & SHOE
—AND—
Ready-made Clothing House
of Deseronto.

Our Stock is complete in every Department, and is larger and more extensive than on any previous season. Parties in need of any of the above lines will find it to their benefit to see what we are doing. We make things interesting for every buyer.

J. J. KERR.

Main street, Deseronto.

Show Room Opening

—AT—
A. BRISTOL & SON'S, PIGTON,
WILL TAKE PLACE

Tuesday, Sept. 24th,
AND FOLLOWING DAYS.

One of our firm has recently returned after spending several months in Europe selecting goods for our Fall trade and our assortment is now complete in

Millinery and Mantles,

Dress Goods and Trimmings,

Carpets and House Furnishings.

Ladies' and Men's Fur Goods,

Clothing and Men's Furnishings.

In fact every description of Dry Goods required for the home or for the person.

Customers from Deseronto and intervening Bay ports will be allowed fare one way on purchases of $5.00, and full return fare on purchases of $10.00 and upwards.

A. BRISTOL & SON.

SEXUAL
decline may be arrested before decay; strength may be restored; powers when impoverished by youth's reckless overindulgence may be reinvigorated by our home treatment.

CONFIDENCE
never has its citadel in the breasts of those who have well, slumbered, undisturbed, or diseased organs. The evil that men do through ignorance in boyhood and errors of early manhood leaves wasting effects.

RESTORED
to vigorous vitality you might be successful in business, fervent in spirit. Our curative measures are unfailing. Write for our book, "PERFECT MANHOOD," sent free sealed.

Correspondence Confidential.

ERIE MEDICAL CO.,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

The Tribune.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1895.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

The arrivals open at Kingston on the 29th inst.
Gilmore Clyde, Cataragi, died on the 1st, aged 21.

A residence for the Roman Catholic clergyman will be built at Portsmouth at a cost of $2,000.

Civil service examinations will be held in Kingston on Oct. 12th.

James McGivern, Cananque, died on Monday from consumption.

Belleville's vital statistics for September were: Births 13, marriages 7, deaths 9.

John Hughes, of Smith's Falls, was severely injured at Alexandria Bay and will die.

Kobt. Lloyd, N. Fredericksburg, and Maggie Atherton, Richmond, were married Sept. 24.

On Tuesday morning fire did damage to the extent of $2,500 to McKee's livery, Kingston.

Robert Miller and Thomas Clyde, of Ernestown, have been granted justices of the peace.

R. N. Thompson, of Madoc, a well-known dealer in manufacturing implements, died last Sunday evening.

Rev. J. L. Gilmour, pastor of the Baptist church, Brockville, was married yesterday to Miss Burnham, Toronto.

Chas. Geo. Brooks, of Cataragi, and Annie Sophia Frim, formerly of Kingston, were married at Grand Forks, N. Dakota.

A man named Huddell, of Ottawa, cut the bars in his cell at the Kingston penitentiary. He conveyed a small knife into a saw. However he could not effect his escape and he is still a prisoner.

George Humphries, 3rd con of Thulow, drove to Belleville last Saturday with a team of horses. While there one of his horses took sick and died. He borrowed a pair of shafts and put them in the wagon and started home. The shaft gave way and the occupants of the rig were thrown out, and Mr. Humphries had one of his legs broken.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation. 25 cts. 50 cts., $1.00. W. G. B. Eggar.

Now that the nights are growing longer and you find, when reading by gas or lamp light, it necessary to hold the paper farther from you, consult our expert Optician at once. He tests your eyes free and you pay for glasses only when they are required.

Angus McFee & Co.
310 Front St., Belleville.

LADIES OF DESERONTO.
Our assortment of ladies' oxford shoes, in tan color and black, are much superior to any we have ever had. We have taken special care in selecting goods for this department. Call and inspect them when in Napone or Belleville. Prices range from 60c upwards, an extra quality shoe for $1.00. Haines & Lockett, 4 big stores.

Pasture, the distinguished French chemist, is dead.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.
KIDNEY PACES.
In Jan., 1892, my son was taken with Kidney disease. Though attended by three physicians and change of climate he grew worse and by '93 had fallen from 195 lbs. to 95 lbs. In ten days from starting to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills he was able to move him home. In 4 months he gained 90 lbs. and was fully restored to health by the use of the medicine. John S. Hastings, 32 St. Paul's St., Montreal.

ARE YOU DEAF?
Or do you suffer from noises in the head? Then use our ear trumpet. It will send a valuable treatise containing full particulars for home cure which costs comparatively nothing. A splendid work on deafness and the ear. Address, PROF. G. CHASE, Montreal.

Your Teeth Are very useful to you at Dinameter.

Preserve them WITH Clean them WITH Beautify them WITH
All Druggists, THE PERFECT TOOTH POWDER

By consulting our optician you escape any injury to your eyesight and ascertain the proper cause to pursue regarding the use of glasses. Testing free. Angus McFee & Co. 75 Front Street, Belleville.

CURE THAT COUGH WITH SHILOH'S CURE

25 cts. 50 cts. $1.00 bottle. One cent a dose.

It is sold on a guarantee by all druggists. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, and is the best Cough and Croup Cure.

Sold by W. G. B. Eggar.

TYENDINAGA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

ANNUAL FAIR AT SHANNONVILLE.
The Annual Fair of the Tyendinaga Agricultural Society was held at Shannonville, Saturday, Sept. 28th. The weather was superb and everything else combined to make the fair probably the most successful yet held by the society. The attendance of visitors was very large all the towns of the district were well represented, while the country folk were out in great force. The arrangements made by the directors were good and there was general satisfaction. The exhibits were creditable to all concerned. The display of roots was by common consent ahead of that of any of the fairs held in this district this season. The samples were much admired. The ladies made a good display in the arts department. There were many fine horses, cattle, swine and sheep. In a word the fair was a great success.

PRIZE LIST.

CLASS A.—BREED CATTLE.
Consisting of Durhams, Herefords, Galloways and Friesian Angus.—Manager, J. J. Barker.

Bull, 3 years old and upwards—1, A. Farnsworth. Bull, 1 year old—1, G. Munro. Bull calf—1, A. Farnsworth. Milch cow—1, W. Clazie. Heifer, 2 years old—1, F. Brown. Heifer, 1 year old—1, A. Farnsworth. Heifer calf—1, A. Farnsworth.

CLASS B.—CATTLE.
Consisting of Holsteins, Ayrshires, Guernseys and Jerseys.

Bull, 3 years old and upwards—1, G. Johnston. Bull, 2 years old—1, G. Johnston. Bull calf—1, G. Johnston. Milch cow—1, W. Clazie. Heifer, 2 years old—1, G. Johnston. Heifer, 1 year old—1, W. Clazie. Heifer calf—1, G. Johnston.

CLASS C.—GRADE CATTLE.
Bull, 2 years old—1, F. Brown. Milch cow—1, W. Clazie. G. Johnston. F. Brown. Williams. Heifer, 2 years old—1, F. Brown. G. Munro. J. G. Allison. Heifer, 1 year old—1, G. Johnston. Heifer calf—1, G. Munro. Heifer calf—1, A. Farnsworth.

CLASS D.—HEAVY DRAFT.
Consisting of Clydesdales, Percherons and Suffolk Punch.—Manager, F. West.

Span of horses—1st neck prize, by F. West—1, R. G. Martin; 2, F. West; 3, J. G. Allison. Mare or gelding 2 years old—1, A. MacFarlane.

CLASS E.—GENERAL PURPOSE HORSES.
Manager—D. Harley.

Stallion—1, G. Taylor. Brood mare and foal—1, R. G. Martin. 2, S. Geddis; 3, F. Brown.

Span of horses—1st neck prize, by F. West—1, R. G. Martin; 2, F. West; 3, J. G. Allison. Mare or gelding 3 years old—1, W. Clazie. Mare or gelding 2 years old—1, J. G. Allison. Mare or gelding 1 year old—1, J. G. Allison. Mare or gelding 1 year old—1, J. G. Allison.

CLASS F.—ROAD OR CARRIAGE.
Manager—M. Hill.

Stallion in harness—1, W. A. Chapman. 2, J. Davis; 3, E. Williams. Brood mare and foal—1, J. Johnston. Span of horses, 1st by Wm. Stoddart, Deseronto—1, P. Badgley; 2, M. Coulter; 3, W. Clazie. Single horse—1, S. Dunning; 2, N. E. Clark; 3, A. McAllister. Stallion 3 years old, in harness—1, A. J. Smith. Mare or gelding, 3 years old—1, G. Taylor; 2, J. G. Allison; 3, W. Clazie. Mare or horse, colt, 1 year old, 1st Farmer's Advocate for 1895, by Secretary—1, T. McMillan; 2, J. Dunning; 3, W. Clazie.

Open to trotters and pacers. Twice around the track. Best 3 in 5. Four to enter and three to start. Best 3 in 5 for ten per cent prize. Horses eligible Sept. 1st to Oct. 1st.

Two fifty speeding class—1, W. A. Chapman; 2, O. Sills; 3, W. Schryver. Free for all—1, E. Kenny; 2, Stewart; 3, W. Weiss.

CLASS G.—LENG WOOL SHEEP.
Manager—Geo. Munro.

Aged ram—1, R. G. Martin; 2, R. J. Garbutt; 3, A. T. Frink. Shearling ram—1, R. G. Martin; 2, J. G. Allison; 3, A. T. Frink. Two ewes—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. T. Frink; 3, R. G. Martin. Two shearing ewes—1, R. G. Martin; 2, R. J. Garbutt; 3, A. T. Frink. Ram lamb—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. T. Frink; 3, R. G. Martin. Two ewe lambs—1, A. T. Frink; 2, R. J. Garbutt; 3, R. G. Martin.

CLASS H.—FINE WOOL SHEEP.
Aged ram—1, Munro; 2, J. J. Bennett. Shearling ram—1, R. G. Martin; 2, T. Barker; 3, A. T. Frink. Two ewes—1, R. G. Martin; 2, F. Brown; 3, G. Munro. Two shearing ewes—1, R. G. Martin; 2, A. T. Frink; 3, A. Brown. Ram lamb—1, R. G. Martin; 2, F. Brown; 3, A. Brown. Two ewe lambs—1, A. Brown; 2, R. G. Martin; 3, F. Brown.

SWINE.
CLASS I.
Consisting of Yorkshires and Chester Whites.—Manager—G. Munro.

Boar—1, J. M. Hurley; 2, R. G. Martin. Breeding sow—1, R. G. Martin; 2, J. M. Hurley. Sow pig of 1895—1, J. M. Hurley; 2, R. G. Martin. Boar pig of 1895—1, R. G. Martin; 2, J. M. Hurley.

CLASS J.
Consisting of Berkshires and Poland Chinas.

Boar—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, R. G. Martin; 3, A. T. Frink. Breeding sow—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. T. Frink. Sow pig of 1895—1, A. T. Frink; 2, R. J. Garbutt; 3, A. T. Frink.

CLASS K.
Consisting of Suffolks and Tamworths.

Boar—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, W. Clazie; 3, Dr. Oronhyetka. Breeding sow—1, Dr. Oronhyetka; 2, W. Clazie. Sow pig of 1895—1, W. Clazie; 2, Dr. Oronhyetka. Boar pig of 1895—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, W. Clazie; 3, Dr. Oronhyetka.

GRAIN AND ROOTS.
CLASS L.
Manager—R. Elliott.

1 bushel winter wheat—1, H. McMillan; 2, A. Latta; 3, A. M. Weese. 1 bushel spring wheat—1, S. Mout; 2, M. Coulter; 3, A. Latta. 1 bushel timothy seed—1, A. Latta; 2, H. McMillan; 3, M. Sheller. 1 bushel old peas, small—1, A. Coulter; 2, S. Mout; 3, J. G. Allison. 1 bushel old peas, large—1, J. Cole; 2, A. T. Frink; 3, A. M. Weese. 1 bushel oats, white—1, A. Latta; 2, T. Barker; 3, A. M. Weese. 1 bushel oats, black—1, A. T. Frink; 1 bushel rye—1, A. Coulter; 2, A. T. Frink; 3, A. Latta. 1 bushel timothy seed—1, G. Long; 2, Coulter; 3, H. Lennox. 20 cars of corn—1, H. McMillan; 2, T. Barker; 3, T. Barker. 1 bushel of beans—1, A. M. Weese; 2, W. Clazie; 3, C. Long. 1 bushel potatoes, red—1, H. McMillan; 2, H. Lennox; 3, S. Mout. 1 bushel potatoes, white—1, J. Barker.

low; 2, J. Davis; 3, H. Lennox. Six turnips, 1 lb. for 1st by Vandercook & Gibson—1, T. Barker; 2, F. West. Six mangle turnips—1, R. Johnston; 2, F. West; 3, A. Pimm. Twelve field carrots—1, R. Johnston; 2, F. West; 3, J. James McCollough.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS.
CLASS M.
Manager—R. J. Barker.

Sulky plough—1, H. Lennox. Plough—1, Walker Co. Field Cultivator—1, H. Lennox. Gang plough—1, Walker Co. Corn cultivator—1, H. Lennox. Co. F. West. Lumber wagon—1, W. Weese; 2, M. Sheller. Demonstrator wagon—1, H. Lennox; 2, E. Williams. T. Barker. Horse traction—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, W. Deane.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES.
CLASS N.
Manager—R. Elliott.

10 yards damask, white—1, A. Latta; 2, J. H. Cole; 3, M. Coulter. 10 yards damask, colored—1, H. McMillan; 2, M. Coulter; 3, J. Barker. Home made wool carpets—1, A. Latta; 2, J. Cole; 3, J. Barker. Home made rag carpets—1, M. Coulter; 2, A. T. Frink. H. McMillan. Heavy in cotton—1, Miss S. Barber. Two pair stock—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, H. McMillan. Two pair socks—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, H. McMillan. 1, H. McMillan; 2, A. M. Weese; 3, J. Barker.

DAIRY PRODUCE AND HONEY.
CLASS O.
Ten pounds butter in roll, 1st goods by J. W. Walker. Belleville. Miss A. Long; 2, A. Latta; 3, A. Farnsworth. Factory cheese, white—1, W. Clazie; 2, H. Morton. Factory cheese, colored—1, W. Clazie; 2, H. Morton; 3, J. G. Allison. Honey in comb, not less than 4 lbs.—1, A. T. Frink; 2, West; 3, H. McMillan. Extracted honey, not less than 4 lbs.—1, H. McMillan; 2, A. T. Frink; 3, Miss S. Barber.

LEATHER.
CLASS P.
Set draught harness—1, J. G. Allison; 2, W. Walker. Set carriage harness, single—H. Lennox.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.
CLASS Q.
Manager—R. Elliott.

Full apple, 3 varieties, not less than four per variety—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. Latta; 3, M. Coulter. Winter apples, 3 varieties, not less than four in each variety—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. Latta; 3, H. McMillan. Twelve large apples, any variety—1, M. Coulter; 2, R. J. Garbutt; 3, H. McMillan. Twelve fair apples—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. M. Weese. Twelve winter pears—1, R. J. Garbutt; 2, A. M. Weese. Cabbage, 3 heads—1, A. M. Weese; 2, J. Barker. Twelve tomatoes—1, A. M. Weese; 2, J. Barker. Half bushel onions—1, J. Barker; 2, A. M. Weese. Twelve beets—1, A. M. Weese; 2, A. Latta; 3, M. Coulter. Twelve table cabbages—1, H. McMillan; 2, A. M. Weese; 3, M. Coulter. Musk melon—1, A. M. Weese. Water melon—1, A. M. Weese; 2, A. Latta. Pumpkin—1, A. M. Weese; 3, M. Coulter. Squash—1, J. Barker; 2, A. M. Weese; 3, E. Williams.

POULTRY.
CLASS R.
One pair Minorcas—1, A. Latta. One pair Brahmas—1, A. Latta. One pair Lighthorns—1, A. T. Frink; 2, A. Latta. One pair Black Spanish—1, W. Clazie. One pair Dorkings—1, A. Latta. One pair Plymouth Rocks—1, A. Latta. One pair Barred Rocks—1, A. Latta. One pair Game Hens—1, A. Latta. One pair Wyandottes—1, A. Latta. One pair Cochins—1, A. T. Frink; 2, A. Latta. One pair Hamburgs—1, A. Latta. One pair turkeys—1, A. T. Frink; 2, K. Williams. One pair geese—1, A. T. Frink; 2, A. Latta. One pair ducks—1, A. T. Frink; 2, A. Latta.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.
CLASS S.
Woolen shawl—1, A. Latta; 2, Miss S. Barber. Woollen coverlid—1, J. Barker; 2, M. Coulter. Quilt, patchwork—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, M. Coulter. Quilt, needlework—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, H. Morton. Crochet work in wool—1, Dr. Oronhyetka; 2, Miss S. Barber. Crochet work in cotton—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, M. Coulter. Pairing in oil—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, C. Long. Pairing in water color—1, H. Morton. Crayon drawing—1, H. Lennox. Pen and Ink Drawing—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, H. McMillan. Aracene work—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, M. Coulter. Pairing on cloth—1, R. G. Martin; 2, Miss S. Barber. Pairing on felt—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, M. Coulter. Pairing on satin—1, Miss S. Barber. Farmer's wreath—1, Miss S. Barber. Pairing on felt—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, M. Coulter. Bracket or mantle drape—1, Miss S. Barber; 2, M. Coulter. Sofa cushion—1, M. Coulter; 2, Miss S. Barber.

Herd of milk cows, 4 in number, 1, $3; 2, $2; 3, $1. First and second by W. B. Northrup, M. P.—1, Dr. Oronhyetka; 2, W. Clazie; 3, A. Farnsworth. Best pair roadsters, twice around the track, 1, $2.50 by J. C. Hanley & Co.; 2, Indulgence for one year by Publisher. At least two teams must compete—1, J. Barker; 2, M. Coulter. Best teamwork horse, any, $1, by R. G. Martin—1, Dr. Oronhyetka.

Best six heads of cabbage, 50 cts. in goods by Vandercook & Gibson, Belleville—1, A. M. Weese. Best milk cow, 1st, $2.50 by W. Stoddart, Deseronto—1, G. W. Clazie. Best collection of horses of the society is due to this popular official.

Suicide's dog circus was on the ground and Messrs. Simons and Suider made a small mint of money.

The crowd was most orderly, good natured and good looking.

The concert in the evening was a great success.

Shannonville fair will in a few years be equal to the best in the district. Every year sees an advance in the attendance.

S. Ball's stallion, Commonwealth gave an exhibition of horses for the season.

Wm. Stoddart, of Deseronto, made a fine display of weeds and fall suitings.

A heavy wagon driven by a man named Latta collected with Wm. Harley's rig and carried off a wheel.

D. W. Dargatz, an excellent display of organs, pianos and sewing machines.

Miss Oronhyetka of the "Pines" carried off many prizes.

The judges for the different departments were:

Horses—Road or carriage, J. Johnson.

Dr. Leuley, V. S.; W. Hatch, Heavy draught and general purpose—H. Farnham, Thor, Gault and G. Badgley.

Cattle—C. Campbell, James Burnett and John Cole.

Sheep and swine—H. Hicks, S. Herrington and C. H. Emery.

Farming implements and leather—M. Ryan, Jas. McCullough and S. Sutton.

Dairy produce, fruit and vegetables—D. J. Fairfield and John Leitch.

Grain and roots—Wm. Mayall and John Robinson.

Poultry—Philip Hart.

Domestic manufactures and ladies' department—W. J. Mandel, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Dora.

DON'T TOBACCO SPIT OR SMOKE YOUR LIFE AWAY.

Is the truthful, carding little of a book about No-To-Bac, the harmless, guaranteed tobacco habit cure that traces up nicotine, makes nerve, eliminates the nicotine poison, makes weak men gain strength, vigor and manhood. You run no physical or financial risk, as No-To-Bac is sold by W. J. Mayall, to cure or money refunded. Root free. At Sterling Remedy Co., 374 St. Paul St., Montreal.

Dr. Leuley, V. S.; W. Hatch, Heavy draught and general purpose—H. Farnham, Thor, Gault and G. Badgley.

Cattle—C. Campbell, James Burnett and John Cole.

Sheep and swine—H. Hicks, S. Herrington and C. H. Emery.

Farming implements and leather—M. Ryan, Jas. McCullough and S. Sutton.

Dairy produce, fruit and vegetables—D. J. Fairfield and John Leitch.

Grain and roots—Wm. Mayall and John Robinson.

Poultry—Philip Hart.

Domestic manufactures and ladies' department—W. J. Mandel, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Dora.

DON'T TOBACCO SPIT OR SMOKE YOUR LIFE AWAY.

Is the truthful, carding little of a book about No-To-Bac, the harmless, guaranteed tobacco habit cure that traces up nicotine, makes nerve, eliminates the nicotine poison, makes weak men gain strength, vigor and manhood. You run no physical or financial risk, as No-To-Bac is sold by W. J. Mayall, to cure or money refunded. Root free. At Sterling Remedy Co., 374 St. Paul St., Montreal.

Dr. Leuley, V. S.; W. Hatch, Heavy draught and general purpose—H. Farnham, Thor, Gault and G. Badgley.

Cattle—C. Campbell, James Burnett and John Cole.

Sheep and swine—H. Hicks, S. Herrington and C. H. Emery.

Farming implements and leather—M. Ryan, Jas. McCullough and S. Sutton.

Dairy produce, fruit and vegetables—D. J. Fairfield and John Leitch.

Grain and roots—Wm. Mayall and John Robinson.

Poultry—Philip Hart.

Domestic manufactures and ladies' department—W. J. Mandel, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Dora.

DON'T TOBACCO SPIT OR SMOKE YOUR LIFE AWAY.

Is the truthful, carding little of a book about No-To-Bac, the harmless, guaranteed tobacco habit cure that traces up nicotine, makes nerve, eliminates the nicotine poison, makes weak men gain strength, vigor and manhood. You run no physical or financial risk, as No-To-Bac is sold by W. J. Mayall, to cure or money refunded. Root free. At Sterling Remedy Co., 374 St. Paul St., Montreal.

Dr. Leuley, V. S.; W. Hatch, Heavy draught and general purpose—H. Farnham, Thor, Gault and G. Badgley.

Cattle—C. Campbell, James Burnett and John Cole.

Sheep and swine—H. Hicks, S. Herrington and C. H. Emery.

Farming implements and leather—M. Ryan, Jas. McCullough and S. Sutton.

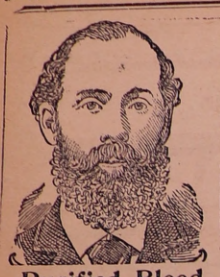

Dairy produce, fruit and vegetables—D. J. Fairfield and John Leitch.

Grain and roots—Wm. Mayall and John Robinson.

Poultry—Philip Hart.

Domestic manufactures and ladies' department—W. J. Mandel, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Dora.

DON'T TOBACCO SPIT OR SMOKE YOUR LIFE AWAY.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever. FRANCIS J. THOMPSON, Peninsula Lake, Ontario. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, headache, etc.

THE BAY OF QUINTE RAILWAY AND NAVIGATION CO.

Eastern Standard Time, Taking effect Nov. 20, 1894

CHANGE OF TIME

Tweed to Kingston. Kingston to Tweed.

TATIONS.	A.M. P.M.	STATIONS.	A.M. P.M.
Tweed Lv. 7:00	3:00	Kingston Lv. 6:45	3:30
Beachville 7:25	3:15	O.T.R. June 6:55	3:40
Marshall 7:50	3:30	Glennville 7:17	3:55
Marshall 7:55	3:35	Murphy 7:27	4:05
Tamworth 8:00	3:40	Harvey 7:40	4:15
Windsor 8:05	3:45	Sydenham 7:45	4:20
Enterprise 8:10	3:50	Harvey 7:50	4:25
Madoka Bridge 8:15	3:55	Frontenac 8:02	4:32
Madoka 8:20	4:00	Tucker 8:05	4:35
Galbraith 8:25	4:05	Tucker 8:05	4:35
Yarker 8:30	4:10	Yarker 8:05	4:35
Frontenac 8:35	4:15	Yarker 8:05	4:35
Harvey 8:40	4:20	Yarker 8:05	4:35
Sydenham 8:45	4:25	Yarker 8:05	4:35
Marshall 8:50	4:30	Yarker 8:05	4:35
Glennville 8:55	4:35	Yarker 8:05	4:35
O.T.R. June 9:00	4:40	Yarker 8:05	4:35
Kingston 9:05	4:45	Yarker 8:05	4:35

Tweed and Tamworth to Kingston and vice versa.

Kingston and Tweed to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

Deseronto and Kingston to Deseronto and vice versa.

DESERONTO NEWS COY LIMITED

OUR JOBBING DEPARTMENT

Is replete with an abundant supply of new type and printing material. We are therefore in a position to execute Fine Job printing in all its branches in first class style and at rates to suit the times. Send or call and get prices. Orders by mail will receive our prompt and careful attention.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

Brookville claims a population of 9,194.

Mr. Walter Ruttan, of Pictou, is dead, aged 66.

John Ewart caught a 6 lb. bass in Colebrook pond.

Wm. Ashley, aged 87, of Foxboro died on the 3rd inst.

Marsh fire consumed sixty tons of hay at Seeley's Bay.

Jan Knapp died at Barfield on Oct. 5th, aged 74.

S. Asselinge has purchased the Riverside hotel at Verona.

Frederick Bentley died at Marmora on the 2nd inst.

Alva Scobie, aged 95, died in Lanark township last week.

Frank Bowen purchased the Napanee market hall for $402.

Isabella Young, of Pictou, died on Sept. 29, aged 83.

A. E. Bandy had the roller mill at Yarker going full blast.

There were 102 prisoners committed to Kingston jail last year.

Mayor Wright will be a candidate for a second term in Kingston.

George Gordon, of Morven, was stricken with paralysis last week.

John Hayes, of Belleville, died on Sept. 26 after three weeks illness.

Dr. Oronhyatka will deliver an address in Kingston, on Oct. 1st.

Mrs. Cornelius Williamson, of Belleville, died on the 9th, aged 66.

A. H. Baynes, a well known citizen of Perth, died very suddenly.

Very little grain is being brought into Kingston market this year.

Rev. Mr. Martin will take charge of the Tuesday Prayers at church on Sept. 28th.

J. J. Ward, Concession, has bought 11,000 barrels of apples this season.

S. O'Gorman has been appointed collector of Revenue at $150 per year.

Joseph Thibault, a Clayton blacksmith, died suddenly of heart disease.

Springbrook and Marmora have telephone connection with the outer world.

W. B. Forward has bought A. B. Milligan's grocery store at Millhaven.

C. Sullivan and Edie Gerratt, both of Belleville, were married on Oct. 1.

Ladies of Perth have formed an anti-smoking chewing drinking society.

The stock of McAllister & Co., Napanee, was sold for 65 cents on the dollar.

John Van Vlack showed a pumpkin at Milford fair which weighed 53 lb.

An Ottawa shop keeper has been fined heavily for selling tobacco to miners.

N. D. Suetinger, reeve of Colborne, was badly injured by the upset of his buggy.

W. H. Reeves has sold his interest in the Esplanade Hotel to George Keizer.

Vessel men find navigation in Belleville harbor very difficult owing to low water.

W. G. Wilson, Napanee, has purchased the old Palatin homestead, Napanee road.

David Smith, an aged gentleman, living near Marshall, was killed on Sept. 28th by eleven tons of grapes were taken from Thos. Stillman's vineyard in West Maynoir.

Henry Pieter, near Brighton, takes 1000 bushels of tomatoes from two acres of land.

David McKinnon, of Ottawa's Corners, thinks he has discovered gold on his farm.

The cost of living at Ottawa has been reduced to 41 cents per day for each prisoner.

Carleton Place votes on the 19th on a by-law to raise $6,000 for a town and fire hall.

Wm. Calder and Martha Barrett, of Eriewort, were married at Bath, on Sept. 29.

At Napanee cheese board last week 1,095 boxes were offered; no sales—only 71 c. was bid.

A brick church 20x40 ft. will be built at Snowy Line, one, Belleville, by the Methodists.

The telephone company has completed its metallic circuit between Toronto and Kingston.

Ed Terrill, near Brighton, raised 700 bushels of oats by weight from ten acres of land.

Byron Brown, of Pictou, was killed on Sept. 28th by being thrown from his rig. He is the third person to have been killed on that road within a year.

Robert J. Robson and Nellie M. Smith, of Eriewort, were married at Wilton, on Sept. 23.

Mrs. V. Scott, Stella, has a large number of beautiful datura plants with numerous blossoms.

C. E. Warner and Lena J. Duncan, of Snow Road, were married at Sharbot Lake on Oct. 2.

Sarah A. Reid, wife of the late Robert Reid, Camden, died at Centerville, Sept. 25, aged 65.

It is said that over four hundred make-logs have been caught in Hay Bay during the past season.

Waterdown has a "Jack the Grabber." He catches women in the streets at night and kisses them.

It is said that W. E. Anderson, reeve of Ameliasburg, will be a candidate for the house of commons.

Julius M. Douglas, of Brookville, turns out his guests fast and hearty at a cost of 5,65—100 cents per day.

Thos. Lowrey, Pakenham township, has been appointed chief constable for Almonte at a salary of $500.

John Hughes, Smith's Falls, was nearly killed near Alexandria Bay by the fall of a house a week ago.

Robert Coughley, huckster, died at Oswego. The remains were removed to Pictou for interment.

During the concert at Shannonville the night of the 10th, the number of articles were stolen from the stage.

The Kingston Whig complains of clergymen who smuggle in free advertisements for social and entertainment.

The sum of $2,350 was all that was offered for the farm of 122 acres in Pittsburg which belonged to the late Robt. Maclean.

Nettie M. Stratton, of the Methodist church, is leaving for Arlington, Iowa, was presented with a sum of money.

The assessor gives Kingston a population of 17,955, an increase of 147 over last year's valuation has decreased $75,000.

GOUGH In His NEW STORE!!

... Match Us if You Can. ...

OUR FALL STARTER. THE GREATEST BELLEVILLE EVER KNEW.

Our Big Store to be Packed, Crowded, Jammed, as the opening event of our fall business. Little profits! Big Sales! That's the policy. Prices to tip the beam in your favor from morning till night. Leaders and promoters of LOW PRICES. We hold that the fascination of LOW PRICES is the inspiration of this business. Average intelligence will readily understand the extent of our purchasing power, and buyers have stopped being surprised at anything we may do. Absolute control of the market could alone enable us to place before you extraordinary values such as those below.

If you catch us making a blunder of a price that's too high, just tell us. If you ask for something that ought to be here and is not, tell us that, too. We're striving to make the store indispensable to rich and poor, and nothing will emphasize that idea more than the following prices:—

FALL OVERCOATS AND SUITS.

This sale looms up as the "Star" event of the season, for the overcoats and suits embrace all the newest ideas in styles and materials introduced for this fall by Canada's foremost tailors.

Men's All Wool Fall Overcoats, that are in every possible respect $10.00 values, for..... $ 6 50

Men's Fine All Wool Black and Brown and other Fall Overcoats, that could not otherwise be sold for less than $12 and $14, for..... 8 75

The very finest kind of Fall Overcoats, choicest of Worsteds, regular price for them at $22, for..... 10 00

Men's Splendid Fall Suits, that you pay $8 and $10 for elsewhere, for..... 6 00

Men's All Wool Fall Suits, in excellent Brown and Grey mixed, made equal to anything you could buy for $12, this for..... 8 00

Men's finest Blue and Steel Grey Suits, exquisitely made and trimmed, before sold for $17, for..... 10 00

Men's Black Worsteds, $8 75, sold all over for $10 and $12.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

98c. buys Children's Knee Pant Suits, neat dark mixtures worth $2.50.

$1.50 buys Children's Woolen Suits, new fall goods, worth $3.00.

$1.38 buys hundreds of Children's Suits, elegantly made, all colors, worth $4.00.

Boys' Clothing.

$1.48 buys Boys' Fine All Wool Suits, plain colors or fancy mixtures, worth $3.00.

$4.00 buys Boys' Heavy Long Pant Suits, new fall goods, well made, worth $7.00.

$5.00 buys Boys' All Wool Double or Single Breasted Suits, all colors, worth $8.00.

Furnishings and Hats.

Men's All Wool Socks, 10c. per pair, worth 20c.

Men's Heavy Wool Shirts and Drawers, 25c. worth 50c.

Men's Fine Fedora Fur Hats, $1.50 and $2.00, sold the world over for $2.50 and $3.00. In Hats we have the latest up-to-date styles, and from all the best makers. See our Dollar Hats in Fedora and Christy. They are beauties.

IN A WORD

We have the highest class goods at the lowest price in Canada. Get all your spare money and be here bright and early. Realizing this sale will grow in magnitude as it goes on, we have put on more sales-people, so that all can be waited on.

Always Good at GOUGH'S.

GOUGH, CLOTHIER.

As ever, the Leading, Largest Clothier.

318 & 320 FRONT STREET, BELLEVILLE, BRIGNALL & THOMPSON'S OLD STAND.

INCUBATORS SAVED THEM.

A Look at the Baby Corps in Operation.

"He was incubated," the proud mother of some great man of the future will say of her son. For the baby incubator is a success and has come to stay. The doctors declare that incubators have already been the means of saving the lives of 100 infants in New York. In fact, the new-born baby who under old-fashioned methods has no chance of living, now, if put in an incubator, stands about an even chance of becoming a healthy, growing youngster.

Baby incubators are now in use in two of the hospitals of the metropolis, the Post-Graduate hospital on East Twentieth street, and the Maternity hospital, of the Women's Medical college on East Fifteenth street. A bright young woman, with a sweet face and modest ways, is in charge of the babies in the incubator. There is a room in the third story there, a room with a great window which lets in plenty of light and overlooks the tops of the trees in Stuyvesant Park. Around the walls are four cribs of from ten to twelve feet in length. In two of these there are three little lumps. You discover that these lumps are alive and breathing. They are very small and delicate and dainty and pink. They are babies sure enough—any man could tell that, but nobody would ever think that the incubators raised. A cooler place for a baby could not be imagined. Here the embryo citizens have every opportunity the world affords to hold on to life and to grow healthy and strong, while in the tenements where their parents live the lives of the frail little things would have been snuffed out in less than a day after they first saw the light. The incubator is used only for prematurely born babies and for babies which are so weak that the wise young women doctors are pretty sure they will die if left in the open air. Strangely enough, the incubator is shaped something like a coffin, while its particular aim is to keep babies out of coffins. There are two kinds of baby incubators and they differ somewhat in construction. The babies are taken out of the incubators at Maternity hospital to get their nourishment directly from their mothers, who live in the building but the mother of the baby in the Post-Graduate hospital may not see her offspring from one week's end to another. Therefore the youngster must be fed by artificial means and, after much experiment and study, the doctors have completed an incubator by means of which the baby is nourished without being removed from its little nest. At the moment a baby for the incubator arrives at the Maternity hospital the white-capped nurses and the doctors gather about the little creature, which rests upon a stand some three or four feet high. Baby is swathed very carefully in warm clothes, and is then weighed, clothed and before he is laid inside and the glass is placed over him. Underneath the board upon which the little inmate rests are three bottles that keep it constantly full of hot water. The air passing in from below flows over these and through an opening in the board into the chamber above. A thermometer keeps the attendant continually informed as to the temperature, and a little aluminum anemometer in the small chimney through which the air escapes, which furnishes the draught that keeps the baby supplied with fresh air, always indicates whether or not the circulation is in good order.

D. W. DART,

Sole Agent for these Counties for the Celebrated

Karn Organs and Pianos

Organs, $35 and upwards,

Warranted for seven years. Terms to suit purchasers.

Old instruments taken in exchange. Call and see the beautiful piano-cased organ. Instruments sent on trial.

WAREROOMS, MARKET SQUARE, -- DESERONTO.

Nothing conduces to comfort in your household arrangements so much as good soap. Money saved, better results, less labor—all secured if you use

Eclipse SOAP

One bar will convince you. Best grocers all have it.

Among the Poultry.

Sunflower seed adds luster to the plumage.

Oats are one of the very best foods for mounting hens.

The Pekin ducks develop early and are good forerunners of the brooder.

Geese thrive on plenty of good pasturage and plenty of water.

Train the young poultry to roost in the poultry house from the start.

To be certain of having fresh eggs now, care must be taken to gather them daily.

A pound of copperas dissolved in two gallons of water makes a good disinfectant.

Mixing stock snuff or insect powder in the dust bath will help to rid the fowls of lice.

If ducklings are exposed to wet weather they are apt to take cramps in their legs.

The rooster should be fed, especially for large, heavy fowls, and should all of the same height. — St. Louis Republic.

Dr. Howard's Electric Blood Purifier and Body Builder.

Positively Cures Weakness and Pain, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Indigestion, and all Diseases of the Blood and System.

Head Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City. Branch Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City.

Dr. Howard's Electric Blood Purifier and Body Builder.

Positively Cures Weakness and Pain, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Indigestion, and all Diseases of the Blood and System.

Head Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City. Branch Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City.

Dr. Howard's Electric Blood Purifier and Body Builder.

Positively Cures Weakness and Pain, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Indigestion, and all Diseases of the Blood and System.

Head Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City. Branch Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City.

Dr. Howard's Electric Blood Purifier and Body Builder.

Positively Cures Weakness and Pain, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Indigestion, and all Diseases of the Blood and System.

Head Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City. Branch Office, 100 West Broadway, New York City.

F. C. Davey,

The St. George St. Jeweller.

— is prepared — to give you a perfect fit in Spectacles.

Eyes tested in a scientific manner.

Remember Repairing a specialty.

NOTE—I have

Rape.Millet.*Hungarian.

Do not let your fallow lay idle. Sow Rape, and you will have a crop of excellent fodder for Sheep and young Stock. No better soiling crop grown.

CORN.

Fodder for Planting. Full lines still in stock, and anything you want in late Vegetable and Turnip Seeds.

FLOUR.

Our Brands still retain their lead. Always Good at sold at close prices. Bran, Shorts and all kinds of ground Feed always in stock.

Oil Cake. Linseed Meal

THE RATHBUN CO.
Dundas Street. - Napanee.

THE DESERONTOMachine and Boiler Shops

Offer special facilities for the rebuilding and repairing of all kinds of Machinery, Engines, and Boilers.

Repairs completed with despatch.

Workmanship unsurpassed.

Terms reasonable.

The Rathbun Co.BELLEVILLE*BUSINESS COLLEGE

THE BUSINESS UNIVERSITY OF CANADA
GRADUATES UNIVERSALLY SUCCESSFUL

The graduates of Belleville Business College are employed by the best and largest business firms all over the continent, and nearly 200 are occupying positions in Belleville alone.

Circulars and specimens of Penmanship sent free.

Address—

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Belleville, - - - Ont.

FIRE INSURANCE.

We beg to advise those desiring fire insurance that we are the agents for

Royal Insurance Company,
CAPITAL, $10,000,000.
RESERVE, $35,000,000.

Western Assurance Company,
CAPITAL, $1,200,000.
CASH ASSETS OVER $1,500,000.

Commercial Union Insurance Co.,
CAPITAL AND ASSETS $25,000,000.

British America Assurance Co.,
CAPITAL, $500,000.
NET SURPLUS, $32,772.

Hartford Fire Insurance Company
CAPITAL, $1,250,000.
SURPLUS, $2,150,000.

Alliance Assurance Company,
CAPITAL, $25,000,000.

The Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company Institute of 1836.
CAPITAL, $10,000,000.
INVESTED FUNDS OVER $44,500,000.

The standing of these Companies is such that all may be satisfied that in case of loss the settlement will be prompt and equitable.

Record kept of all Policies and Notices sent before expiration of same.

THE RATHBUN CO.,
Deseronto, Ont.

SITUATIONS

Have been secured for all recent graduates of the

KINGSTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Proof that this College leads all other Business Colleges in Canada, sent on application. Address,

J. B. McKAY,
Kingston, Ont.

WATSON
Corner Main and Deseronto.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS.The Obligations That Parents Owe to the Little Ones in Their Care.

It is the right of every child to be talked to in a sensible, intelligent manner, instead of being obliged to listen to the sickening stuff called "baby talk."

It is the right of every child that his questions should have satisfactory answers as far as possible. Yet how often are the snubbed and silenced when their questions chance to interfere with the comfort of other people?

It is the right of every child to be exempt from teasing in the home. Why do so many parents thoughtlessly allow so much needless pain to be given to sensitive little ones by those who do not understand the nature of a child?

It is the right of every child, as he grows older, to have a good supply of reading matter intelligently and judiciously selected.

The old story books used to tell us "Nature abhors a vacuum," and if the minds of our children are not stored with the beautiful thoughts to be gleaned from history, poetry, biography and geography, they will surely be filled with something less worthy.

It is the right of every child to be allowed regular attendance at school. It is claimed that it is seldom the child of the poor Irish or German laborer or of the allowed neglect of school to those two or three days in the week. These children are taught to realize the need of a good education, and are usually the most diligent and persistent in trying to obtain it; and the children of well-to-do parents certainly have a right to the same care on the part of their parents.

The child has a right to a place of his own, to things of his own and to surroundings which have some relation to his size, his desires and his capabilities.

The child has a right to more justice in his discipline than we are generally wise enough and patient enough to give him.

The child has a right to expect examples. He lives in the scenes, he can learn only through object lessons, and we must not expect him to be better than the example which we ourselves set them. No, not even as good, yet we demand perfect obedience, truthfulness and other virtues which we refuse to cultivate in ourselves.

The child has a right to be taught habits of economy and self-denial by being allowed a certain amount of pocket money. Let him learn it, if possible, and be it ever so little, the fact of its being his own will give it a special charm; and if taught to spend it wisely, and to save and invest it when possible, with the little account books that should be kept by the childish fingers, the benefits derived from this "right" will have an influence for good throughout life.

The child has a right to enjoy the company of his parents—to be made a companion of. Do not think your child duty done towards that little active mind when you have provided playthings and perhaps a child of the same age as a playfellow.

Every child has a right to some period of time during each day when he will not be met with, "I haven't time now, dear," but will feel at liberty to unload his burden of observations, and expand his intellect in the genial atmosphere of friendly intercourse with those older and wiser than himself.

PINNED TO THE GROUND.How an Enraged Cow Managed to Whip a Grizzly Bear.

"Usually a cow does not stand much chance when she engages in a hand-to-hand conflict with a grizzly bear," said a sportsman to a writer for Dumb Animals, "but one day a grizzly bear killed one of these animals and came out of the struggle without a scratch. The cow had recently had a calf. It being her first-born, the mother was exceedingly vicious, and it was unsafe for a stranger to approach her, as her horns were long and pointed out, and she was out of the hillside a short distance from the house."

"One night a bear, having smelled the presence of a cow and calf, mounted the roof of the shed and proceeded to force an entrance by scratching through the thatch. The cow at the same time detected the presence of the intruder and held herself in readiness to receive him. The noise of a terrible struggle aroused me, and grabbing a lantern I rushed from the house, and opening the shut door found the cow in a frantic state, bawling and tossing and for some large object, which evidently had lost all power of resistance."

"It turned out to be a good sized grizzly bear, about the size of a grizzly, and through the body of the courageous mother. The little calf was nestled in a corner, sleeping peacefully, and seemed unmindful of the maternal struggle, and suppose as soon as the bear gained an entrance through the roof it was planned to go ground by the cow's horns before it had time to do any damage."

Just That Kind of a Boy.

The boy was lost at the circus. At least his mother said he was lost, and she sought to know. Moreover, every one in the neighborhood knew it, for she was proclaiming the fact of his disappearance in every grocery and every corner, and to every other mother that she knew.

"He went to the circus with me and the circus has gone out of town and he has been taken with me. I know, those men are always on the lookout for bright children and Dave is just the kind of a boy they would naturally jump at," said she, with an air of conviction.

"What does the boy look like?" asked a man in a sunburned suit who had plenty of time to spare, and who was sitting with twisted eyes and plenty of frolic on his nose. Does he look as if he were never washed, and has his stockings in holes, and has his coat made up of scraps of one else's old one, and does he walk apologetically like a rheumatic turtle, and was he half-witted?"

The man in the sunburned suit was wise enough to edge away as he asked those questions and when he finally escaped he muttered: "That's you for trying to help a woman. She just gets mad. It might have been her boy, even if it wasn't."

The mother spent two hours chasing her boy and, at last, dead tired, she walked home heavy-hearted and wretched.

When she got indoors her husband was enjoying his supper and the boy was facing him at the table, with a piled-up plate and satisfied in every feature, for the circus had sharpened his appetite.

As she came in the husband had asked: "Where is your mother?" and the boy was saying: "With my mother. I sent her to 'Guess she's lost. Shouldn't wonder if some of the circus men had stolen her.'"

If the over lover had side when she took him to the circus again it would be the last time.

"Yes, yes!"

"Yes, cotton and my feelin's!"

"Yes, yes!"

"Yes, yes!"

"Yes, yes!"

"Yes, yes!"

DO NOT DECEIVE THE PUBLIC.The Public Often Imposed on.*Proprietary Medicines and Pills that are Utterly Worthless.*When You Ask for Paine's Celery Compound do not Allow Your Dealer to Recommend to Something Else.

There is a vast amount of double deception practiced in the country. The double deception imposed on a two-toned people, just means the making of worthless medicines and pills, and putting them into the stores of dealers, who often recommend them when Paine's Celery Compound is asked for, because they pay larger and handsomer profits.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

This work of recommending poor and substituting is fraught with many evils. It encourages the dealer to expect to the will of the grasping dealer; it tends to prolong sufferings and agonies when the sick are forced to buy what they do not want; and lastly, the vile work of substituting assists the spread and circulation of preparations that should be prohibited by law.

THE MOST IMPORTANT CROP.5 LINES ON K. & L.

This is by far the most important crop grown in the New England States or where other domestic animals are reared.

It is the common herbage on which cattle are fed.

Grass is the most favorable crop that can be grown, from the fact that it requires but little capital, labor or machinery.

Thus it would appear to be the last crop to fall behind. But, as such is really the case, it should be the first and chief attention, to restore our waning agriculture, enhance the value of our farms, retain our population and improve our stock.

Clay or heavy loam lands are the most suitable for grass and once well seeded and improved, thickened up and bear heavier crops for many years. They can be kept in grass as long as desired provided they are kept properly manured, for you cannot take off successively the crop without returning manure in some form to keep up the fertility of the soil. Two tons of hay taken from the soil and the clean straw elements: alkalies, potash and soda, 50 lbs.; alkaline earths, lime and magnesia, 44 lbs.; phosphoric acid 17 lbs.

It will be found in practice that 100 pounds of nitrate of soda, which contain 16 per cent of nitrogen and 35 per cent of soda, 200 pounds of well rotted Florida phosphate of lime, 30 per cent, phosphoric acid; 100 pounds of soda ash; 98 per cent, of carbonate of soda. Mix all well together; they cost at present prices, the dollars for enough for an acre and furnish 93 lbs. of alkali, 60 lbs. of phosphoric acid, 100 lbs. of soda, and 100 lbs. of nitrogen.

These will not only keep up but improve the fertility of the soil, avoiding the necessity of the present practice of every few years breaking it up and sowing it with a few years in potatoes, corn or other crops and then resending to grass with or without grain of some kind.

It requires labor to cultivate these crops before they are again laid out; this with the cost of seed and manure deters many from attempting it.

Consequently the land is neglected, the crop diminishes till it does not pay for cutting it. It is then left to grow up with finally bushes, weeds and moss take possession of the soil and ten or more acres are required to pasture one cow when at first one acre would have sufficed.

With moving lands not yielding one-half they should, more than doubling the cost of the hay obtained, offers but poor encouragement to the farmer. Profit and obligation one to keep only those which are necessary to do the work on the farm. The old adage is exemplified, "Without manure no crops; without cattle no dung; without grass no cattle."

If land at the present time in mowing is not overvalued, the advantage of labor-saving machinery is not broken up and cultivated for a time or immediately laid down smooth and even, adapted to be worked with machinery.

If already smooth, but run out, the top-dressing with chemicals, before mentioned, restore an abundant crop and bring in the best grasses. If land now in pasture is adapted to grass, but too far distant from the buildings to put it into cultivation for want of manure or expense of carting it that distance, it can be broken up and manured with chemicals, put into cultivated crops for two or three years or at once laid down to grass, smooth and even. If so mowed, the need of breaking it up, but keep it in grass by top-dressing it with chemicals, it will then bear nourishing grasses and in abundance.

A pasture that will carry ten head of stock is worth more than double one that will only carry five; there is no way so easy or so profitable as to increase the value of our farms in their crop-producing capacity and consequently their saleable value, as to increase the growth of grass on the pasture.

This enables more stock to be kept profitably; the crop is sent to market in a concentrated form, as in milk, butter, cheese, etc., and the farmer is enabled to supplement to advantage by the aid of chemicals.

When grass lands are to be broken up, other than for a summer fallow, the plowing should be done in autumn in order that the vegetable matters of the soil may undergo a decomposition in time to meet the wants of the spring crop and that the soil may be exposed to the ameliorating influence of the winter frosts.

A Variety of Diet.

A number of facts conspire to throw a somewhat new light on questions of diet, or at least to show that those problems are no longer so simple as they are often by some supposed. It has been usual to speak of a "mixed diet," meaning thereby one composed in part of animal and vegetable food, one containing proteins, fats, and carbohydrates, approximately in such proportions as they are required by the organism; but when we see the effect upon disease produced by very small quantities of certain selected portions of animals commonly used as food, such as thyroid gland, suprarenal gland, and pancreas, we are struck by the fact that these are but the more pronounced expressions of a wide-spread principle, and that such marked differences in diet may be associated with similar differences in nutritional value between the various portions and kinds of meat which we consume.

Manure is obtained from the stock and this can be supplemented to advantage by the aid of chemicals.

When grass lands are to be broken up, other than for a summer fallow, the plowing should be done in autumn in order that the vegetable matters of the soil may undergo a decomposition in time to meet the wants of the spring crop and that the soil may be exposed to the ameliorating influence of the winter frosts.

A Variety of Diet.

A number of facts conspire to throw a somewhat new light on questions of diet, or at least to show that those problems are no longer so simple as they are often by some supposed. It has been usual to speak of a "mixed diet," meaning thereby one composed in part of animal and vegetable food, one containing proteins, fats, and carbohydrates, approximately in such proportions as they are required by the organism; but when we see the effect upon disease produced by very small quantities of certain selected portions of animals commonly used as food, such as thyroid gland, suprarenal gland, and pancreas, we are struck by the fact that these are but the more pronounced expressions of a wide-spread principle, and that such marked differences in diet may be associated with similar differences in nutritional value between the various portions and kinds of meat which we consume.

Manure is obtained from the stock and this can be supplemented to advantage by the aid of chemicals.

When grass lands are to be broken up, other than for a summer fallow, the plowing should be done in autumn in order that the vegetable matters of the soil may undergo a decomposition in time to meet the wants of the spring crop and that the soil may be exposed to the ameliorating influence of the winter frosts.

A Variety of Diet.

A number of facts conspire to throw a somewhat new light on questions of diet, or at least to show that those problems are no longer so simple as they are often by some supposed. It has been usual to speak of a "mixed diet," meaning thereby one composed in part of animal and vegetable food, one containing proteins, fats, and carbohydrates, approximately in such proportions as they are required by the organism; but when we see the effect upon disease produced by very small quantities of certain selected portions of animals commonly used as food, such as thyroid gland, suprarenal gland, and pancreas, we are struck by the fact that these are but the more pronounced expressions of a wide-spread principle, and that such marked differences in diet may be associated with similar differences in nutritional value between the various portions and kinds of meat which we consume.

Manure is obtained from the stock and this can be supplemented to advantage by the aid of chemicals.

When grass lands are to be broken up, other than for a summer fallow, the plowing should be done in autumn in order that the vegetable matters of the soil may undergo a decomposition in time to meet the wants of the spring crop and that the soil may be exposed to the ameliorating influence of the winter frosts.

A Variety of Diet.

A number of facts conspire to throw a somewhat new light on questions of diet, or at least to show that those problems are no longer so simple as they are often by some supposed. It has been usual to speak of a "mixed diet," meaning thereby one composed in part of animal and vegetable food, one containing proteins, fats, and carbohydrates, approximately in such proportions as they are required by the organism; but when we see the effect upon disease produced by very small quantities of certain selected portions of animals commonly used as food, such as thyroid gland, suprarenal gland, and pancreas, we are struck by the fact that these are but the more pronounced expressions of a wide-spread principle, and that such marked differences in diet may be associated with similar differences in nutritional value between the various portions and kinds of meat which we consume.

Manure is obtained from the stock and this can be supplemented to advantage by the aid of chemicals.

When grass lands are to be broken up, other than for a summer fallow, the plowing should be done in autumn in order that the vegetable matters of the soil may undergo a decomposition in time to meet the wants of the spring crop and that the soil may be exposed to the ameliorating influence of the winter frosts.

A Variety of Diet.

5 LINES ON K. & L.

I find the people around here prefer Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to any other I have ever used. They are a wonderful pill. Send 3 dozen at once. I can nearly eat it. S—Send by Post, J. W. Ireland, Guelph, Ont.

IVORINE FOR THE TEETH.

Ivorine is a dentifrice as delightful and as efficacious as any other. It strengthens the gums, whitens and polishes the teeth, and imparts a fragrant sweetness to the breath. Ivorine never injures the teeth, and has received the highest commendations from professional and public. Druggists have it, 25 cents per bottle.

What the Doctor Did.

"You'd better ask the doctor for his bill next time he comes," said a poor, sick minister to his wife. "I don't know when we can pay it. I'm sure, he's made a good many visits, but I hope he won't have to come many times more."

The old doctor was a grim, looking person, who said as little as possible, and spoke in the gruffest of tones; but he had a kind eye, and his heart was as soft as butter. He never failed to give the minister's wife followed him out of the sick room and timidly proffered her request.

"Your bill!" said the doctor, glancing round the kitchen, then down at his boots.

Two Ways of Looking at It.

Outworn (enthusiastically)—Cittly, old man, you ought to move out to Longwood. Its peacefulness and quiet would make you live twice as long as you are now. Cittly—But if I were living out there I shouldn't care to live twice as long."

NOTHING IS MORE PITIFUL.

Than the condition of the consumptive, when the life is slowly ebbing away. His science has come to the rescue, and I afflicted that way may be restored if it will only take the Miller's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil. It is as sweet as cream, so that the most fastidious can take it. After a few doses new blood comes to the rescue, and then the short time the patient is again, healthy and hopeful, with a new lease of life. It will almost raise the dead. Miller's Emulsion is a cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c, and $1. Sold by W. G. East and W. J. Malley.

A Good Farm Gate.

In the Far West a barnyard is called by the Spaniards corral. A gate

A CHINESE BARBER.

SAM LEE IS THE ONLY TONSORIAL ARTIST IN PHILADELPHIA.

Celestials Patronize Their Own Countryman—It is Considered an Honorable Trade—His Stock of Razors—Cannot Cut Hair.

"Chinatown" is one of the most interesting sections of the whole city. It has its own institutions, its own government, its own laws, its own customs and its own traditions. None of the latter is within the pale of the Chinese barber. Though American tonsorial artists surround them on every side, Celestials heed them not. They patronize their own barber.

The American and the Chinese barber are alike in but one particular, and that is that both wield the same implement characteristic of that honored profession. In other respects they differ materially. Their mode of living and system of workmanship bear no relation whatever to each other, and their standing in their respective communities is widely divergent. The personal peculiarities of the Chinese and the American barber have nothing in common. The Chinaman considers it the acme of ill-breeding to utter even a guttural sound while shaving a patron. On the other hand, neither will he utter a word of conversation, or make any interruption of his work. He will not talk himself, and does not want and will not have any other talk under his treatment. The reason for all this reserve and respectful bearing is interesting. The Chinese barber looks upon himself in the light of a high professional man. He cannot forget the fact that he spent several years in the arduous study of his profession. It is an understood thing by Chinese barber that whenever he has the honor and good fortune to graduate from a "Pol," that is, a first-class barber shop, he is the personification of all that is great and noble. He walks in a more elevated sphere than all his brethren.

There are a few samples of these Celestial experts in this country. Their skill as barbers is unquestioned, but they cannot cut hair. Perhaps the reason is that a Chinaman never cuts his queue.

There is only one Chinese barber shop in Philadelphia, notwithstanding the fact that the Chinese population here and in the suburbs is sufficiently numerous to maintain a half dozen of them. The local shop is located in a dingy little room on the second floor of 915 Race Street. The shop is owned by Sam Lee, a haughty, full-blooded Chinaman. Mr. Lee has three assistants, who squirm and salami at the first look of disapproval from their chief. A "Press" reporter visited the barber shop the other day. As he ascended the dirty staircase the first thing he encountered was the obnoxious fumes of opium which pervaded the atmosphere of the place. Upon entering the outer room the reporter was greeted by an infuriated Chinaman, who had been ruthlessly disturbed out of a blissful reverie produced by an over-indulgence in opium. He was not Mr. Lee, for that worthy was busily engaged putting the finishing touches to a fellow countryman's haircut. The little Chinaman yelled to the intruder in broken English—

"What you fellow come here?"

"That's all right, John," answered the reporter, "I want to get shaved."

"No, you don't," said the Chinaman, and then turning to his boss, asked, "Do he Lee?"

Lee never looked up from his work, but with an ominous grin to a string of razors that were hanging from a rack behind a door. The guard made a dash toward the razors, but did not secure one before Lee had finished the job he was working on. Lee then came forward and asked—

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

"Me no do, me no understand Melican man," said the boss barber.

"That's all right, John; I'll wait a while, and the reporter invited himself to chair. John began to get angry then, but the arrival of an almond-eyed patron put a temporary stop to all impending hostilities. As Mr. Lee's assistant retreated to the inner sanctum when the boss looked the matter of dealing with the stranger in hand. One very strange thing in the work of a Chinese barber is that the proprietor not only bosses the job but works the hardest in the shop. When the second customer took the chair—there is only one in the shop—the reporter proceeded to shave him. There was no patent titting chair in this Chinese barber shop. The customer sat on a stool, and the barber stood behind him. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors. The barber's head was shaved, and the hair was cut with a pair of scissors.

"What time?"

"I want to get shaved," answered the reporter.

ARMENIAN WEDDING.

AN INTERESTING BUT SOMEWHAT Tiresome Ceremony.

The Bride and Groom Stand For An Hour With Their Foreheads Together—The Customs of the Bride—The Professional Matchmakers.

While the Armenians who live in Europe and Turkey, and above all in Constantinople, have adopted foreign dress and modes of living, their customs and traditions have never undergone any change, and probably never will. Their weddings, their baptisms, and their funerals, as well as their church services are all today exactly the same as when the Armenian Catholic Church was founded in the third century by the apostle Andrew.

Those ancient customs fit in to-day with modern ideas very oddly, and for a person of the tribe of moderns it is not easy to find himself alone at one of these ceremonies is to feel as if he were dreaming of times long ago. The wedding in Constantinople is an Armenian wedding in Constantinople not very long ago.

The bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

There are glasses of water, and another with spoons and one empty glass. You are expected to take a spoon, dip it into the glass, and then put your spoon into the empty glass. I succeeded in upturning the glass, and the water was spilt, which for some reason they appeared to consider a good omen.

The bride and groom were taken to see the bride. Many of the guests were of rich and handsome stuff. Then we went to see the supper table. This was spread with a magnificent array of dishes, including fowls, cakes, dried fruits, enormous quantities of bread and cheese, and three immense bowls filled with small olives and confectioners' cakes. Hot dishes were to be served later when the guests were seated.

The whole party then went into the parlor to wait the arrival of the bridegroom. The rest of the company were all assembled, and at 9 o'clock Haskas and his mother arrived. The bride was led in and seated at the head of the table, completely. Haskas' mother looked in a veritable old witch, and she passed her time in telling the guests of her own life, and of the amount of dowry they were giving such a noble, beautiful and well-connected young man as Haskas was utterly ridiculous.

Every body but the bride talked, smoked and had a good time, and at 11 o'clock the priests and not come to the ceremony. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

thick. There are glasses of water, and another with spoons and one empty glass. You are expected to take a spoon, dip it into the glass, and then put your spoon into the empty glass. I succeeded in upturning the glass, and the water was spilt, which for some reason they appeared to consider a good omen.

The bride and groom were taken to see the bride. Many of the guests were of rich and handsome stuff. Then we went to see the supper table. This was spread with a magnificent array of dishes, including fowls, cakes, dried fruits, enormous quantities of bread and cheese, and three immense bowls filled with small olives and confectioners' cakes. Hot dishes were to be served later when the guests were seated.

The whole party then went into the parlor to wait the arrival of the bridegroom. The rest of the company were all assembled, and at 9 o'clock Haskas and his mother arrived. The bride was led in and seated at the head of the table, completely. Haskas' mother looked in a veritable old witch, and she passed her time in telling the guests of her own life, and of the amount of dowry they were giving such a noble, beautiful and well-connected young man as Haskas was utterly ridiculous.

Every body but the bride talked, smoked and had a good time, and at 11 o'clock the priests and not come to the ceremony. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table, and the bridegroom was a clerk and was rather taller than is usual for an Armenian.

DOLLY'S MAMMA.

I am this dolly's mamma and I'm very proud to say.

This was the first time I had ever seen a dolly. She was a lovely little thing, and I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

She had golden ringlets and such eyes. And this dolly was a dolly where one pretty eye full through.

She had the whoppy dolly, and she had And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my dolly.

I was very proud to say that she was my dolly. And I was very proud to say that she was my d

Steamer "VARUNA."

Leave Trenton 7.00 a.m.
 " Belleville 8.30
 " Deseronto 10.20
 " All intermediate points.
 Arriving Pictou 12.00 noon.

Leave Pictou 1.00 p.m.
 " Deseronto 2.30
 " Belleville 4.00
 " Trenton 6.00

Connecting at Pictou with Stage for Sand Banks; at Trenton with steamer Iona for Oswego and Syracuse, N. Y.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte

S. LAMBOAT CO., LTD.

STR. NORTH KING.

Weekly Bay of Quinte and 1,000 Island Route.

SAILING EAST—EVERY SATURDAY.

Leave	Charlotte (Port of Rochester)	July	August
Brigiton, Sunday	12.30 a.m.	12.30 a.m.	12.30 a.m.
Canal Bridge, Trent	1.30	1.30	1.30
Belleville, Sunday	2.30	2.30	2.30
Deseronto	3.30	3.30	3.30
Glennora	4.30	4.30	4.30
Steamer "Hero" leaves Pictou to connect	5.00	5.00	5.00
Bath	7.10	7.10	7.10
Arrive Alexandria Bay	11.30	11.30	11.30

SAILING WEST—EVERY SUNDAY.

Leave	Alexandria Bay, Sunday	2.00 p.m.
Kinston	7.00	7.00
Bath	8.20	8.20
Glennora	9.30	9.30
Steamer "Hero" leaves Pictou to connect	9.15	9.15
Deseronto, Sunday	10.00	10.00
Belleville	11.20	11.20
Canal Bridge, Trent	1.40	1.40
Brigiton	2.30	2.30
Arrive Charlotte (Port of Rochester)	6.45	6.45

Weekdays, Steamer runs between Charlotte, N. Y. and Port Hope and Chubbuck.

Further particulars, apply to

CAPT. JARRELL, on Board.

GEO. A. BROWNE, H. H. GILDERLEEVE,

Agents, Manager, Kingston.

Deseronto Navigation Co's (Ltd.)

SUMMER TIME TABLE.

Taking Effect May 1st, 1895.

Steamers will run as follows daily except Sundays—

Steamer "ELLA ROSS."

(D. B. Christie, Master.)

Pictou to Deseronto, Belleville & Trenton.

Leave	Pictou	Deseronto	Belleville	Trenton
Thompson's Point	6.00 a.m.	6.30	7.00	7.30
Hughes	7.00	7.30	8.00	8.30
Arrive Deseronto	8.00	8.30	9.00	9.30
Belleville	9.00	9.30	10.00	10.30
Northport	10.00	10.30	11.00	11.30
Belleville	11.00	11.30	12.00	12.30
Rederiville	12.00	12.30	1.00	1.30
Arrive Trenton	1.00	1.30	2.00	2.30

Trenton, Belleville & Deseronto to Pictou.

Leave	Trenton	Belleville	Deseronto	Pictou
Rederiville	2.00 p.m.	2.30	3.00	3.30
Belleville	3.00	3.30	4.00	4.30
Northport	4.00	4.30	5.00	5.30
Arrive Deseronto	5.00	5.30	6.00	6.30
Belleville	6.00	6.30	7.00	7.30
Thompson's Point	7.00	7.30	8.00	8.30
Arrive Pictou	8.00	8.30	9.00	9.30

This Steamer makes connections at Deseronto with morning trains going East on G. T. R., East and West on C. E. R., and with night trains East and West on Grand Trunk Railway.

Steamer "DESERONTO."

(Wm. Skiles, Master.)

Napanea and Deseronto to Pictou.

Leave	Napanea	Deseronto	Pictou
Arrive Deseronto	6.00 a.m.	6.30	7.00
Hughes	7.00	7.30	8.00
Arrive Deseronto	8.00	8.30	9.00
Belleville	9.00	9.30	10.00
Northport	10.00	10.30	11.00
Belleville	11.00	11.30	12.00
Rederiville	12.00	12.30	1.00
Arrive Trenton	1.00	1.30	2.00

Pictou and Deseronto to Napanea.

Leave	Pictou	Deseronto	Napanea
Thompson's Point	2.30 p.m.	3.00	3.30
Hughes	3.30	4.00	4.30
Arrive Deseronto	4.30	5.00	5.30
Belleville	5.30	6.00	6.30
Northport	6.30	7.00	7.30
Arrive Napanea	7.30	8.00	8.30

Close connection with G. T. R. trains for all points East and West.

Call for tickets reading "via Deseronto."

LAKE ONTARIO PORTS.

John Gowan, Master.

Steamer "RESOLUTE."

These Steamers sail regularly to Oswego, Deseronto to Oswego.

For further particulars apply to

G. A. BROWNE, R. C. CARTER,

Gen. Traffic Manager, Deseronto, Ont.

Subject to change.

NAVIGATION.

WE WILL,

Doubtless see more of our friends from Deseronto now that navigation is open again.

We want your patronage and will do our best to please you.

OUR ICE CREAM parlors are open for the season.

WE KNOW YOU KNOW good Soda and Ice Cream, and that's why we have the patronage of Deseronto's best when they are in town.

Ed. F. DICKENS,

Successor to H. C. Dickens & Son.

Belleville.

SELLING OUT

I AM GOING OUT OF BUGGIES, and have 13 Buggies, 1 Democrat and 1 Mikado which I will sell at and under actual cost of production to enable me to sell them out immediately. If you take advantage of this you will save from $12 to $25 on each rig. Our "Gearless Farming Mill" and "All Steel Wagon" beats them all. We keep repairs for all Plovers, 4 Points for $1. See our Gang Plow with Steel Head and Steel Points, guaranteed to do better work than any single plow.

P. S.—4 Top Buggies and 2 Phaetons, second hand, cheap; Hay, Oats and other grain for sale in exchange.

H. F. JOWELL, Belleville.

TRIED, TESTED AND TRUE.

THOUSANDS KNOW OF THE QUICK AND CERTAIN RELIEF THAT COMES FROM SOUTH AMERICAN KIDNEY CURE.

This medicine will cure all the ills that flesh is heir to, but will cure kidney trouble of whatever kind—no case too aggravated. It will speedily—sure relief in six hours. It is a kidney power, and what it quickly gives ease, where pain existed before, it also gives strength to the weak and deranged organs, making the cure complete and lasting. Thousands who know that South American Kidney Cure has done for them will tell you so.

Live Stock Notes.

Try to improve your stock every year, and thus add to your profits. Well-lighted stables and keep them clean. The man who does not keep his horses at night ought to be obliged to sleep with his working clothes on.

Barish the lily, and grapes will, I believe, become the minus quantity instead of the plums, which have been the position so often in this problem which so many farmers' wives have been trying to solve by their "early birds which got the early (and warm) worms."

One reason for cows shrinking on their milk yield promulgated is that not enough attention is paid to keeping them supplied with pure water when natural sources dry up. Don't be afraid of having an abundance of water in the pasture for dairy stock; they will never drink more than they want.

The only roost that is proof against lice is the one that is made so. No kind of wood or wire mesh will do, although it is sometimes claimed that lice will not remain on poles that are of sassafras or other woods which are believed to be obnoxious to lice. There is but one way to make a roost lice-proof, and that is to keep it saturated with crude petroleum, or, what is better, a mixture composed of equal parts of crude petroleum, a gill of kerosene and half a gill of spirits of turpentine.

The late Col. Curtis, who labored long and hard to make the Agricultural Farmers to fatten his hogs with more lean, would read with interest the late report of Secretary Morton which states that England pays more for hatching bacon than for Canadian and more for Canadian than for American—because the first named hogs have more lean and less fat. A prominent With-hire firm offers the prospect of 30 per cent. on the 100-weight price of hogs weighing 340 pounds and three inches of fat on back, for hogs weighing 150 to 160 pounds and with less than 2½ inches of fat on any part of the back. Under this plan the percentage of fat on hogs has increased from 47 to 75, and the farmers are raising Tamworths and Yorkshires.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, in digestion.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying in pain from the eruption of their teeth, send for a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It is a remedy that is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

WIDE TIRES.

While the movement for improved highways has not yet accomplished what was expected of it in some sections of the country, the agitation of the question has tended to educate the people not only in relation to the value of good roads but also as to the means of preserving serviceable highways when once secured. It is now generally recognized that the use of wagons with wide tires is one of the indispensable aids to the maintenance of permanently unimpaired roads, and the near future will doubtless witness the practical desertion of the narrow tire for all heavy wagons.

The extent to which the value of wide tires has come to be recognized is shown by the fact that the State of New Jersey has already adopted a law providing for their compulsory adoption and is reaping the benefit in the possession of the best roads in the States. With wide tires in general use, the present country roads as rollers to make the roadbed more compact instead of cutting deep ruts as do heavily-loaded wagons on narrow tires. One of the strongest objections raised against the proposed change is the loss which it would impose on farmers in compelling them to sacrifice their present narrow tires. Different suggestions have been advanced for the purpose of lightening this burden. In some places it is proposed to have the wide tire law take effect a few years hence, while others are considering the project of allowing to those who use draft wagons with tires not less than four inches in width, a rebate of one-fourth of their highway tax.

While the laws proposed are in some instances commendable as to some of their features, the chances are that the wide tire will be left to work out its own solution. It is a significant fact that farmers in New Jersey are generally buying wide-tire wagons, because they are convinced of the many advantages of the increased width of the themselves as well as for the public highways.—Good Roads.

"What is wisdom?" asked a teacher of a class of small girls.

A bright eyed little creature arose and answered:

"Information of the brain."

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality?

DID YOU EVER THINK?

That you cannot be well unless you have pure, rich blood? It is a fact, and the blood is impoverished and lacks vitality. Hood's Sarsaparilla will be overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla because Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure, rich blood. It is, in truth, the best blood purifier.

POOR DIGESTION leads to nervousness, chronic dyspepsia and great misery. The best remedy is

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

HOUSEHOLD.

WINDOW SEAT SLOSETS.

After the summer holidays are over, with the first advent of cool days, the housewife begins to turn her attention to the cleaning and renovating of the house, preparatory to settling in for the winter. "Plethora of closet room," is a luxury that every woman covets, and any suggestion that will give her convenient space for disposing of the family effects is helpful.

Window seats are more and more growing to be a feature in the furnishing of a room. Builders are putting them into new houses wherever an advantageous place can be found; carpenters are building them into different rooms of the less modern houses, and home-made window seats are being improvised from boxes by ingenious women.

These boxes answer the two-fold purpose of ornament and use, is greatly in their favor. They are very pretty when covered with linen, chintz, or the art denim; very comfortable as seats with pillows at the back, and very useful as a receptacle for a variety of things.

For a bedroom, three very comfortable window seats may be made from a shoe box and two soap boxes. Remove the covers from the soap boxes and place a shelf half way between the top and bottom, standing them on end with the open side in front.

Between them place the long shoe box, having the cover made strong with hinges at the back.

Now screw the boxes together at the sides to make them fast, and screw a board across them to make a back for the lower seat, and to keep all securely in place.

Line the inside of each box with silesia, using small upholsterer's tacks for the purpose, and cover the outside as shown by the sketch, with oil cloth or chintz. The flouncing on the two outer boxes can be easily raised to give access to the shelves, which will be found a very useful receptacle for shoe brushes, blotting, shoe polish, vasoline, etc., while the long boxes give a low comfortable seat for dressing the feet, and inside the box may be kept the shoes, slippers and boots of the occupants of the room.

A very attractive looking window seat for the accommodation of blankets to be used as extra covering at night, is made from a long, low packing box. This is lined with silesia, and upholstered with any cotton material suited to the furnishings of the room. It is placed directly under the window, and is made comfortable as a seat with down pillows that may be tucked away for the support of the back. This blanket receptacle will be found very convenient when the closets are not provided with drawer or shelf room for their accommodation.

To upholster these boxes satisfactorily, it is better to use curled hair, though excelsior and wadding will answer the purpose. It is held in place by tape or narrow strips of unbleached muslin tacked across it.

A cozy seat for a library or sitting-room, shown by the sketch, will need the service of a carpet, and is of very simple construction. A long, low seat boxed underneath to accommodate three drawers, will be found useful for packing away magazines and papers. The ends are finished with sides, and the wood used corresponds to the woodwork of the room. If that is painted, the framework of the seat is painted to correspond.

A half mattress to fit the seat, has a cover of some suitable material, and pillows at either end make a most luxurious seat for lounging purposes.

Another arrangement of shoe boxes for a den or study, is shown by the sketch. Two of these are finished smoothly, painted or stained to match the woodwork, provided with shelves for books, and placed upright on a shelf of the window. The third box is lined inside and covered for a seat to fit in between the other two. With pillows at the back, and brace-brain on the top of the other two boxes, a charming little nook for reading or study can be made.

The box seat will be found a useful receptacle for keeping the wrapping paper and twine, so necessary in all households, for which one is often at a loss to find a suitable place.

New Cushions.

An attractive cover can be made for a boudoir or for one's sleeping room, if used during the day as a sitting room, with three large cushions. Two of these should be made from pieces of material thirty-six inches square, and a side piece 36 x 48. The deep seat in all around. The stuffing can be excelsior, with a top of curled hair. The third pillow should be thirty inches square, and the same size. Let the third covering be of heavily wadded ticking, of a good quality. It is wadded by rubbing a towel over the wadding with wax, and ironing on the wrong side of the ticking. This will prevent down and fluff from working through and spoiling one's gowns. For the outer covering, tick, red or yellow denim, according to the tone of the room, may be used. The flume are also serviceable. An Arabianque pattern, worked coarsely in Arabianque with black, yellow and blue, will transform them into very effective and Oriental looking pillows.

HOUSEHOLD METAL WORK.

It may not be out of place to consider some of the best ways of clearing the numerous metal objects that are of necessity used in most households. Silver plate, which, while it is first class, is passed with brief mention, as any housewife already knows the value of whitening and silvering. It is cleaned by the electrolytic silver which is washed each day in hot soda and dried with soft linen cloth and rubbed with chamalo requires but little extra cleaning with whitening, jewelry soap or other special cleaning medium.

Brass and copper articles may be roughly divided into two classes—those lacquered and those left unlacquered. The lacquered articles ought not to be scoured, happily dusted from time to time. With careful treatment these will retain their luster for a long time, and when it becomes tarnished the simplest way to renew the brightness is to have the articles relacquered.

Implement of brass or copper that are much used, as a rule, are not lacquered, and to these attention is now directed. All cleaning mediums containing corrosive acids for brass. In the shops one finds a variety of articles, in connection with elbow grease, produces a fine polish. There is, however, nothing really better than rotten stone and oil—finely sifted rotten stone and good sweet oil. None of the polishing fluids or pastes or soaps can compare with it. These latter day nostrums certainly clean more quickly, but things cleaned with them tarnish again much sooner than things cleaned in simple way.

Brass fenders may be cleaned either in one piece, or better still if taken to pieces by unscrewing the screws. A soft rubber of blanket or a flannel wrapped round a piece of wood or cork dipped in oil, wrung out and powdered over with rotten stone, will soon polish up the flat portions. Round portions, such as knobs and bars, are the best cleaned by passing round them a band of flannel, moistened as above, pulling the end of the flannel over the knobs and any recessed articles such as knobs and bellows can be cleaned by brushing with the same compound or with ammonia. Brush all traces of the rotten stone or paste out of the recesses. The same applies to brass candlesticks, trays and walters. Stair rods can be cleaned by making a thick pad of felt, rubbing with it one direction, and shut like a book. The rods must then be inserted and worked in and out for half their length. Then reversed and treated similarly for the other end. All brass things should be finished first by rubbing with an oil or vaseline and then by rubbing with a leather. To secure a good effect, rubbing should be in one direction. Cross rubbing never gives a good result. Copper may be cleaned in exactly the same way as brass, though at times very fine emery powder may be required to give the best results.

Tinned ware looks very nice when new, but the vigorous scouring it often receives from the ignorant soon wears through the thin coating of tin and leaves the iron underneath exposed to view and to atmospheric action. Whittening with plain water, or also with ammonia, is the best for such ware, only the angles and recesses must be brushed to remove all traces. If the iron underneath is exposed, retinning may be necessary. Such ware should be carefully dried inside to prevent the chance of rust.

Soft fire iron, fenders, etc., are best cleaned with emery, and shoe polish. After cleaning and polishing they should be rubbed over with an oil rag and then rubbed up again. To preserve them from rust, they should be rubbed with vasoline. Another favorite cleaning agent is bath brick. Two pieces may be rubbed down, and the resulting powder sifted and mixed with vasoline or oil. The iron underneath rust has once got hold of steel goods, it is difficult to eradicate it, especially when, like fenders, they are usually in a direct draft.

What Will Friendless Women Do?

Here is a phase of the woman question that may be well worth consideration. It is not exactly a new woman that propounds the queries in the appended communication, nor would more fortunate numbers her sex voluntarily put themselves in the ranks of old women; yet that she is in a measure an undesired element of the social fabric seems to be certain. It is hard, experience, that forces her to ask the following questions: How can women past forty, who are suddenly left very poor, support themselves? My friend and I have been teachers and office clerks all the time that we have worked, and you know that women of that class are rarely perfect nurses and housekeepers, and, besides, sweet young faces brighten homes of the sick rooms, and they never lack in judgment. Girls from sixteen to twenty-two years of age have greater influence on our dear little ones in the schools and over the grave and revered school boards. As to office work, the older the man the younger he wants his clerk. It is all very natural, and all right. There is a well worn saying that skilled labor is always employed, but I have seen sweet sixteen take its place many times. Husbands will die, banks will fail and investments prove bad, and we must live. My friend has not seen a sick day in years, and I have perfect health. We are not trained for the kind of work and other servants' work, and as we have not young, sweet faces it would do no good if we were. The idea of a woman past forty being a nurse or a teacher is the height of absurdity. Who would for one moment presume to compare the work of the sweet faced virgin to pink or pale blue who haunts the wards of our hospitals with the work of a Nightingale, with that of the women who faced death in fever poisoned swamps, who were the first to stand in the time of a plague, and who were the first to bring youth to the front. We admire the picture of Elizabeth Fry making her way through the dismal dungeons of Magdeburg or penetrating the terrible galleries of Toulon, yet had she been less than twenty instead of a woman of fifty, her sweet smile and winning way would have won courts and kings, and accomplished her work in a refined way without coming in contact with the low. We love Elizabeth Peabody for the good she did in her young days. We realize the grandeur of her work when past three months and ten yet how much she has done for the world's work at twenty-five and spent time and money teaching others to be social by example. We are not trained for the kind of work and other servants' work, and as we have not young, sweet faces it would do no good if we were. The idea of a woman past forty being a nurse or a teacher is the height of absurdity. Who would for one moment presume to compare the work of the sweet faced virgin to pink or pale blue who haunts the wards of our hospitals with the work of a Nightingale, with that of the women who faced death in fever poisoned swamps, who were the first to stand in the time of a plague, and who were the first to bring youth to the front. We admire the picture of Elizabeth Fry making her way through the dismal dungeons of Magdeburg or penetrating the terrible galleries of Toulon, yet had she been less than twenty instead of a woman of fifty, her sweet smile and winning way would have won courts and kings, and accomplished her work in a refined way without coming in contact with the low. We love Elizabeth Peabody for the good she did in her young days. We realize the grandeur of her work when past three months and ten yet how much she has done for the world's work at twenty-five and spent time and money teaching others to be social by example. We are not trained for the kind of work and other servants' work, and as we have not young, sweet faces it would do no good if we were. The idea of a woman past forty being a nurse or a teacher is the height of absurdity. Who would for one moment presume to compare the work of the sweet faced virgin to pink or pale blue who haunts the wards of our hospitals with the work of a Nightingale, with that of the women who faced death in fever poisoned swamps, who were the first to stand in the time of a plague, and who were the first to bring youth to the front. We admire the picture of Elizabeth Fry making her way through the dismal dungeons of Magdeburg or penetrating the terrible galleries of Toulon, yet had she been less than twenty instead of a woman of fifty, her sweet smile and winning way would have won courts and kings, and accomplished her work in a refined way without coming in contact with the low. We love Elizabeth Peabody for the good she did in her young days. We realize the grandeur of her work when past three months and ten yet how much she has done for the world's work at twenty-five and spent time and money teaching others to be social by example. We are not trained for the kind of work and other servants' work, and as we have not young, sweet faces it would do no good if we were. The idea of a woman past forty being a nurse or a teacher is the height of absurdity. Who would for one moment presume to compare the work of the sweet faced virgin to pink or pale blue who haunts the wards of our hospitals with the work of a Nightingale, with that of the women who faced death in fever poisoned swamps, who were the first to stand in the time of a plague, and who were the first to bring youth to the front. We admire the picture of Elizabeth Fry making her way through the dismal dungeons of Magdeburg or penetrating the terrible galleries of Toulon, yet had she been less than twenty instead of a woman of fifty, her sweet smile and winning way would have won courts and kings, and accomplished her work in a refined way without coming in contact with the low. We love Elizabeth Peabody for the good she did in her young days. We realize the grandeur of her work when past three months and ten yet how much she has done for the world's work at twenty-five and spent time and money teaching others to be social by example. We are not trained for the kind of work and other servants' work, and as we have not young, sweet faces it would do no good if we were. The idea of a woman past forty being a nurse or a teacher is the height of absurdity. Who would for one moment presume to compare the work of the sweet faced virgin to pink or pale blue who haunts the wards of our hospitals with the work of a Nightingale, with that of the women who faced death in fever poisoned swamps, who were the first to stand in the time of a plague, and who were the first to bring youth to the front. We admire the picture of Elizabeth Fry making her way through the dismal dungeons of Magdeburg or penetrating the terrible galleries of Toulon, yet had she been less than twenty instead of a woman of fifty, her sweet smile and winning way would have won courts and kings, and accomplished her work in a refined way without coming in contact with the low. We love Elizabeth Peabody for the good she did in Selling Out!

—THE WHOLE STOCK—

Must be Cleared Out.

Greatest Bargains ever offered in town.

See our Dress Goods, Staples, Blankets, Flannels, Fur Capes, Mitts, Fur Collars, Robes, Fur Caps, Cloth Caps, Ready-made Clothing, Shirts and Drawers.

Ask to see Shirts and Drawers at 50c. per suit; best value in the country.

This is no humbug Sale; every dollar's worth of Goods in the store must be cleared out.

N.B., All accounts must be settled by the 15th of November.

TERMS CASH.

WIMS & CO.

Oilcake.

We have placed in Store a large quantity of Fine Ground Oilcake which we offer for a limited time at the unheard of price—

$23.00 per Ton.

(Bags included.)

We have overcome the standing objection to the use of Oilcake, viz., price, as this quotation is only a trifle higher than the market value of Cracked Grain, and when used with grain the increase in flow of milk will surprise you.

J. C. HANLEY & CO.,

Grocers, Feed and Seed Merchants,
BELLEVILLE, - ONTARIO.

Samples

DROP US A POST CARD

And we will send you samples of any kind of Dry Goods you may require. Our Mr. Reid has just returned from Europe, where he visited the leading manufacturers of England, France, Scotland and Germany, and secured the newest goods at the lowest possible prices.

Our store is full of beautiful new goods and it will be a pleasure to send you samples.

As our assortment is so large be as definite as possible in ordering. Mention about the price you want to pay and whether you want black or colored.

Don't think you are bothering us. We will be glad to send samples whether you buy or not.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.,
Importers,
BELLEVILLE.

Herring and whitefish are running up the Bay of Quinte.
The steamer North King makes her last trip to Rochester next Sunday.
An ore carrying vessel of 450 feet will be built on the upper lakes.
Batteries were observed flying last Sunday in different parts of the town.
The steamer Hamilton was late passing up on her last trip, calling here only on Tuesday last.

The General Assembly's Committee has granted $1,193 to aid home mission work in Kingston Presbytery.

The football season is on and all the colleges and high schools in the province are having friendly contests in this manly game.
The trial of Shortie, the Valleyfield murderer, is drawing to a close. The defence rely upon the plea of insanity to save the prisoner.

The creek and marsh between the Deseronto cemetery and S. B. Bowen's farm has been as dry as the Great Sahara during the past few months.

The TARRHENS have been favored with an invitation to the ceremony of unveiling the monument to Sir John A. Macdonald at Kingston, on the 23rd inst.

Wm. Toppin, formerly of Tyendinag, has been located at Fismarville, twenty three miles south of Broadview, Manitoba, where he is prospering. He has had good crops this year.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier has been addressing large meetings at Brockville, Morrisville, Delta and other points in Eastern Ontario. He speaks to-day at Sydenham where great preparations have been made for his reception. Several intend going from Deseronto to take part in the proceedings.

Toronto's municipal debt is larger per capita than that of any other city on the North American continent. It amounts to more than $90 per head. The next largest is the debt of Cincinnati—$84 per head. There are only seven cities in the United States with per capita debts greater than $60.

Meers, Campbell & White, of the Oshawa Roller Mills, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Campbell having taken his cousin, Bert Elliott, of Montreal, with him in the business. The firm will be known as Campbell & Elliott. Mr. Campbell was at one time connected with the Deseronto mills.

C. W. Tucker and R. J. Phillips with their families safely reached their destination on Lake Temiskaming. The weather had been unsettled as it was here in the front. All are busy making arrangements for the coming winter and attending to all the preliminaries incidental to pioneer life in the Canadian forest.

Matthias H. Williams, who will be remembered by many old residents of Deseronto as confidential man for the late H. B. Rathbun, Esq., and afterwards with H. B. Rathbun & Son, has been in charge of the American Express Company's business at Matteson, Ill., since leaving Millport. Matteson is a busy and ambitious city and Mr. Williams is one of its most respected citizens.

L. S. Wright has been spending a few days in town during the past week. He was elected president of the Philomathean society of Albert College. He officiated for four Sundays in St. Andrews church, Stirling, during the absence of Rev. J. M. Gray, in Manitoba. He reports Albert College as prospering. Fred Richardson is a diligent student and likes the institution very much indeed.

At Kingston on Saturday last the minimum and maximum prices were as here given: Beef, 3 to 6c per lb.; mutton, 5 to 6c per lb.; lamb, 6 to 7c per lb.; pork 6 to 7c per lb.; real, 5 to 6c per lb.; chickens, 40 to 50c per pair; fowl, 60 to 80c per pair; turkeys, $1 to $1.50 each; ducks, 50 to 60c each; eggs 15 to 16c per dozen; butter, 20c per lb.; 20 to 22c; rolls, 16 to 18c per lb.; potatoes, 30 to 40c per bag; apples, 40 to 50c per bag.

Charles M. Hays, vice-president and general manager of the Wabash Railway, has been selected for the position of general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway. He was born in 1856 at Rock Island, Ill., and has proved very successful in the different positions which he has held on various railways. Mr. Hays, the present manager, will take a position on the general board as Canadian adviser, and will spend half of his time in London and the other half in Montreal.

Local medical men are looking very cheerful at present. The town council by its inaction in the matter of providing good drainage and a system of waterworks, guarantees a superabundance of malaria and typhoid cases. But in addition to this the time of year has arrived when churches have to close their doors and windows and stoves. Whole congregations are paralyzed and breathe the most vitiated atmosphere while church authorities make little or no effort to give relief. Hot, stifling churches give more employment to doctors than cholera, small-pox and diphtheria all combined.

Emigration from the United Kingdom was slightly larger in September than in the corresponding month of last year, being 37,129 as against 34,836. The United States was the destination of 27,872 of the emigrants, while 3,408 were bound to Canada, or 630 more than in September, 1894. There was a decline in the movement to Australia and South Africa. During the nine months ending September, 217,040 emigrants have left Great Britain, of whom 149,315 were British origin, and of these 19,447 were destined to Canada, or 1,265 less than departed for this country last year. Emigration to South Africa rose from 12,438 last year to 16,981 this year.

George Butler left on Saturday for Kingston to resume his studies at Queen's College. During the summer he performed the duties of pastor of the Ellis Road in a manner most satisfactory. By his falling courtesy he made himself deservedly popular with the travelling public.

Prof. Denmark, having purchased the house lately owned by Frank Hunter, Mill street, has already taken possession.
The Mohawk Band have kindly volunteered their services for the entertainment in the West End Mission Hall this evening.
The steamers Resolute and Vanallan are carrying lumber to Oswego. The Resolute is carrying lumber from Trenton to the same port.

The Farmers' Institute of North Hastings will hold meetings at Springbrook, Queensboro and Moira on the 24th, 25th and 26th inst. in the order named.

The Bay of Quinte Railway employees very generously made up a purse for the unfortunate Lindsay family victims of the Looon Lake disaster. Mr. Lindsay has been removed to the Kingston hospital.

The Hamilton Spectator states that the poll tax is the cause of the decrease of population of that city and urges its removal. Young men pick up their traps and leave rather than submit to such an imposition.

The aurora borealis could be observed on Sunday and Monday evening. It often precedes high winds and heavy snowstorms. A brilliant meteor which eventually burst like a rocket shot athwart the sky on Monday evening.

Chas. A. Crawford, of the General office, was out on Saturday and during his hunt of three hours, maintained his reputation as a sportsman by shooting a wild fox, a partridge, hawk and owl. This is a record rarely made in these parts.

The Sash and Door factory here received many heavy orders for doors, etc., for foreign markets, and the staff has been increased to its full strength in the door department. Among other orders received this week was one for the complete make-up of a house in Oshawa.

The rebellion in Cuba draws its slow length along. It will tax the resources of Spain to crush the insurgents. It is alleged that the United States have warned Spain to quell the rebellion soon or they will interfere to stop the insular struggle.

Deseronto cricket club defeated every eleven which it encountered during the past season. The base ball nine also held their own with all comers. Deseronto used to excel at football; cannot our boys organize and try conclusions with other clubs in the district?

The appeal of the Toronto Globe for assistance to the Lindsay family burned out at Looon Lake, last week, is meeting with a hearty response from all parts of the province. The Globe's pathetic story of the sorrowful event is given elsewhere in these columns.
We desire again to thank the large number of subscribers who have so promptly settled their accounts during the past few weeks. Their kindness is appreciated. We have more than enough to pay the bills. The Tribune as a newspaper by those favoring their subscription money. It will be our constant endeavor to merit such tributes of esteem.

Casualties.
Yesterday forenoon Mrs. John Wright, Brant street, was carrying a pail of water when she slipped and fell, breaking her left arm near the wrist. Dr. Simpson was summoned and reduced the fracture.

Presentation.
On Thursday evening of last week F. C. Davey presented the Citizens Band with a silver headed drum major's staff. Mr. Davey accompanied the presentation with a few appropriate remarks. Prof. Denmark, on behalf of the band, thanked Mr. Davey for his generous gift which will add to the appearance of our popular band when on parade.

Distressing Accident.
Harry W. Woodall was the victim of an accident of a most distressing character about half past four yesterday afternoon. He was adjusting the cope head of the tenon machine in the door department when his right hand was caught in the knives and terribly lacerated. Dr. Newton was immediately summoned, and the unfortunate victim of the accident, who showed magnificent nerve throughout, was removed to the D.R. surgery where the lacerations were closed about 7 p.m. Mr. Woodall who is a very popular citizen, will have the sympathy of all in this unfortunate affair. To make matters worse four or five of his children have of late been suffering from remittent fever.

MARRIED AT KINGSTON.

St. John's church, Kingston, was thronged in every part on Wednesday in order to witness the marriage of Rev. J. H. Coleman, curate of St. Mark's, Deseronto, and Miss Julia McMorine, eldest daughter of Rev. J. K. McMorine, rector of the same church. The Rev. Dean Coleman, of Antwerp, father of the groom. The organist was sustained by a full choir, and a hymn, "The Voice That Breathes 'O'er Eden," opened the service. The bride, who wore a travelling dress, was attended by Miss Agnes McMorine, one of her sisters, while the groom was supported by Rev. Hugh Spencer. After the ceremony the happy couple received the congratulations of the guests at the Parsonage, whose generous hospitality was followed by complimentary refreshments and music. The presents were very numerous and elegant. The women's Auxiliary and the choir of the church gave valuable gifts. The congregation of St. Mark's very generously presented $75 as a mark of their regard. The happy couple took the afternoon train for Deseronto, where the ladies of the congregation had prepared tea and made other arrangements for their reception. The bride's home in the house south of the church, Kingston, on Mill street. The Tribune unites with all classes of its community in congratulating Mr. Coleman and in welcoming his bride to Deseronto.

Division Court.

Division court will be held at Shannonville, Tuesday, Dec. 3rd, and at Deseronto on Wednesday, Dec. 4th.

Police Court.

Lease Colburn was arrested by Chief Gwynne for being drunk and disorderly. He appeared before Commissioner McCullough on Wednesday morning and was fined ten dollars and costs. If the fine is not paid forthwith he must spend thirty days in jail.

West End Mission.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at the West End Mission last Sunday morning. Rev. W. S. McTavish, B. D., officiating. The services were of a very interesting character. Mr. Clark conducted the services in the evening, the hall being crowded to excess. Mr. Clark leaves at the end of the current month to resume his studies at Queen's College.

Educational.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Minister of Education, will deliver an address on "Education" in the drill shed, Belleville, on the evening of Friday, 25th inst., at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be presented to the Minister by the public school and separate school teachers of North Hastings, Belleville board of education, etc. All teachers are particularly urged to attend and the public generally are invited.

Leslie's String Band.

Yielding to the request of many who were present at their last appearance in Deseronto, the Leslies' String Band under command of Staff Capt. Southall will again visit Deseronto, on the evening of Tuesday 22nd, inst. The programme will be as formerly by a most pleasing character, and a rich musical treat may therefore be expected. No one should fail to be present. Admission, only ten cents. Everybody welcome.

Unveiling the Monument.

The ceremony of unveiling the monument to the late Sir John A. Macdonald, G.C.B., in the City Park, Kingston, will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 25th, at 2 p.m. In connection with this event the Bay of Quinte Railway will on that day carry passengers to Kingston and return at single fare, tickets good to return on following day. Returning train will leave Kingston at 5 p.m.

Corn Acknowledged.

Robert Rennie, of North Fredericksburg, sends in to this office two ears of corn of the White Flint eight-rowed variety which are beautiful specimens. But, remarkable to state, were grown on one stalk. One is 13½ inches in length and contains over 450 grains and the other over 430 grains, very clear in color and regular in size. Mr. Rennie has a splendid crop of corn this year, drought and early frosts notwithstanding.

Great Root Crop.

J. J. Krop, manager of the Rathbun Company's farms, shows two mammoth potatoes, weighing 23 and 21 lbs. respectively. On the floor could be seen 350 weighing on an average nineteen pounds each. Between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. one day last week seven men and one boy dug 994 bushels and placed them in the cellar. It is surprising how these roots developed to such an extraordinary size when we take into account the long protracted drought of the past summer.

Noble Specimens.

Visitors to THE TRIBUNE museum during the past week have greatly admired four large apples, the like of which they had not seen at any of the fairs during the past season. They were rolled into our sanctum by A. Vandusen, the well known horticulturist of Greenpoint. They are all pines and the largest weighs 15½ ounces; three of them weigh 12, 14 oz. They are perfectly free from any scab or other defect. Mr. Vandusen has a reputation all over the district for the excellent fruit grown in his orchard.

The sun never sets on Raymond Sewing Machines. John Dalton, dealer, Deseronto. 3-4

To Cleanse Woodwork.

Save the time and space for a few days, then step them in a tin pail for half an hour strain through a sieve, and use the tea to wash all varnished paint. It requires very little "elbow polish," as the tea acts as a strong detergent, cleansing the paint from all impurities, and making the varnish equal to new. It cleans wood sashes and oil cloths; indeed, any varnished surface is improved by its application. It washes window panes and mirrors much better than any other, and is especially good for cleaning back walnut pictures and looking glass frames. It will not do to wash unvarnished paint. Take a small quantity on a damp flannel, rub lightly over the surface, and you will be surprised at the effect.

Hagyard's Federal Balsam cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and Lung Troubles.

Come Again.

The Chas. O. Willard Co. are playing a successful engagement at Naylor's Opera house. The plays are well received and are deserving of good patronage. The play Monday night was "The Counterfeiters" followed by "Jane," a very laughable musical comedy, and on Wednesday by the "Caliban," each one sustaining the good reputation that was here in advance of the company from our surrounding towns. They play the remainder of the week. Let us hope for a full house every night. They leave here Sunday for Picton where they give a grand benefit for the Citizens' Band of this place. All wish them a pleasant and profitable week. This company play a benefit for the Picton Band at that place on Monday evening next where they have secured a week's engagement.

PERSONALS.

W. H. Britton has returned home and is under the doctor's care as he is suffering from rheumatism and heart failure.
Joseph Hoppe, of the telegraphic department, returned home last week from a pleasant visit to Syracuse, Buffalo, Toronto, etc.

Mrs. E. W. Scott returned home last week after enjoying a pleasant visit with friends in Oswego.

Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Yordon returned home from York, N. Y., last Saturday.

Oscar Hensen, superintendent of the Ontario Wheel Works, Ganouque, and John Macdonald, of the Ganouque Agency of the Rathbun Company, spent Monday in town.

Mr. & Mrs. F. S. Rathbun spent last Sunday at Napanee Mills as the guests of F. G. B. Allan.

Councillor Gracey and J. M. Smith spent Monday in Belleville.

Mr. & Mrs. John McCullough were visiting in Belleville on Monday.

Mr. & Mrs. Thos. Gault spent last Friday in Belleville.

Bert R. Fomeri, of Adolphustown, was in town last Friday.

Miss Poiras has been visiting in Belleville as the guest of Miss Hudson.

George E. Mayhew, of Toronto, was in town last Monday.

Wm. Buchanan, of Niagara, has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Morden, Centre street.

Miss Myra Bogart has returned home from an extended visit to friends in Whittby, Toronto, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. T. Carnahan have been visiting friends in Kaladar, while there their little boy was taken ill of fever.

Thos. Johnston is laid aside from duty by malarial fever.

The younger members of H. W. Woodall's family have been suffering from intermittent fever.

Miss Jennie Howard spent Sunday in Trenton.

Mrs. H. A. Thompson, of Belleville, who has been the guest of Mrs. John Prickett during the past week, returned home on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ellen Walker, of Kingston, spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. John Prickett, Mill street.

George Bonny, of Kingston, was in town last week.

Miss Wilson spent a few days in Napanee last week.

Mrs. Frank Smith, Brant street, has been seriously ill.

Miss Annie McNeill, of Napanee, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Annie Wilson, Dundas street.

Wm. Perry, who has been ill for some weeks of malarial fever, is gradually recovering.

Alida Wheeler has been seriously ill of typhoid fever.

Jas. Lowrey, of the O'Connor House, is able to be out again.

Jas. Wilson, of Westmoreland's meat market, is laid up from an attack of remittent fever.

Mrs. W. P. Aubin, of Kingston, has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Alice Hunt, during the past week.

Mr. & Mrs. Egbert Hunt have been visiting friends in Picton and vicinity.

Miss Nellie Gunn, Nap. Ave., has returned home after visiting her sister Mrs. Strickland, in New York, N. Y. T.

Mrs. D. Gunn, Napanee Road, went to Montreal this week.

Mrs. H. A. Yeomans is visiting friends in Belleville.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

At the regular meeting of Aberdeen Lodge, No. 39, held on the evening of Oct. 11th, a letter of condolence was ordered to be transmitted to sisters Katie and May Prickett.

To Miss Katie and May Prickett,
Dear Sisters—In the very sudden death of your father, you have sustained a misfortune which all who had the pleasure of knowing him can feel deeply estimate. We condole with you in the most sincere and earnest manner, and we pray that the sympathy of friends can be of any consolation under the trying circumstances, be assured that all our new friends are united in their sympathy for you. Though we feel that no words of ours can bring comfort to your sorely tried hearts, yet we can give you some words to write to you to express our deep and heartfelt sympathy in your affliction.

We can understand what a blow his death is to you. He was a man whose place will not be easily filled in the world, how impossible to fill it in his home. You have lost the hope of meeting him in a better and a happier union than the ties that bound you here on earth. He waits for you and reunited there, you will know so much of his love and his faith that sisters mingle with your sorrow, look to that future where the suffering dead are reunited. We pray God to temper your affliction and give you strength to endure it. May He in His own good time give you peace that will enable you to wait with patience until He shall call you to meet your loved one in Heaven.

With much sympathy of the Lodge,
Mrs. William McMaster N. G.
Miss Nan Harvey V. G.

Postponed.
The entertainment, which was to have been held under the auspices of Mohawk Lodge of Royal Templars in the West End Mission hall on Wednesday evening, was owing to bad weather, postponed until the evening of the 25th. An excellent programme and a pleasant time is guaranteed.

The Weather.
The weather during the past week has generally been of a very decidedly autumn complexion and somewhat morose in character. There has been several boisterous gales. On Friday and Sunday the mercury climbed into the sixties, on the latter day reaching 62 in the shade. Light showers on Friday, Tuesday and Sunday played a benefit for the Picton Band at that place on Monday evening next where they have secured a week's engagement.

Now Look Out

tend the cattle and cook the soil (for While living in Johannesburg or in adjacent locality allotted to them, they subjected to certain special laws, w are more honored in the breach than the observance.

in utter idleness, while their women tend the cattle and cook the scoff (food). While living in Johannesburg or in an adjacent locality allotted to them, they are subjected to certain special laws, which are more honored in the breach than

...was pointing into the wind and seas, and
...he was riding to the pilant hemp
...stands in comparative safety. Breaking
...the cabin doors, Bert began a search for ...an extra anchor without success. He ...found that the yacht was called the Lake

"Yes, we do," replied a woman holding on a strap. "Well, then, move forward. The chap with a push is out at dawn, Along about half-past four; And there, on the dew-bespangled lawn, He pushes that blamed lawn machine."

He scratched his head and said:
You may give me 500 in Old School
Presbyterian, to please the old woman but I will take the heft of it in Baptist

Baby was troubled with sores on head and legs. I tried "Palm-Tar Soap." In a very short time the sores disappeared, skin became smooth and white, and the child got perfectly well.
Mrs. HOLTZMAN, Crediton.
Only 25c. Big Cake.

D. M. WATERS.

Large Results.
Perfect Security.

GEO. E. SNIDER,
WATCHMAKER, JEWELER & DEALER
in all kinds of SILVERWARE, &C.
Corner Main & St. George Streets,
Davenport.

New Fall Goods

Our new Fall Goods are almost all in stock and exceed our highest expectations.

We are prepared to offer better value than ever before, and invite all in need of anything in our line to call and see the Bargains we are showing in all departments

We are Agents for Standard Fashion Company and Swiss Steam Laundry of Toronto

R. MILLER,

ST. GEORGE ST., DESERONTO.

J. J. Kerr's

THE GREAT

DRY GOODS, BOOT & SHOE

—AND—

Ready-made Clothing House of Deseronto.

Our Stock is complete in every Department, and is larger and more extensive than on any previous season. Parties in need of any of the above lines will find it to their benefit to see what we are doing.

We make things interesting for every buyer.

J. J. KERR.

Mair street, Deseronto.

Dry Goods for Fall Season

Of 1895.

THE BIG STORE

Is the place to get them.

Our first shipment of British Dry Goods is now on our shelves and have been admired by all who have seen them. Complete lines in all departments.

Domestic Cotton Goods.
Prints, Gingham, Wash Goods.
Foreign and Domestic Dress Goods.
Silks, Velvets and Plushes.
Woollens, Flannels, Blankets.
Tablings, Towels, &c.
Shawls, Jackets and Wraps.

Hosiery, Underwear and Notions.
Fine Merchant Tailoring and Gents' Furnishings.

The Boot and Shoe trade is booming. The public appreciate correct Styles and durability.

We have the largest assortment of Coal and Wood Cook Stoves, Heaters and Box Stoves in the Counties, also Tinware and all Stove Furnishings.

Of course we are headquarters for Groceries and Provisions, Salt, &c.

We want to do business with you.

THE RATHBUN COY.,

per A. A. RICHARDSON

Deseronto, April 18th, 1895.

Manager

PERFECT MANHOOD!

How attained—how restored—how preserved. Ordinary weakness of Physiology will not tell you: the doctors can't or won't, but all the same you wish to know. Your SEXUAL POWERS are the Key to Life and its reproduction. Our book lays bare the truth. Every man who would regain sexual vigor lost through folly, or develop members weak by nature or wasted by disease, should write for our sealed book, "Perfect Manhood." No charge. Address (in confidence),

EMIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N.Y.

The Tribune.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1895.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

Whitby's fair this year was a failure. Measles are epidemic in East Belleville. Kingston barbers have adopted early closing.

Tweed is getting jealous of Kingston and Belleville.

B. E. Sills has removed from Belleville to Kingston.

Nathan Rogers will remove from Tynning to Steno.

Mrs. I. C. Hays, Hangerford, died on Oct. 5, aged 72.

Frederick Cruise, well known in Almonte, died, aged 64.

Samuel C. Dougan, a printer, died suddenly in Stirling.

G. T. Martin, Smith's Falls architect, will remove to Kingston.

Wm. Stafford, of Lanark, was struck by a locomotive and killed.

The Carbon Works at Peterboro, bonused by the town, are no more.

Mrs. R. L. Loring, of Belleville, died on Monday night from apoplexy.

Agnes Mowbray, Beaver Lake, died on Oct. 7th, after a year's illness.

John Bull, of the High Shore, has a cough weighing over 1 lb.

Napanee high school held its athletic sports last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Francis Treadway, of Latta, fell on a stove and was badly burned.

The tomato crop of Prince Edward is one third larger than the year last.

Mrs. Robert Fidler, formerly of Belleville and Trenton, died in Trenton.

Hiram Wesley Huff, Napanee, has been appointed division court bailiff.

The Pearce Co. have shut down their saw mill at Marmora for the season.

The Advertiser, a third paper started in Cobourg, is a thing of the past.

D. G. Bonter, of Smithfield, has shipped 5,900 baskets of plums this season.

James Little and Josie M. Jack, of Belleville, were married this week.

The Canada Lumber Co. mill at Carleton Place has shut down for the season.

Isiah Marshall, of Clayton, Lanark County, died on the 3rd, aged 104.

James Black, Trenton, has purchased part of the McLeod farm in Murray.

Joseph S. Martin, formerly of Kingston, died of typhoid fever at Fargo, Dakota.

On Sept. 25, Chas. Solmes and Hattie Gossage, both of Napanee, were married.

Major Ponton has been promoted to the command of the 15th battalion, Belleville.

Nelson Morden, and Josie Richardson, both of Hallowell, were married on the 9th.

Felix Hartman, a well known citizen of Orange, dropped dead from heart disease.

James Kirkpatrick and Gerie Macdonald, of Beaver Lake, were united in marriage last week.

The Prince Edward county bonus to the Central Ontario Railway will all be paid up in 1897.

Belleville and Cobourg are both making a bold push for railway connection with the C. P. R.

James Albert Hurt, of Ameliasburg, and Agnes Harper, of Wellington, were married on Oct. 3.

James Fleming, Parrott's Bay, had his hand lacerated while taking a barn door off its hinges.

About five thousand barrels of apples have been shipped from Brighton during the last two weeks.

The Sabbath School Association of Hangerford holds a convention at Thomasburg on Nov. 6th.

The residence of Maurice Marshall, Grindstone Island, was burned last week. Insurance $300.

There were 162 prisoners in the Cobourg jail last year, and it cost about nine cents per day to feed them.

Harvey C. Brooks, who at one time conducted a great mill at Colborne, died at Sparta, Wis., aged 77.

Over 1,400 bushels of grain were threshed in the fall on the farm of Alex. Stuart, Wilberforce township.

Peter Richardson, a farmer four miles east of Gananoque, was stricken with paralysis while digging potatoes.

The house on the old Staley farm, Wolfe Island, occupied by A. Huff, was destroyed by fire. Insurance $400.

Lanark village having got a newspaper will now have a sewer, electric light, telephone, and curling rink.

A Carleton Place man and a Drummond girl met at a hawking hole and were made man and wife next morning.

The most fashionable thing in Tweed now-a-days is to leave town with a number of appalling creditors behind.

Time and place for discussing a meeting in the Methodist church at Denbigh, is expected twenty days in Napanee jail.

James ad Joseph B. Hughes, Bathurst township, from 30 acres raised fifteen tons of hops which they sold for $2,300.

A girl in Napanee fell over a box left by a slopaker on the boardwalk. The corporation will be held liable for damages.

THE LOON LAKE HOLOCAUST.

The Awful Experience of the Lindsay Family.

BURNED IN THEIR BEDS—ALL ATTEMPT AT RESCUE FAILED—THE FATHER'S LIFE IN DANGER FROM HIS INJURIES—PITIFUL FLIGHT OF THE SURVIVORS—AN EIGHT MILE JOURNEY TO THE NEAREST RELATIVES.

KALAMATH, Oct. 10.—The terrible holocaust at Loon Lake, on Monday night last, proves upon fuller investigation to be even worse than at first reported, in its details of fearful destruction. The statement that six of the children of Thomas Lindsay perished in the cruel flames is unhappily verified, and in addition Mr. Lindsay himself was so gravely injured in his frantic efforts to save his children that he will probably be crippled for life, and may possibly never get up again. Mrs. Lindsay is also suffering from very painful burns, which will, however, not prove serious. The names of the victims of the appalling disaster are as follows: Charlotte Lindsay, aged twenty-one years; Pauline Victoria Lindsay, aged seventeen years; Rosina Lindsay, aged thirteen years; Thomas Adam Lindsay, aged eight years; Guy W. Lindsay, aged five and a half years; and Ula Pearl Lindsay, aged one year.

These were all sleeping together in a large bedroom upstairs, and after the fire was discovered on one side of the house, a man from any one of them, so that it may be hoped, some slight alleviation of the crushing blow, that death came painlessly by suffocation before the flames reached the room. The other five members of the family, father, mother, two girls and one little boy, were sleeping down stairs, and they narrowly escaped with their lives. The house, with its entire contents, was completely consumed, the total monetary loss being about $10,000, upon which the family had a policy of insurance. Three lumbermen, who were occupying temporary sleeping quarters in another room upstairs, dropped from a window and escaped bodily injury, though they lost everything but the clothes they could snatch up in their flight.

The scene of the disaster is a beautiful acre farm which forms a peninsula in Loon Lake, in the township of Anglemore, about twenty-five miles northwest of this place, the nearest railway station and telegraph office, and somewhat further northeast of Tweed. It is a wild and lonely spot, six miles distant from the nearest neighbor, and approached only by a little frequently used road running for miles through the shrubby bush, up hill and down dale, over rocks and corduroy, the last six miles of which is a very rough and uneven track, which a good team can scarcely cover in less than an hour and a half. Three years ago last April several children, with their father and seven children, moved out from this township and took possession of the farm. At first they occupied a little shanty, but later on they built a fine winter cottage they had erected the more commodious dwelling house which is now in ashes. Lindsay was a partial cripple having lost the right arm and leg from rheumatism. But he was a steady fellow with a brave little wife and strong growing girls, who, in the absence of big brothers, could turn their hand to almost anything around the farm.

To better understand Tuesday night's cruel tragedy a brief description of the house is necessary. It was a two story frame structure, facing south, with a kitchen lean-to across the back end. Along the east side ran the dining room, with a north door leading into the kitchen, and a staircase along the west side to the upper story. The west half of the front was taken up by a sitting room, and the east half was a bedroom with a door connecting. Upstairs were three bedrooms, corresponding in size and location to the three rooms below, and the kitchen. The space beneath the roof was used as a storage room.

On Tuesday night Mrs. Lindsay and the children retired shortly after eight o'clock. The eldest girl, Margaret, a young woman of twenty-three years, and baby Lula occupying a bed with their mother in the downstairs sleeping room, and the father, brother and two younger children in the upstairs room. The father did not retire so early, but by the kitchen stove chatting with the three roomers, Peter Laberge and his son Joseph, and Joseph Remi, lumbermen, who had gone out to the place to lumber the morning before, and were staying a few days in the house while they fitted up their little shanty for permanent quarters. It was ten o'clock when the father retired, and the mother and children were left alone in the room.

Lindsay himself was the last to leave the kitchen, after seeing, as he thought, that the father had retired, and that the house was safely out. The three roomers went upstairs to their room, the sitting room in the front of the house, and the father, brother and two younger children in the upstairs room. Scarcely an hour had elapsed when Mrs. Lindsay was awakened by a noise of cracking and a deep, sullen roar. She started up, and the bed and crying loudly to the others in the room, rushed through the sitting room to the dining room when she saw a bright light shining under the kitchen door. Her husband was close behind her, and he started to open the door when he was driven back by the advancing flames.

"Save the children," screamed the agonized mother and Lindsay ran to the staircase as his wife attempted to close the door again, but the flames were too close to the door on her hands and wrists from which she is suffering, while her hair was singed from the front of the head. She returned to the bedroom to rescue the children there, and as the smoke was already blinding them, and barring the way to the front door, which opened out from the dining room at the foot of the stairs, she smashed out the window frame and escaped through it.

In the meantime Lindsay had started upstairs, but before he could get more than half way up the flames had surrounded him, and he was forced to turn back. Stunned, burned and blinded, he fell backwards to the ground and groped his way for the door. In his bewilderment he passed it, and found himself beside the sitting room window, which he dashed out and clambered through. The three men upstairs had been aroused and were hurrying to escape, and the mother hearing the noise supposed the children were getting out all right. It was a few minutes before her husband outside that she learned the awful fact of his failure, and at almost the same moment the roof crashed in and the entire structure became a seething furnace. To attempt to describe that moment of supreme anguish is useless. The overwhelming horror of the scene has not the helpless survivors of memory, and not one of them can today tell exactly what occurred in the few moments which followed.

The three men in the upstairs room dropped from the window and reached the ground unharmed. In reply to the scarcely coherent supplication of the poor mother they declared that they had attempted to get to the children in the room adjoining theirs, but were driven back by the flames, which even then had full possession of the room. They added that they could neither hear nor see anything of the children and supposed they had escaped. This statement appears to confirm the belief that some of the victims, awake to consciousness, and must have happily died a painless death. It was a bitterly cold night, and none of those who had escaped were fully clad. Margaret, the eldest girl, had gone to bed with a bad attack of neuritis, and had lain down without undressing. The others had snatched up a few garments, and these they put on as they stood watching the destruction of their home. Then, when the last lingering hope had died away, the mother, broken little group sought shelter at the stable and hid up the eaves. Then the poor remnants of that erstwhile happy and united family, five survivors of eleven, started on their dreary journey of eight miles over rocks and fallen timber to Mrs. Lindsay's father's farm, the husband, friend, and his awful leave-taking and agony of his own injuries, walking the whole distance, being unable to bear the jolting of the waggon or the inclemency of the drive. It was three o'clock yesterday morning when the little company reached its destination, and the aroused grandfathers, told their tale of woe.

I found them this afternoon. As I drove up to the unpretentious little log house, I found a crowd of men camped down the path and greeted me. Having learned that he was John Lamb, Mrs. Lindsay's father, and that the family was within, I was hospitably invited inside. Evidently the large, low-pitched living room, the first object that attracted my attention was a mattress on the floor, upon which were stretched the motionless figure of a man, covered all but the feet with a shawl. It was poor Lindsay, who lay in a dazed, silently bearing the excruciating pains of his terrible burns. Both hands were wrapped up in bandages, and I learned that the doctor who had just been to him before my arrival, had gave doubts of saving either of them, so horribly had they been injured. His weeping wife sat in a rocking chair beside him, holding baby Lula in her arms. Felix played at her feet, all unconscious of the dire calamity that had overwhelmed them. Margaret, the eldest girl, a pleasant-faced, intelligent girl, sat near by, silently mourning her lost sisters and companions. There were many relatives present, for they are a large family, a few introductory words, I asked how Mr. Lindsay was getting along, and his wife raised the shawl that I might see his face. It was a distressing sight, for the features were discolored and terribly swollen, so that both eyes were completely closed. Large blisters covered nearly the whole face, the lips were raw and bleeding, and the throat was so sore that the father could hardly speak. When he made that fearful rush up the staircase he had not time to get his hands to his face, and his protection alone may be attributed the escape of the head from harm, for every portion of the face and neck which was unprotected had been scorched. The doctor, who had been to him before my arrival, had given up, and he was permanently injured, cannot yet be ascertained, nor are the doctors sure whether he has been seriously hurt by inhaling the flames, or by falling down stairs his back was also hurt, and, altogether, under the most favorable circumstances, it will be a tedious recovery to even partial health. He coughed up somewhat before I left and said a few words; they were scarcely audible to any but his watchful wife, who, forgetful of her temporary grief, devoted herself to him and her remaining children. Now and again, as she sat gently rocking the baby the bitter tears would course unbidden down his cheeks, and his wife would turn to him and strove for the sake of those yet left her to show a cheerful front to them and to hide her own consuming grief.

After sundown had cooled, sympathetic neighbors made a search of the ruins for the remains of the slaughtered family. The investigation was thorough and minute, but all that could be recovered was a small handful of fragmentary bones, and these were given Christian burial in Pluton's temple. Some have it been the lot of a newspaper representative in this province to disclose so pathetic and heartrending a story as the above. It is unnecessary to dwell upon the burning details further than draw attention to the immediate needs of the sorely stricken family. Their dire bereavement time alone can soften; human sympathy can do little or nothing to lessen its anguish. But there is an opportunity for practical sympathy to ameliorate their temporal distress. House, furniture, clothing all are gone; the winter's supplies of food and the material for winter clothing, which the dead girl Charlotte was making up, are completely wiped out; the mother is helpless, and will be unable to earn a penny for months; the poor old grand-parents are sheltering them at present, but the little children, the world's goods, and a little immediate and wisely administered aid would prove an inestimable blessing to a worthy family suffering such a blow. The crushing awfulness of which it is impossible to appreciate.—Toronto Globe.

ground unharmed. In reply to the scarcely coherent supplication of the poor mother they declared that they had attempted to get to the children in the room adjoining theirs, but were driven back by the flames, which even then had full possession of the room. They added that they could neither hear nor see anything of the children and supposed they had escaped. This statement appears to confirm the belief that some of the victims, awake to consciousness, and must have happily died a painless death.

It was a bitterly cold night, and none of those who had escaped were fully clad. Margaret, the eldest girl, had gone to bed with a bad attack of neuritis, and had lain down without undressing. The others had snatched up a few garments, and these they put on as they stood watching the destruction of their home. Then, when the last lingering hope had died away, the mother, broken little group sought shelter at the stable and hid up the eaves. Then the poor remnants of that erstwhile happy and united family, five survivors of eleven, started on their dreary journey of eight miles over rocks and fallen timber to Mrs. Lindsay's father's farm, the husband, friend, and his awful leave-taking and agony of his own injuries, walking the whole distance, being unable to bear the jolting of the waggon or the inclemency of the drive. It was three o'clock yesterday morning when the little company reached its destination, and the aroused grandfathers, told their tale of woe.

I found them this afternoon. As I drove up to the unpretentious little log house, I found a crowd of men camped down the path and greeted me. Having learned that he was John Lamb, Mrs. Lindsay's father, and that the family was within, I was hospitably invited inside. Evidently the large, low-pitched living room, the first object that attracted my attention was a mattress on the floor, upon which were stretched the motionless figure of a man, covered all but the feet with a shawl. It was poor Lindsay, who lay in a dazed, silently bearing the excruciating pains of his terrible burns. Both hands were wrapped up in bandages, and I learned that the doctor who had just been to him before my arrival, had gave doubts of saving either of them, so horribly had they been injured. His weeping wife sat in a rocking chair beside him, holding baby Lula in her arms. Felix played at her feet, all unconscious of the dire calamity that had overwhelmed them. Margaret, the eldest girl, a pleasant-faced, intelligent girl, sat near by, silently mourning her lost sisters and companions. There were many relatives present, for they are a large family, a few introductory words, I asked how Mr. Lindsay was getting along, and his wife raised the shawl that I might see his face. It was a distressing sight, for the features were discolored and terribly swollen, so that both eyes were completely closed. Large blisters covered nearly the whole face, the lips were raw and bleeding, and the throat was so sore that the father could hardly speak. When he made that fearful rush up the staircase he had not time to get his hands to his face, and his protection alone may be attributed the escape of the head from harm, for every portion of the face and neck which was unprotected had been scorched. The doctor, who had been to him before my arrival, had given up, and he was permanently injured, cannot yet be ascertained, nor are the doctors sure whether he has been seriously hurt by inhaling the flames, or by falling down stairs his back was also hurt, and, altogether, under the most favorable circumstances, it will be a tedious recovery to even partial health. He coughed up somewhat before I left and said a few words; they were scarcely audible to any but his watchful wife, who, forgetful of her temporary grief, devoted herself to him and her remaining children. Now and again, as she sat gently rocking the baby the bitter tears would course unbidden down his cheeks, and his wife would turn to him and strove for the sake of those yet left her to show a cheerful front to them and to hide her own consuming grief.

After sundown had cooled, sympathetic neighbors made a search of the ruins for the remains of the slaughtered family. The investigation was thorough and minute, but all that could be recovered was a small handful of fragmentary bones, and these were given Christian burial in Pluton's temple. Some have it been the lot of a newspaper representative in this province to disclose so pathetic and heartrending a story as the above. It is unnecessary to dwell upon the burning details further than draw attention to the immediate needs of the sorely stricken family. Their dire bereavement time alone can soften; human sympathy can do little or nothing to lessen its anguish. But there is an opportunity for practical sympathy to ameliorate their temporal distress. House, furniture, clothing all are gone; the winter's supplies of food and the material for winter clothing, which the dead girl Charlotte was making up, are completely wiped out; the mother is helpless, and will be unable to earn a penny for months; the poor old grand-parents are sheltering them at present, but the little children, the world's goods, and a little immediate and wisely administered aid would prove an inestimable blessing to a worthy family suffering such a blow. The crushing awfulness of which it is impossible to appreciate.—Toronto Globe.

Every Raymond Sewing Machine guaranteed ten years. John Dalton, dealer, Deseronto. ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.

Friday, Oct. 18th, is the day appointed to be kept in memory of St. Luke, the Beloved Physician, the friend of sinners, the author of the third Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles. There will be service in the evening at 7.30. A meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held on Wednesday evening. Any young men in the congregation wishing to join this society, may be informed from Mr. J. J. Clark, the director, or Mr. Briscoe, the secretary.

Next Sunday being the third Sunday in the month, the Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 11 o'clock service. The Curate wishes to take this opportunity of expressing his heartfelt gratitude for the kind and generous manner in which the congregation have given him a substantial token of their good will.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER. Mr. J. K. Clark, of the West End Mission, conducted the service last Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor at the West End Mission. In the evening Rev. W. H. Taylor, D.D., preached an able sermon to a very large congregation. The Pastor's Bible class is increasing in number. All are welcome. The Christian Endeavor Society's meeting last Sunday evening was of more than ordinary interest. Dr. Seelye has been invited to a meeting of a social character which will be held this evening.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange passed a resolution protesting against the action of the Dominion Government in raising the inspection fee on grain.

FALL and WINTER

1895.

We would respectfully call the attention of our patrons and the public generally to our Fall stock, comprising a full and choice assortment of Overcoats, Suits, Trimmings to match, at prices much lower than formerly, while the fit, style and workmanship will be up to date. Look in and see us.

W. STODDART,

The Popular Tailor, Deseronto Main Street.

D. W. DART.

Manufacturer and Dealer in

FINE FURNITURE

—AND—

UNDERTAKING.

Our WAREHOUSES are the largest and most complete to be found in Ontario.

Fine Furniture, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Carpets of all kinds, Oil Cloth, Curtain Poles, etc.

—THE CELEBRATED—

Karn Pianos and Organs

which I carry, the largest and finest display ever seen in Deseronto. I invite competition.

Old Pianos and Organs taken in exchange.

Special attention will be paid to our Undertaking Department.

Our Factory

Is complete with the latest working machinery, and we are prepared to do all kinds of wood work, etc. Repairing a specialty. All work done with dispatch, and satisfactorily guaranteed in all departments. Invite the public's general inspection.

D. W. Dart, EDMUND ST., MARKET SQUARE.

CATARRH RELIEVED IN 10 TO 60 MINUTES—One short puff of the breath through the Blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. J. C. Catarrh Powder, diffuses this Powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves instantly and permanently cures Catarrh, Hay Fever, Colds, Headache, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis and Deafness. 60 cents. At W. G. Eggar.

Smoke SHE TOBACCO
Chew T&B MAHOGANY
Manufactured by The Geo. E. Tuckett & Son Co. Ltd. Hamilton

REMEDIAL ORDER.
School Question Settled.
Buy your Books, Pens, Pencils, Scribblers and all School Supplies at MALLEY'S
where you get them cheap.

The Times.

JAMES A. ROY, —BREWER—
Belleville, - Ontario.
Porter and Pale Ale in Wood or Bottles Bottled Ale for Family use a Specialty

VOL. XIV

DESERONTO, ONT., FRIDAY, OCTOBER, 25, 1895.

NO. 4

W. H. STAFFORD. HARDWARE!

Special Line of Fall Goods, consisting of Shot Guns, Winchester, Marlin and Mauser Repeating Rifles, Single Shot Sporting Rifles; Revolvers, Curtis & Harvey,

Hamilton Ducking Canadian Rifle and F.F. Powders.
Reloading Tools, Wad Cutters and Duck Calls.
Rugs, Horse Blankets and Sursingles, Cow Ties,
Blasting Powder and Fuse.
Potato Forks, Scoops and Spades.
Patent Stove Pipes and Elbows.
Weighing Scales, Building Paper, Glass and Putty, Plow Points, etc., etc., etc.

PRICES ALWAYS RIGHT.

W. H. STAFFORD, MAIN STREET, DESERONTO.

Address a Postal Card to

C. B. SCANTLEBURY,
Belleville,

The WALL PAPER KING of Canada.

Then write upon the other side:

Dear Sir,— 189
Please send me samples of Wall Paper suitable for (mention rooms) and not to exceed (mention price) per single roll. I saw your advertisement in (mention paper).
Yours truly,

YOU will receive by return mail samples of Wall Paper suitable for any kind of a home, and which we positively guarantee better, and lower in price than any other house in Canada. The samples will be large and in sets comprising Wall Paper and Border, and will enable you to make a selection for an entire house as you sit by your own fire and with your friends to assist in the selection.

You have absolutely no responsibility in the matter; you simply write the postal as above and we do all the rest—send you samples enclosing order blanks, a guide "How to Paper or Economy in Home Decoration," showing how to estimate the quantities required for the different rooms, and directions for ordering, etc., in fact we entirely relieve you of the trouble and anxiety of Wall Paper shopping. We positively Guarantee Satisfaction, and we say more—
Our Mail Order Department reaches throughout the Dominion. We pay the express charges on all orders of a reasonable size. Full instructions with samples.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
WALL PAPER from 5 cents to $10 per roll.

Glasgow Warehouse,
BELLEVILLE.

Mantles and Mantle Cloths.

Stylish Goods at Moderate Prices.

Black and Colored Beaver Jackets.
Black Curt Cloth Jackets.
Fancy Chinchilla Cloth Jackets.
Black Wove Cheviot Jackets.
Ladies' Ulsters—all sizes.
Misses' Ulsters—all sizes.
Greenland Seal Capes.
Grey Lamb Capes.
Scalette and Plush Capes, etc., etc.

Also
Black and Colored Beaver Cloths,
Black and Colored Curt Cloths,
Fancy Tweed Coverings,
Pretty Golf Coverings,
Eider Down Coverings for Infants,
32-1/2 Inch Mantle Velvets, etc.

YOUR TRADE SOLICITED.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON Successors to the late
DIRECT IMPORTERS. J. W. DUNNET.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BLOOD PURIFIER

Scott's Sarsaparilla

CURES BY EQUALIZING THE CIRCULATION

BLACK RIVER BRIDGE.

Wm. Martin has purchased the Ingham farm on the Black River. The Revival services of an interesting character are in progress in the Methodist church. The ex-servants are doing a good business and give no small amount of employment. Rev. E. A. Tonkin has been ill and Peter Lowry took the services last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lambert have returned to Watertown. More rain is all the cry.

CARMANVILLE.

Christy Grass has returned from Uncle Sam's domain. Mrs. M. Carroll visited Napanee on Thursday last. Mr. and Mrs. McKewen spent Sunday at Chas. Neale's. Mrs. John Reid and Master Bert spent part of last week visiting friends in Napanee and Hinch. John Reid spent Sunday at Hinch. Lawrence Burns had a ploughing here on Tuesday last which a number from this section attended. Miss Mary Shane spent Tuesday with her sister Mrs. L. Burns. Miss Maggie Hinch is spending a few days with Mrs. M. O'Dea.

BETHEL.

Bethel has had a wedding, Walter Allison has joined the Benedictine, he has taken on himself a wife, Miss Gilbert. His parents gave a reception for Walter and bride, when we noticed some friends from a distance, Mr. and Mrs. R. Gilbert, Mr. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rankin, of Brighton, Mr. and Mrs. John Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Nellie Rankin. There was a large number of their neighbors and friends also present. We offer our congratulations to the newly wedded couple; and with them a pleasant and happy journey through life. Mrs. Jake Osburn, who are informed is down with typhoid fever. The home of R. R. Rankin was gladdened on Saturday evening when R. brought home a fine piano and placed it in his luxurious parlor.

SHANNONVILLE.

Walter R. Penick who has had charge of the Vestry Cheese Factory, Grey Co., during the past season has returned home, and reports a successful season. Misses Libbie and Ida Kerr, of Thomasburg, were the guests of their aunt Mrs. Wm. East. Miss Stevens, who has been the guest of her sister Mrs. Milton Williams has returned home being accompanied by Mrs. Williams who intends spending a week with friends in Napanee. Master Percy Morden, son of T. F. Morden, is ill with typhoid fever. Mr. Zora Dean is still very ill. Master Earnest Sanders, son of our pastor, is ill with scarlet fever. On Sunday evening last Rev. W. J. Sande preached a sermon on behalf of the W. M. Society.

NAPANEE ROAD.

Rain is very much needed as water is scarce and ploughing is hard. Farmers are pretty well along with their fall work except ploughing. The potato harvest is finished and from all reports far exceeds last year's in quality and quantity. The corn crop is good and vegetable crop also. The snow storm on Sunday was not expected. It had been said in quality and quantity. When completed will make a very comfortable house. Mr. Madole has finished shingling his wagon house. Wm. Alder finished siding Mr. Gunn's tenant house, which is occupied by Mr. Bennett. Hunking bees are about over. Mrs. Alfred Keach has been quite ill for some time and no change for the better. Miss Emma Thompson has been sick for some time. Chas. McGee's sale on Thursday last was well patronized and everything brought fair prices except horses for it seems everybody is well supplied with them. On account of cows falling in their milk one of our milk drawers, Alf. Keach, only draws once every other day. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sagar are visiting at Madole this week. We hear that our old school teacher, Miss Sheriff, is to take our school again. Miss Mills has gone back to school for the season of our young men will be quite lonely now. Never mind there is pretty good fish yet.

TYNDINAGA RESERVE

Isaac Bryant is making his home comfortable by shingling and improving the interior. The Sunday school will close for the winter next Sunday the last in October. Andrew Maracle is finishing up his season by threshing corn a great improvement on the old system of husking and shelling the stalks on, being pressed are more readily eaten by cattle. So far the season has caught but few fish. The Band Council is to take place on Tuesday the 29th inst. in the Council House. It is to be hoped that this organization will be well patronized; let no slight excuse prevent your attending this entertainment. Miss Anderson, of the Paragon, has been spending some days at the home of Mrs. Sargent, of Sillery. Dow Claas is putting up a fine diving house which will make a comfortable addition to his premises. G. A. Powles took charge of the organ at both churches on Sunday. Mr. Bateman assisted materially with his cornet in the Parish church. The celebration of the organ of a Band instrument is much appreciated by the congregation who will welcome Mr. Bateman to the future. The services last Sunday, the day appointed by the Archbishop Canterbury for intercession for the Sunday school, were well attended. The collects prescribed were said and advice. Teachers and scholars made by the Incum

MELROSE.

Miss Smith, of Lonsdale, was the guest of Miss Corrie Simpkins for a few days this week. Geo. Levier has been appointed collector of taxes for Ward No. 2, in the place of G. E. Simpkins resigned. The dividend recently paid by the Melrose cheese company for the months of July and August was eighteen dollars and three cents per standard. The annual meeting of the Melrose Branch of the Upper Canada Agricultural Society will be held on Tuesday evening Nov. 5th. The Rev. Mr. Tomkins, sermons agent of the society, will address the meeting. Mrs. Haight will offer for sale by Public Auction on Tuesday Oct. 29th, her stock, farming implements, grain, hay, etc. Later Friday evening, Mrs. Mrs. Geo. English entertained a large party of young people from Plainfield and this vicinity. A very pleasant time was spent in games, dancing and other amusements.

EMPEY HILL.

Rev. Mr. Stratton preached to us on Sunday after an absence of three weeks. Miss Emma Penny has returned home after a short visit at Marlbank. We are glad to hear that Miss Woodcock, teacher at Kingsford, is gradually recovering from her recent illness. Miss Maggie Armbrage left on Monday for Belleville where she intends remaining the dressingmaker. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew German spent Sunday in Frederickburg where the latter intends staying for a short time. Miss M. Cameron, of Napanee, spent Sunday in this vicinity. Miss Lillian Pitt and Miss Long, of the Napanee Collegiate, were the guests of Mrs. E. Milling these last few days. Peter Kuyck, of the Newburgh Academy, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. Armbrage, one day last week. Wm. Stoddart, of Deseronto, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. Armbrage, one day last week. Quite an attraction in the White House on the second, Ah! Well rumor says a wedding soon.

MARYSVILLE.

Mrs. B. McQuinn and Mrs. J. Corrigan were the guests of Mrs. A. Anderson on Sunday. Miss Aggie Copeland, of Belleville, is visiting her cousin Miss Hurley for the past few weeks. One evening last week Miss J. Ryan accompanied by her friend Miss Evans, of Cornwallville, visited her home here. Mr. and Mrs. T. McGinn spent Sunday in Read. T. Drummond spent a few days this week in Two-Dead vicinity, buying cattle. Mr. Alex. Anderson had on last Sunday evening the somewhat unusual experience of the cholla hospital here, and it was said that he was the first of his kind in the district. He expects to be back again in Montreal about Nov. 8th to commence the latter part of his undertaking, that of rounding the world the allotted time being three months and six days. Many seem desirous to know what young man drove so far to say good by a few weeks ago. Can you satisfy their curiosity Mike?

A CHOLERA CURE.

The Herald's Tokio dispatch says: It was announced some weeks ago that Dr. Kitasato, a prominent native scientist of Tokio, had discovered a sure cure for cholera. The doctor was invited to experiment in the cholera hospital here, and it was said that out of 83 patients whom he treated but 12 died. This is a mortality of 15 per cent. The cure was made at the present epidemic throughout the empire has been to date over 65 per cent. It would seem that, Dr. Kitasato has not produced a specific remedy, but has made a discovery which cannot fail to prove of value to the medical profession. Nobody knows as yet the nature of his treatment, but it is not to be supposed that he will long deny any scientific character of his discovery. As the cholera is now slowly dying out in all sections of Japan, it may be that the doctor will be able to give the manner in which the authorities have fought the plague and kept it under control entirely to the admiration of the world. They have demonstrated that the way to crush epidemics is to fight earnestly, systematically and persistently.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT OF TYNDINAGA.

We have to record, this week, the death of one of the oldest and most respected residents of the Township of Tyndinaga, in the person of Mrs. Ellen Kennedy, relict of the late Richard Kennedy, who passed away on the 18th inst., surrounded by her children and friends. She was a native of the Catholic church. The deceased lady was born in 1802 at Bogie, Co. Roscommon, Ireland, and came to this country in 1850, settling in Tyndinaga, and residing ever since on the homestead where she died. She survived her late husband twenty-two years, during which time she remained with her son, Michael, and two daughters in the old home. Another daughter, Ellen, religious name Sister Dolores, joined the community of St. Joseph, Toronto, twenty-five years ago. The deceased was ninety-three years of age and was beloved by all who knew her. She was succeeded by the large number who assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to her memory by attending her funeral which took place last Friday. The funeral procession was over a mile in length and it is said to have been one of the largest ever witnessed in this district. The funeral was held in St. Mary's church, Marysville, where requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Quinn, after which the interment took place in the cemetery adjoining. The pall-bearers were four grand-nephews of the deceased, viz: John, Michael, Thomas and Patrick Kennedy, and two nephews, viz: John and Thomas Kennedy, who were formerly jail officials at the Penitentiary.

UNVEILING THE MONUMENT.

Dr. Newton and W. G. Egar, representing the Liberal-Conservative Association of Deseronto, went to Kingston on Wednesday to participate in the ceremony of unveiling the monument in memory of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, G. C. B. At Deseronto Junction they boarded the train from Belleville on which were W. B. McKenzie, Premier of Canada, W. M. Northrup, M. P., H. Corry, M. P., and other representative men of the district, by whom they were warmly greeted. At Napanee, Mr. W. G. Egar, M. P., and others joined the party, and each station along the route furnished its car. At Kingston Junction the car could not hold the numbers. The Bay of Quinte delegates made their headquarters at the British American hotel. The Premier was the guest of John McIntyre, G. C. B. The Deseronto delegates occupied places on the platform during the ceremony which was witnessed by a vast multitude, and which was also a very interesting and important occasion. The speeches were delivered by the Premier, Lieut-Governor Kirkpatrick, Hon. D. Montague, Hon. G. W. Ross and others.

THE MONUMENT.

The monument, which is very imposing, stands at the main entrance to the city park, facing city hall. On each side of the statue, which is a bronze statue of Sir John A. Macdonald, are the names of the British troops at Sebastopol when that stronghold fell in 1856. The statue is a magnificent piece of work by Mr. G. Wade, of London, England, and represents Sir John in the uniform of a Privy Councillor. It is of massive bronze, eleven feet in height, and weighs two and one-half tons. It is undoubtedly very faithful as a characteristic likeness, which, as the sculptor had not the assistance of life studies in his work, reflects the greatest credit upon him. It possesses that delicate greenish cast, resembling the verde antique of the celebrated ancient statues of Rome. Those who have seen the ancient bronzes in the British Museum cannot fail to notice the dark greenish cast on their surfaces—which is the result, probably, of the action of the atmosphere on the metal during a long series of years—and it is this peculiarly beautiful tint that the modern sculptors endeavor to imitate, and in which the French sculptors excel. The original model in the studio of Mr. Wade was inspected by the Baroness Macdonald and Sir Charles Upper, and received, we are told, their entire approval. It is a replica of the statue erected in Montreal. Mr. Wade is the sculptor of the bust of Sir John A. Macdonald, which was some time ago placed in St. Paul's Cathedral. The pedestal, which is from the design of Messrs. E. R. Welch & Son, of this city, is in admirable keeping with the elegant statue which surmounts it. It is twelve feet each way at the base, and is fifteen and one-half feet in height. Its weight is thirty-seven tons, or seventy-four thousand pounds, and is a most rare and colored granite, obtained from the celebrated quarries of Messrs. Milne, Conits & Co., St. George, N. B. Messrs. Welch and Son's design for the pedestal was submitted by forty-four architects of Toronto and Montreal. On the face of the base appears the names of the architects who designed the letters, and immediately above, upon a beautifully polished plinth, are the heroic words of the statesman, uttered shortly before his death: "A British subject I was born, a British subject I will die." At each corner of the base is a pointed pillar of granite, also polished, and on the face of the pillar is the date of the death of the old chief: "1891—of his death." The column which stands upon the base is highly polished, and the height from the foundation to the top of the statue is fifteen feet five inches, the added height of the figure making the total height of the monument twenty-five feet and six inches. The whole is a monumental work of art, of which Kingston may well be proud.

THE HUB HOTEL BURNED.

At five o'clock Friday morning, 18th inst., the Hub Hotel, Dundas street, Napanee, with its contents was destroyed by fire. When discovered the fire had spread through the rear portion of the building and the building was burning. The fire was a great victim for the flames. It was not long until every part of the hotel was scorched. Some of the inmates, who were comfortably warm by being able to get out. The building and furniture was a total loss. The occupant, Capt. Thompson, had some insurance on the building, and the building being owned by a loan company is probably well insured.

GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS.

A number of people connected with the Methodist Church of Empey Hill have very generously and thoughtfully contributed to the assistance of the unfortunate Linda Lamm, who suffered so terribly from fire. The Empey Hill people have set an example which will, no doubt, be generously imitated by the people of other sections of our county in the district. The following is a list of donations for this charitable purpose:

Jonathan Allison	$2.00
George Armstrong	1.00
William West	1.00
Robert Crawford	50
John G. G. G. G.	50
Mrs. B. I. Allison	50
Edward Mellin	50
D. B. Wilson	25
Nelson Russell	25
E. J. Semmler	25
Wm. Smith	25
Henry Armitage	1.00
John Topple	50
Wm. Hayes	50
Total	$9.25

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. It contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by W. G. Egar.

A CLOSE CALL.
WATSON N'DAM saved by DOUGLAS' EGYPTIAN LINIMENT.
Mr. McAdams writes: "Have doctors for two years. About two miles south of my farm in my right lung, which prevented me doing anything. Had had cough night and day, and was getting worse. The pain and suffering increased; hearing of such remarkable cures made by Douglas' Egyptian Liniment, I determined to try it to remove the pain. I received immediate relief. I followed directions, pain decreased, cough lessened and before six bottles were used I felt a sound man. It is now exactly three years this spring and I have had no relapse. As soon as I began to use the Liniment I stopped taking any medicine whatever, and I do believe that Douglas' Egyptian Liniment has prolonged my life. People said I was dying from consumption. I am firm in my statement and trust that other people when first taken with heavy cold or lungs will immediately do as I did as last resort, and save dollars."
Watson McAdams.
Tamworth, May 23rd, 1894.

A SHOOTING AFFAIR.
J. E. Johnston and Robert Parker, two farmers living about two miles south of Tweed, had a difference on Saturday, which is likely to become a serious matter. Johnston was engaged in loading muck from the concrete road to use for fertilizing purposes, when Parker rushed up with a gun and claimed the muck as his property. Without waiting to discuss the matter, Parker struck Johnston in the face with the muzzle of the gun, inflicting a bad wound over the right eye. Johnston says Parker also threatened to shoot him. Although badly stunned, Johnston managed to stagger to his home, and medical aid was summoned. Since the incident, Johnston has been unable to do any work. It is twelve feet each way at the base, and is fifteen and one-half feet in height. Its weight is thirty-seven tons, or seventy-four thousand pounds, and is a most rare and colored granite, obtained from the celebrated quarries of Messrs. Milne, Conits & Co., St. George, N. B. Messrs. Welch and Son's design for the pedestal was submitted by forty-four architects of Toronto and Montreal. On the face of the base appears the names of the architects who designed the letters, and immediately above, upon a beautifully polished plinth, are the heroic words of the statesman, uttered shortly before his death: "A British subject I was born, a British subject I will die." At each corner of the base is a pointed pillar of granite, also polished, and on the face of the pillar is the date of the death of the old chief: "1891—of his death." The column which stands upon the base is highly polished, and the height from the foundation to the top of the statue is fifteen feet five inches, the added height of the figure making the total height of the monument twenty-five feet and six inches. The whole is a monumental work of art, of which Kingston may well be proud.

AGAD HEART MAKES WORK LIGHT.

The best work one can only be done when the body health is good, because the body reacts upon the mind, and a mental inertia supervenes when the body is enfeebled. To have the best results, therefore, in any state of work, the body must be healthy, buoyant and vigorous. Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine, which upon the first symptoms of debility, loss of appetite, and general weakness, should be regularly taken. And then it is a fine old wine, desirable for its own sake as a beverage, being pleasant, stimulating, and nourishing. In great contrast to the invalid it is that it makes blood, which is so badly needed and this gives a new vitality to the whole system. It is a tonic, an incomparable tonic, and it is proposed to run a rare old wine of exquisite bouquet. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case at $4.00, 75c. per bottle. Address—B. H. Clark & Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

A BIG SCHEME.

The Peterborough correspondent of the Ontario Times writes: The William Hamilton Manufacturing Co. and the Canadian General Electric Co. have received the contract for the waterpower and general machinery and the electric plant, respectively, for the first three phase electric plant erected in Canada, from the town of Trenton. These contracts are valued at $100,000. It is proposed to run electric wires to Belleville, twelve miles distant, for the transmission of electricity for light and power.

ELECTRIC ROADS PROPOSED.

There is a prospect of a great fight in parliamentary circles, in connection with electricity. Application will be made to parliament next session for an act to incorporate the Canadian electric railway and power company with power to build, operate and maintain an electric railway from Montreal to Windsor via Brockville, Kingston, Ottawa, and London; and to build a branch line from Toronto or other points on the main line to the Suspension bridge, and to build a branch line for a radius not exceeding twenty-five miles from a main line or points on the main line, etc.

"I AM FINISHED; TELL MY WIFE."

A terrible accident took place Monday in a manufacturing establishment on St. John street, Montreal. A workman named Albert Vautier was engaged polishing a piece of iron, when a large engine, which, making two thousand revolutions a minute, burst into a thousand pieces, striking the unfortunate man to the floor. Vautier's head was struck on the temple, and he was unconscious and said, "I am finished; go and tell my poor wife." The poor fellow was taken to the Hotel St. Charles, where he died during the evening. He leaves a widow and three children.

Norway Pine Syrup cure Coughs.
Raymond Sewing Machines have been manufactured over thirty-three years. John Dalry, dealer, Deseronto. 331

"THE COOK OF THE GANNET."

BY W. W. JACOBS.

(Copyright, 1895.)

"All ready for sea, and no cook," said the mate of the schooner Gannet gloomily, "what's become of all the cooks?"

"They must be 'em ship as mates now," said the skipper, grinning. "I've got one coming aboard to-night. I'm trying a new experiment. George, who tried one," said George, "an' it blew him out of the water, but I never heard of shipmates trying 'em."

"There's all kinds of experiments," rejoined the mate. "What do you say to a lady cook, George?"

"A what?" asked the mate, in tones of sterner amazement. "What about a schooner?"

"Why not?" inquired the skipper, warmly, "why not? There's plenty of 'em proper for one thing, it said the mate, viciously.

"I shouldn't have expected you to have thought of that," said the other unkindly; "besides, they have stowaways on big ships, an' what's the difference? She's a sort of relation of a schooner, a widder woman, a good sense, an' a good seamstress, as the doctor told her to take a sea voyage for the benefit of her cough, which was coming with her, she's as good as a cook. She'll take her meals with us, but of course the men are not to know of the relationship."

"What about sleeping accommodation?" inquired the mate, with the air of a man putting a poser.

"I don't think of that," replied the mate. "It's all arranged."

The mate with an uncompromising air, "What for information?"

"She's—she's to have your berth, George," continued the skipper, without looking at him. "You can have that nice, large aft locker."

"One what the biscuit and onion's kept in?" inquired George.

"I'm not adding that," replied the mate.

"I think it'll be all the same to you," said the mate, with labored politeness; "I'll wait till the butter gets the empty and crowded into that."

"It's no use your making yourself unpleasant about it now," said the skipper; "what's all the arguments?"

"Following his gaze the mate looked up as a stout, comely-looking woman of middle age came along the deck, followed by the watchman staggering under a box of enormous proportions.

"Hullo!" cried the skipper, starting uneasily at the title. "We've been expecting you for some time."

"There's a row," said the cabinman, "said the lady calmly; this silly old man—the watchman snarled fiercely—the box goes through the window going to the top, and the cabinman wants me to pay. He's out there using language, and he kept calling me granddaddy. I want you to come and look at that."

"Come down below now," said the skipper, "we'll see about the cab. Mrs. Blossom, my mate—George, go and send her away."

Mrs. Blossom, briefly acknowledging the introduction, followed the skipper to the cabin, while the mate, standing under his breath, went to enter into the contest in which he was from the first hopelessly overmatched. The new cook, a woman of middle age, with a few wrinkles, withdrew at an early hour and the sun was well up when she reappeared on deck next morning. The wharves and rigging of the light boat had disappeared, and the schooner, under a fine spread of canvas, was just passing Til-

"There's one thing I must put a stop to," said the skipper, as he and the mate, after an admirably cooked breakfast stood on the deck talking; "the mate is to hang around that galley too much."

"What can you expect," demanded the mate, "they've all got their Sunday clothes on, too, blessed!"

"Hil' you Bill," cried the skipper, "what are you doing there?"

"Lending you a hand with the saucepans, sir," said Bill, an oomk-bearded man of sixty.

"There ain't no call for 'em to come 'ere at all," shouted another oomk-bearded man, his head out of the galley; "mean 'em 'em's lifting 'em beautiful!"

"Come on, you fellows, or I'll show you with a rope," roared the irritated commander.

"What's the matter?" inquired Mrs. Blossom, gruffly; "they're not doing any harm."

"I can't have 'em there," said the skipper, gruffly; "they've got other things to do."

"I must have some assistance with that boiler and the saucepans," said Mrs. Blossom, decidedly; "and what'll you infer with what don't concern you, Jimmy?"

"That's mutiny," whispered the horrified mate, shiver, rank mutiny."

"She don't know no better," whispered the other back. "Cook, you mustn't talk like that to the cap'n—what me and the mate tell you, you must do it. You don't understand us, but it'll come out in the end."

"You'll see," demanded Mrs. Blossom, "you'll see. I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

go on like this—it's not disciplined."

"My lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

go on like this—it's not disciplined."

"My lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

For the next twenty-four hours Mrs. Blossom reigned supreme, and performed the cooking for the vessel, using only the ministrations of the crew. The weather was fine and the wind light, and the two officers were at their wits' end to find jobs for the men.

"Why don't you put your foot down, granddaddy, the mate is a burst of happy laughter came from the direction of the galley. "The idea of men laughing like that about ship? they're carrying on just as though we were in a tugboat and a coal-scraper up into them from which I could untill the bustle of starting in the small hours of the morning."

"Now, my lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

"My name's Cap'n Harris," said the skipper, stiffly.

"Captain Harris," said Mrs. Blossom, scornfully; "and what'll I happen to do as you and that other shame-faced lookin' man tells me?"

"We hope it were come to that," said Harris, with quiet dignity, as he paused at the companion; "but the mate's in charge just now, and I warn you he's a very severe man. Don't talk to nonsense, George."

"With these brave words the skipper disappeared below, and the mate, in a glance at the dauntless and imposing attitude of Mrs. Blossom, walked to the end and became once more the plying steamship. A burst of wondering admiration arose from the crew, and the cook returned to her work with her victory, returned to the scene of her labors.

go on like this—it's not disciplined."

"My lady," said Harris, stopping forward. "I don't think of it. How dare you talk to me like that, Jim Harris?"

SELLING OUT! — SELLING OUT!

Special Bargains for

THIS WEEK:

Good heavy Dress Melton at 80c. per yd.
300c. black and colored Dress Serges for 23c.
50c. black Dress Goods at 35c.
Heavy Grey Flannel at 30c.
Extra heavy at 12 1/2c.
Special Grey Flannel at 15c.
Excellent Table Linen at 15c.
4 yards good Towelling for 15c.

Ask to see our Pea-jackets and Overcoats, nothing like them in the trade at the price we ask.
Our stock is crowded with Bargains in Furs, Capes, Robes, Hats, Caps, Sox, Braces, Gloves, Everything new and bright. The whole stock must be cleared out.

N.B.—All accounts must be settled by the 15th of November.

TERMS CASH.

WIMS & CO.

Oilcake.

We have placed in Store a large quantity of Fine Ground Oilcake which we offer for a limited time at the unheard of price—

$23.00 per Ton.

(Bags included.)

We have overcome the standing objection to the use of Oilcake, viz.—price, as this quotation is only a trifle higher than the market value of Cracked Grain, and when used with grain the increase in flow of milk will surprise you.

J. C. HANLEY & CO.,

Grocers, Feed and Seed Merchants,
BELLEVILLE, — ONTARIO.

JACKETS

—AND—

Jacket Cloths.

We are showing hundreds upon hundreds of the newest styles in Ladies', Misses and Children's Jackets, Capes and Ulsters imported direct from the maker by us.

Also all kinds of Jacket Cloths and Ulsterings by the yard.

If not in the City, write for samples.

Beautiful Fur Capes.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.,
Importers,
BELLEVILLE.

The Office has been carrying apples from Bonnard's to Deseronto.

Dr. Vanier is building an extension to his residence which he will fit up as an office.

Capt. Flynn, of the sloop Monitor, has had a busy season and is still busy carrying lumber.

A. C. Stover, of the General Office, has been transferred to the office of the Gananoque agency of the Lathrop Company.

James Stokes received a fine Irish pointer dog the other day, the gift of R. T. Dwyer, late high treasurer of the High Court of Foresters of this province.

Jacob Borden whose leg was broken a few weeks ago, was seized with a severe attack of pleurisy and during the past week was very ill. He is, however, recovering.

Reports from Nova Scotia show that the prospects of the claimants to the vast Hyde estate in England are brightening and the probabilities are that the Canadians interested will yet get their shares.

The first Epworth League formed in Canada was in Barrie, the second in Hebron, N. S., and since its first organization in 1882 its membership in the United States and Canada has reached 1,500,000.

Contractor Clement has built a two-story addition to the rear of the Oddfellows' block. He has also the new hall for Deseronto lodge of Oddfellows well forward, the plasterers being now busy at their part of the work.

Rev. J. T. Thompson, M. A., has been called to the pastorate of John Street Presbyterian church, Belleville, of which Rev. J. L. George was formerly minister. Mr. Thompson preached several times in Deseronto last winter and is a distinguished graduate of Queen's College.

R. S. Rathbun has very kindly placed the Steamer Sista at the disposal of the members of the two school boards and the teachers that they may attend the lecture to be given by the Minister of Education in Belleville this evening. The party leave at 3 p.m.

The excursionists who went to Rochester on the North King this week had many experiences. At Brighton the steamer ran aground in the mud and had to be pulled off by the Hero. There was a big sea on the lake and all aboard were sea-sick, and she was delayed on account of the stormy weather.

It is quite evident that Upper Canada College will in future be run on extremely high and dry principles. The tone of its management will not be consonant with the true spirit of Canadian nationality. The Ontario government should abandon the institution and convert the building to other public uses.

As will be seen elsewhere in these columns the people of Empey Hill have donated a respectable sum for the relief of the Looon Lake sufferers. Possibly some in Deseronto might wish to follow their example. The TRIBUNE will be glad to receive and acknowledge any donations sent in for this purpose.

The Convention of Epworth Leagues of the Belleville district of the Methodist Church is in session at Belleville this week. The Shawanville delegation consists of M. A. German, Miss L. Munshaw, Mrs. Geo. Reid, Mrs. E. Grille, Mrs. H. Morton, Mrs. E. M. Lake, Miss Maud Palmer and Mr. Frank Palmer.

E. J. Salisbury of the Dominion Express Company, was in town on Wednesday. He expressed himself as well pleased with the amount of business transacted by the company in Deseronto during the past summer. It is probable that arrangements will be made for the continuance of the service during the winter months.

Last Friday, while Charles, son of S. Wright, of Sandhurst, was picking apples he fell from the tree and struck on his head and was picked up in an unconscious condition. On Monday he regained consciousness in a slight degree, but little hope are entertained of his recovery, as it is feared his brain has been injured.

A man is bringing an action in Water-town court against a greaser to recover the price of a loaf of bread, seven cents. The plaintiff alleges the loaf was very mouldy and covered with blue spots showing signs of advanced decay. Then he took it to the greaser who he bought it and demanded his money which was refused. This made him mad.

The steamer Hamilton's attempt to get up the river outside the Ironsides canal on a recent trip excited much interest among spectators on the shore. No less than five times she tried to breast the swift currents of the shoals and as many times was driven back narrowly escaping ground in the shoal. Finally she gave it up and took to the lake.

A prominent Reformer who attended the Sydenham convention had a nice basket of provisions packed for his lunch, but by an oversight it was left in the car which went on to Tweed. Some wicked Conservatives from Deseronto going on to that village espied it and, seeing the situation, confiscated it. They assert they never enjoyed anything better than the contents of the basket afforded.

J. B. Gayford, George Burtch, Thos. J. Naylor, R. Geddis, Thos. Stewart, Wm. Ryan, John Hobson and Thos. Rowland were among those who crossed over on the North King on her last trip. Their experiences would fill a volume. They all paid ample tribute to Neptune and have barely begun to tell their friends. George Burtch is dramatising the trip and will put it on the boards under the auspices of the Cricket Club.

Some more quiet weddings may soon be expected.

The price of coal has been advanced during the past week.

A private kindergarten school will be opened in Deseronto at an early day.

Next Thursday is Halloween and already the small boy is preparing for the event.

By elections will soon take place in five constituencies to fill vacancies in the house of commons.

Dr. Yeomans is the proud owner of a mastiff pup, the gift of a friend in London, Bangor, bevare.

The Imperial government has sent ultimatum to the King of Ashantee and the Republic of Venezuela.

The ladies of the Methodist church, Napanee, sent $12.05 towards the relief of the Lindsay family.

Allen had his foot severely crushed in the Cedar mill yesterday, a log having fallen upon it as the result of a team suddenly starting.

Dr. McKeil, of Campbellford, who was injured by an accident while building O'Brien's bridge, near Plainfield, died on Sunday.

The Citizens' Band came in for very many flattering comments at the Sydenham demonstration for their fine appearance and high class music.

Chisholm & Co's heavy drive has reached Chisholm's, twelve miles from Trenton, and the whole drive will be got through to Trenton so as to be out this fall.

Town councillors are already feeling the pulse of the electors with an eye to re-election next January. Having once tasted the sweets of office they do not wish to retire.

The high wind caused the water to recede on Tuesday and Wednesday to probably the lowest mark yet. The mills have lowered their intake pipes so that they were able to run on usual.

On Sunday evening Mrs. R. W. Lloyd slipped and fell at Barnhart's corner sustaining several severe bruises, one hand being much injured and causing much pain. Several others slipped at this same spot which was very dangerous for the time being.

The weather during the past week has been generally blustery. On Sunday there were frequent flurries of snow and the ground was quite white. In several parts of the province there were comparatively heavy falls of snow.

Councillor Rusk put the case of the free public library in a nutshell, when he stated at the last meeting of the council that at present the town was giving a grant to the Public Library which could only be enjoyed by the members, a comparatively small part of the population. He favored giving a larger grant, the matter being first well considered, so that all might have the benefit of the institution. The other councillors practically took the same view of the situation.

While proceeding to church on Sunday evening Mrs. Thos. Brown slipped on some ice at Barnhart's corner, and falling, broke her right arm near the shoulder. Dr. Newton reduced the fracture and the patient is already able to move about.

The entertainment held last Friday evening in the West End Mission hall, under the auspices of Mohawk Lodge of Good Templars, was a complete success. The programme was well prepared, and each number was given in an admirable manner. The Mohawk Brass Band gave several bright selections, and all departed well pleased with the evening's amusement.

Will Wipe off the Debt.

The present debt of the Methodist church is about twelve hundred dollars. The congregation have resolved to wipe it off before October 1896. The Sunday School has offered to contribute five hundred dollars with this object in view on condition that the ladies of the congregation raise a like amount. The ladies have agreed to do their part and the "talent" scheme will be adopted and worked with all that well known energy which characterises the ladies of this congregation. The balance of two hundred dollars, and seventy-two dollars interest, will be covered by subscriptions which are still due and will be paid up during the coming year. There is no doubt whatever that the congregation will accomplish all they have undertaken and that in October next the mortgage will be burned amid great rejoicing.

Death of G. C. Emerson.

The sad intelligence was received here on Tuesday of the death of Samuel G. Emerson, of Tweed. Deceased, who has of late years been a member of the firm of Campbell & Emerson, dealers in agricultural implements, etc., had been away from home on a business trip, when he was seized with a bilious attack, and returned home when his case soon became critical, other complications having set in. Despite all the efforts of the best medical skill, he continued to grow weaker and death intervened on Tuesday morning.

Deceased was a brother of W. J. Emerson, formerly teacher in Deseronto, at one time residing in Tyndinaga, near Beesington, where he carried on farming. A few years ago he removed to Tweed where he proved himself a man of great business energy and capacity. He was twice married, his second wife being Miss Jennie Bradshaw, daughter of David Bradshaw, of Deseronto, by whom he was survived as well as by three children. The bereaved widow and family have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in this great affliction.

Independent Foresters.

All members of Court Deseronto, No. 93, I. O. F., are requested to attend a meeting in Foresters' Hall on the evening of Tuesday, 29th inst. Business of importance comes up for consideration.

Fell From the Horse.

Manson Dingman, of Bardolph, watering his horses, was riding on the back of one of the animals when a young horse commenced playing and made a spring to one side. Mr. Dingman lost his balance and fell to the ground, dislocating and fracturing his left shoulder. Dr. Newton attended to his injuries.

Match Factory.

The match factory of the Rathbun Company is constantly extending and bids fair to become an establishment of great proportions. There are now eight machines in position and two more will soon be added. About seventy hands are now employed in this factory which is under F. Barr's direction.

West End Mission.

Mr. J. K. Gies, who has been in charge of the West End Mission all summer, leaves next week for Kingston to pursue his studies in the theological department of Queen's University. He will conduct the services both morning and evening next Sunday and bid farewell to the Mission congregation.

All Busy.

Wm. Mitchell has returned from a visit of inspection of the Rathbun Company's mills at Greenhurst, Lindsay and Campbellford. All are cutting away and will probably run for three weeks longer. Mr. Mitchell reports a wintry temperature in Muskoka; at Athlery Junction there was a foot of snow and Mr. Baker informed him that further north there was fourteen inches.

Bible Society.

The collector for the Deseronto Branch of the Bible Society has about completed his rounds. The name of all subscribers will be published in this TRIBUNE. As possibly some who wished to contribute may have been overlooked, they may send in their donations to Messrs. Egar, Salder or Russell, who will send in the amount to the Treasurer. It is hoped that every family will be represented on the list this year.

Graduated.

Miss Agnes Deane, after a very successful course in Harper's hospital, Detroit, Mich., is now a graduate of the Farrard Training School for Nurses, having passed her final examinations with a fine percentage on Tuesday, 15th inst. There were ten other graduates at the same time, the class being one of the largest in the history of the school. Very many friends in Deseronto will unite with this TRIBUNE in congratulating Miss Deane on her success.

Driving Accident.

About nine o'clock last Wednesday evening, a buggy in which were Mrs. Parks and Miss Kinsmen, of Napanee, and John McKinnon, of Deseronto, was passing down Dundas street when, owing to the dangerous condition of the road and the stygian obscurity of the night, it was overturned opposite Flower terrace. Mrs. Parks hurt her hand and the whole party were badly shaken up. A railing should be erected and a lamp placed in position in this locality in order to prevent a repetition of this accident.

At Home.

The members of the Y. P. S. C. Endeavor of the Presbyterian church were "at home" last Friday evening. There was a large attendance of members and invited guests. Rev. W. S. McTavish presided and gave an excellent address, and the programme all through was very interesting and pleasing. Principal Knapp read an admirable paper on "The Dignity of Labor." Miss Clemmie Mackie gave a Scotch recitation and Miss Nellie Morden, Nellie Gammon and May Elliott gave recitations. There were musical trios, quartettes, choruses, and cake and coffee were also introduced during an intermission. Much of the success of the evening is due to the energy of Miss Agnes Anderson, convenor of the Social committee.

Contrary to Law.

The Tweed News says that a daughter of John Benn, manufacturer of dynamite at Tweed, had laid herself and her father open to a very serious offense and are now at the mercy of the Bay of Quinte railway company. It appears that Miss Benn has been making several trips over the railway to Marlbank and each time she carried a black valise. On Friday last she made her last trip and left her valise in the station at Marlbank while she went up town. The agent began to suspect something was wrong, and opened the valise and, to his surprise, found it contained dynamite. The authorities of the railway were at once notified, and now Mr. and Miss Benn are at their mercy. The penalty for carrying dynamite over the railroad is $500 fine or six months imprisonment.

The Sydenham Demonstration.

Wm. Stoddard, Reeve Dalton, A. S. Vallee, L. W. Hopkins, Lon Bogart, Thos. P. Calhane, H. R. Bedford and other leading Reformers went out to Sydenham last Friday to take part in the great demonstration in honor of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. Excursion trains from all points carried visitors to Sydenham, and the gaily decorated cars to the event. Over two thousand people were present and the Reform leader was greeted with great enthusiasm. The various churches had prepared dinner for the visitors. The Citizens' Bands of Deseronto and Tweed, and the Rathbun band of Kingston, furnished music. The address was given by Laurier and Messrs. Tarte, M. P., Dawson, M. P., and others were able efforts and were well received by the multitude present. All enjoyed the trip to Sydenham and the proceedings of the day.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Bateman has been seriously ill. Mrs. Patterson and Miss Mabel Patterson, of Amherst Island, are guests of Miss Tait and other friends in town.

Mrs. George Gwynn has returned home from a visit to friends in Sheffield township. G. E. Clement paid a business visit to Flinton last week.

James J. Duggan has been visiting friends in Sydenham during the past week. Chas. Hudson, of the Lathrop Company's flour and feed store, Belleville, has been laid up with an attack of sciatica.

W. R. Wilson, 2nd son, of Sidney, has been dangerously ill of paralysis of the throat. W. W. Power, of Belleville, has accepted the position of business manager for the Tilly Co.

Mr. & Mrs. David Bradshaw have been in Tweed this week having been summoned thither by the illness and death of S. G. Emerson.

Mrs. W. P. Aubin and children returned home to Kingston last Friday.

Lieut-Governor Chapleau was badly shaken by the runaway of his horses in Quebec the other day.

Rev. D. G. McPhail, of Picton, is spending his vacation in Paris.

The family of G. P. Sills, formerly of Deseronto, now reside in Ottawa; Mr. Sills remains at Whitney, the duties of his position requiring his presence at that place. Mrs. D. H. Woodward, Napanee, is suffering from hemorrhage of the lungs.

George Gorderian, Napanee, has been very ill.

Edward Wilson was in Kingston yesterday.

John Callaghan spent Wednesday in Kingston.

Thomas Bell is laid up with the prevalent fever.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Valleeau were visiting in Belleville on Wednesday.

George Stoddard has been in Belleville several days this week on business.

Neill Hunt has been laid up by an attack of malaria.

Mrs. H. A. Osborne is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. R. N. Irvine has returned home from a visit to friends in Streetsville, Toronto, etc.

Robert Wiseman is still visiting friends in Chicago.

T. W. Oke continues very seriously ill.

A. A. Wright's little boy still continues very low.

Mrs. F. S. Rathbun is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. & Mrs. S. Russell spent a few days with friends in Ottawa during the past week.

Miss Nellie Prickett accompanied her sister, Mrs. Vardon to Fort Plain N. Y., where she will spend the winter.

Burglars have been prowling about all the towns and villages of the surrounding district, and business men should take extra precautions. On Tuesday night they entered the shop of Lahey & McKenney, and J. P. Smith's grocery in Napanee and carried off several articles.

At the High Court in Belleville this week, among other cases was that of Martin v. McMahon, an action brought by Wm. Martin to set aside as fraudulent certain land and chattel mortgages made by Mrs. P. McMahon with the Tynedings, to W. P. McMahon and wife. The case was referred to the Master to ascertain how much defendant Brennan owes Edith P. McMahon. Plaintiff to be allowed to deed upon payment of such indebtedness, and costs reser ved.

Public School. Miss Robertson severed her connection with the public school this week and left on Wednesday evening by the Results for Oswego. Before leaving the pupils of her department presented her with a jewel case as a token of their regard. Miss Pagan takes charge of Miss Robertson's room and before leaving her own department was presented with a valise, set by her pupils. Mr. Sutherland, the new teacher, entered upon duty yesterday.

NEW MEASUREMENT ADOPTED.

A new departure has been made by the Inland Revenue department regarding measures for liquid. Heretofore only cylindrical measures have been sanctioned for use. It is now proposed to permit the use of conical measures. This necessitates the adoption of a different standard of measurement. Hereafter the standard will be that of weight instead of bulk. One gallon will be equal to ten pounds of distilled water at 62 degrees of heat, with the barometer at 30 degrees. The half gallon standard will be five pounds and so on. This is the practice that prevails in England and it will admit of more accurate measurements of liquids.

CARD.

I desire on behalf of myself and the members of my family to extend our thanks to all friends, and especially to the members of Court Deseronto, No. 93, I. O. F., for the active assistance rendered and the numerous expressions of kindly sympathy conveyed to us on the occasion of the death of my late lamented husband, MRS. JOHN PRICKETT. Deseronto, Oct. 24, 1895.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.

Mr. Arthur Morrison leaves for Toronto to-day to attend the Provincial Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, as delegate from St. Mark's Church.

There will be a special offering on Sunday morning on behalf of the fund of the Kingston General Hospital. We trust that the generous response made on "Hospital Sunday" last year will be repeated.

Next Monday is St. Simon and St. Jude's Day. These two Apostles are commemorated jointly because their names are found in juxtaposition in all the Apostolic catalogues of the New Testament. Or rather have we any special notice in Scripture or trustworthy tradition. Hence the appointed Canon of the Gospel extols the apostolic mission and dignity. The first Sunday in Advent falls on December 1st this year.

New Fall Goods

Our new Fall Goods are almost all in stock and exceed our highest expectations.

We are prepared to offer better value than ever before, and invite all in need of anything in our line to call and see the bargains we are showing in all departments.

We are Agents for Standard Fashion Company and Swiss Steam Laundry of Toronto

R. MILLER,

ST. GEORGE ST.,

DESERONTO.

J. J. Kerr's

—THE GREAT—

DRY GOODS,
BOOT & SHOE

—AND—

Ready-made Clothing House
of Deseronto.

Our Stock is complete in every Department, and is larger and more extensive than on any previous season.

Parties in need of any of the above lines will find it to their benefit to see what we are doing. We make things interesting for every buyer.

J. J. KERR.

Main street, Deseronto.

Dry Goods for Fall Season
Of 1895.

THE BIG STORE

Is the place to get them.

Our first shipment of British Dry Goods is now on our shelves and have been admired by all who have seen them. Complete lines in all departments.

Domestic Cotton Goods.

Prints, Gingham, Wash Goods.

Foreign and Domestic Dress Goods.

Silks, Velvets and Plushes.

Woollens, Flannels, Blankets.

Tablins, Towels, &c.

Shawls, Jackets and Wraps.

Hosiery, Underwear and Notions.

Fine Merchant Tailoring and Gents' Furnishings.

The Boot and Shoe trade is booming. The public appreciate correct Styles and durability.

We have the largest assortment of Coal and Wood Cook Stoves, Heaters and Box Stoves in the Counties, also Tinware and all Stove Furnishings.

Of course we are headquarters for Groceries and Provisions, Salt, &c.

We want to do business with you.

THE RATHBUN COY.,

per A. A. RICHARDSON

Deseronto, April 18th, 1895.

Manage

WEAKNESS OF MEN

Quickly, Thoroughly, Forever Cured

by a new perfected scientific method that cannot fail unless the case is beyond human aid. You feel improved the first day, feel a benefit every day, soon know yourself a king among men in body, mind and heart. Drains and loses ended. Every chronic to have married life removed. Nerve force, will, energy, brain power, when falling or lost, are restored by this treatment. All small and weak portions of the body enlarged and strengthened. Victims of abuses and excesses, reclaim your manhood! Sufferers from folly, overwork, early errors, ill health, regain your vigor! Don't despair, even if in the last stages. Don't be heartened if you have robbed you. Let us show you that medical science and business honor still exist here go hand in hand. Write for our book with explanations and proofs. Sent sealed, free. Over 2,000 references.

ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Tribune.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1895

DISTRICT ITEMS.

A Trilby craze is on in Kingston. John Angus, of Trenton, is dead, aged 85. Lanark village will be lit by electricity. Alex. Comie, Carleton Place, is dead, aged 81. Burglars will ply their vocation in Kings. A tanning factory will be established at Perth. Cardinal will have a system of water works. Mrs. George Reid, of Malton, died on Sunday. A new wing will be added to Belleville hospital. A "Jack the Hagger" has located in Napanee. Mrs. Alex. Beerman, of Gananoque, died last week. Prescott's rate of taxation is 10 1/2 mills on the dollar. The gunpowder plot is still celebrated in Brockville. Wm. M. Swazey, Belleville, died on Monday, aged 22. The gate receipts at Robin Mills fair were $35. Several Gananoque factories are putting in steam power. Potatoes have been selling at Kempsville at 18s per bushel. The C. P. R. shops at Perth have again been closed down. Mrs. Joseph Dir, of Garden Island, died on Sunday aged 69. Mrs. Marmaduke Terrill, of Trenton, died on the 17th, aged 52. Benjamin B. Simmons, of Kingston, died on the 21st, aged 82. Smith's Fall rate of assessment, has been placed at 24 1/10 mills. Kingston hotel men expect a dull winter in their line of business. Robert McDonald, Point Anna, aged 67, died after a long illness. Seven out of eight occupants in Lanark county jail are vagrants. There are forty men employed in the Kingston vehicle works. Chasney Hicks and family, of Napanee, have moved to Rochester. The swamp road between Glenvale and Harker's will be improved. A branch of the C. M. B. A. has been instituted at Brewer's Mills. There are six widows in Carleton Place who contemplate matrimony. Ottawa has a population of 49,074, an increase of 2,000 over last year. Richard Bradford, well known in Belleville, died on Monday evening. Chas. F. Jones, very popular in Kingston, has removed to busy Watertown. John Taylor, Lansdowne, has sold out and will remove to Fulman, Ill. F. J. Pope won the twenty mile bicycle road race at Kingston on Monday. W. R. Scott, Colborne expeditor, peeled sixty bushels of apples in ten hours. The Belleville Intelligencer fund for the Lindsey family amounted to $38 75. Bloomfield young people have organized literary societies and night school. Mrs. Kenneth Morrison, aged 68, of Lyr, died Saturday, leaving a large family. R. E. Jones, Plinton, and Maggie Brown, Esterville, were married on the 9th. Mrs. Dunkley, wife of Rev. G. Dunkley, of Morven, died on the 10th, aged 55. Last week the Hamilton ran aground in Belleville harbor and had to be towed off. Mrs. Francis Ballantyne died at Kitley, aged 82. She came to this country in 1840. There have been more fatalities in Kingston this year than ever before in twelve months. Chas. A. Baiden and Maggie McWater, of Portsmouth, were married last week. Nelson Morden and Josie Richardson, of Hallowell, were married at Picton on the 9th. A boy landed a skunk was seen walking along the streets of Ogdensburg the other day. There has been great mortality among the old residents of Belleville during the past year. A number of hunters have been heavily fined at Whitney for violation of the game laws. The thanksgiving offerings in Christ church, Belleville, on Sunday amounted to $100. Abraham Sharpe, of Thurlow, and Nettie Hopkins, of Canliton, were married on the 17th. Jesse Chever, of Kempsville, has sailed for Capetown, Africa, with a view to gold mining. A batch of albino mice have taken up their residence in a coal shed at Rockwood asylum. David Cosselman, of Mayo, and Sarah Tarnish, of Dunnungan, were married on the 9th. M. Tierney and George Empey have purchased the Herrington house, Picton, for $11,000. Last Sunday was the 25th anniversary of the opening of the deaf and dumb institute, Belleville. A bear weighing at least 400 lbs. has been cutting off sheep in large numbers in Olden township. W. H. Davis, Tweed, hauled 100 bushels of good ear corn from a plot of ground 14x50 feet. Duncan Macpherson, a plough concession of Olden, has struck a rich vein of iron ore on his farm.

L. W. Cunningham, of Bartlett, Ill., and Elizabeth Shane, of Odessa, were married at Rochester.

The C. F. H. Johnson of New York presented S. H. F. Johnson of Clayton with a purse of $100.

The curfew bell has done excellent work in keeping children off the streets of Kingston at night.

A very handsome brick schoolhouse has been erected at White Lake between Ivanhoe and Malton.

Burglars entered the postoffice and other places in Sirling last week but did not get very much booty.

The Bishop of Peterboro, leaving for a visit to Rome, was presented with a purse containing $1,200.

John Furong, formerly of Picton and Sophiasburg, was killed in California by a kick from a horse.

The Ontario is awaiting Belleville to the necessity of railway connection with the C. P. R. at Tweed.

Rev. J. A. McConnell, Presbyterian minister at Watson's Corners, dropped dead while taking his tea.

The dynamo of Mackay & Guest's incandescent light system, Kenmore, burst and did great damage.

Constable Robinson, of Campbellford, has been awarded $40 by the county council for capturing a horse thief.

Chas. Denton, a young Englishman, took $75 John Furong, formerly of Picton and Sophiasburg, was killed in California by a kick from a horse.

Low water is preventing the factories in Gananoque from running steadily, they only made 21 days last week.

The progressive town of North Bay has made its public library free and fitted up the rooms in grand style.

Thomas Flann, aged 22, of Ogdensburg, while diving committed suicide at Watertown by taking laudanum.

Dominique Feeney, formerly of Madoc township, committed suicide by hanging himself at Yale, Michigan.

The new Anglican church at Yarker is rapidly approaching completion. It will be an ornament to the village.

While trolling in Hay Bay, Thos. Diamond, aged 40, took a No. 1 mile caught a mackinaw weighing 40 lbs.

Rev. W. H. Stacey, formerly of Kingston, is now stationed in a large charge in the district of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Navigation on the St. Lawrence River will probably close earlier this year than usual on account of low water.

U. Wilson, M. C., has purchased the Mack Hotel property, Napanee, for $500 and will greatly improve the same.

The reported case of the petrification of the body of the late Joseph Chumuck, Arrprior, turns out to be a canard.

John, wife of the late Dr. Whifford, at one of the late Dr. Belleville, died in Brockville on the 16th.

At Wilberforce township, Miss Susan Jackson was handling a gun on Saturday when it went off causing fatal injuries.

Fred. Brownfield, formerly manager of the Bank of British North America, Kingston, died in New York after a surgical operation.

A vacant house near the West Ward school, Napanee, was destroyed by fire, being burned on the 17th. Loss $500; no insurance.

Haskel Cadman and family, two miles east of Plinton, had a narrow escape from death, their house and all its contents being burnt.

A patridge dashed through the glass of a window in Halloway Methodist church, Belleville, and its head was nearly severed from its body.

At Belleville, on Saturday, the ten-year-old son of Jacob Finkle had one of the bones of his shoulder broken, by some one who threw a stone at him.

The will of M. McCullough, late of Belleville, has been probated. Estate, $1,200; also that of Murseson Hagerman, late of Thurlow, estate $5,945.

On the 16th at Solmesville, Mrs. Henry Robinson and Miss Priscilla McCreo were injured in a runaway, their horse having been frightened by a load of barrels.

Rev. Wm. and Mary A. Deane, of the 6th con. of Sidney, were married on the 16th. Robert Arnott and Minnie Geveaux, of Belleville, were married on the same date.

Mrs. Higgins, wife of Harris Higgins, engineer at Trenton, died last week. Mrs. Mary McMahon, aged ninety, who had lived for fifty years in Prescott, also died last week.

John Robinson, of Ramsay, shot and killed a partridge, and a charge of lead in George Garvin's body. Garvin was not dangerously wounded.

On the farm of John Rutan, Richmond, was a great yield of corn. On three acres there were 2,400 stalks, with twelve and a half bushels. Mr. K. L. Langman saw four stalks yield 50 bushels.

M. W. Simpkins, Newburgh, has a small branch of an apple tree with 24 fully matured apples on six inches of the branch. It was taken from a wild tree which had sprung from seed in a field of Wm. Bruton, Earneston.

John J. Clark, Hay Bay, bought a set of harness from F. W. Vandusen, Napanee, agreeing to give him a milch cow in exchange. Mr. Vandusen agreed providing he could sell the cow. M. B. Mille decided to take the animal for $17. Just as a lad started with the cow to Napanee it made a halt, ran against the trunk of a tree, breaking its neck.

John Donnelly, an old resident of Smith township, near Peterboro, met his death in a peculiar manner last Sunday. He was mowing a field at day dawn and thought he had it in a safe position when he sat down, but owing to partial blindness he did not notice that the chair was some distance from him. He fell to the floor and died in a few minutes. He was 86 years of age.

An adopted daughter of Mr. Bond, near Cambridge, died on Oct. 24th. Neighbors searched long and faithfully but could not find the maid. Some one then suggested that the girl's body be searched. It was found that all her good clothes had been removed and her old boots and clothes were found in the barn. The disfigured searchers returned to their homes. The girl had skipped out.

Every Raymond Sewing Machine guaranteed ten years. John Dalton, dealer, Deseronto.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. a box. Sold by W. E. Egan.

Look out for colds at this season. Keep yourself well and strong by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great tonic and blood purifier. It will drive out all the poisons from your system.

Hayward's Pectoral Balm cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and Lung Troubles.

OUR WESTERN LETTER.

Standing on the deck of a steamer, nearing the mouth of the St. Lawrence, a stranger would wonder where a landing was to be effected, but as the land is approached the mouth of a small river is seen, and into this river the steamer cautiously enters, for the Kamistiquia is a narrow stream and its banks are high and steep. When entering the river the steamer is surrounded by the roofs of three large buildings above the tree tops and toward these we slowly feel our way. After steaming along in this manner for about two miles we round a bend in the river and are landed at the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's dock at Fort William, the gateway to Manitoba during the season of navigation.

Going ashore, our attention is first attracted by the mammoth elevators belonging to the above mentioned company, the roofs of which were observed from the lake, and we are astonished when told by the man in charge that each of them holds one and a quarter million bushels. Here is where the greater portion of Manitoba's yield of wheat is cleaned and bushelled up before being shipped to the markets of the world. Miles of wharves line the river banks and at these large steamers, with a carrying capacity of from three to one hundred thousand bushels are moored, some unloading coal and other loading wheat. Our own steamer the "Athabasca" after discharging six hundred tons of general merchandise and 35,000 bushels of wheat and several hundred barrels of flour for Owen Sound.

Overhead bridges, about five hundred feet in length, from the wharf to the station, enable passengers to cross the net work of railway bridges in safety and in crossing we pause and look down on the busy scene beneath us, hundreds of cars fill the different tracks and are being pushed here and there by four or five yard engines, some over the hoppers to be unloaded while others are placed alongside the warehouses to receive the goods landed from our steamer, the greater number, however, after being unloaded are made up into trains and returned empty to the westfield. Changing to meet the Chief train dispatcher at this point, we learned while in conversation with him that he is at present receiving a train load of wheat hourly when the "train" begins he expects to handle a train every half hour until navigation closes and the elevators are filled for the winter.

Much more could be written about this interesting and historical place, but I have already made my letter longer than I intended, so will hasten on to the prairies. From Fort William to Winnipeg the distance is about 440 miles and sidings have been put in by the Railway Co. every ten or fifteen miles to permit trains to pass without meeting. At most of these we met trains and at some of them two would be waiting for the express to pass.

Leaving Winnipeg we expected after seeing so much wheat in transit, to find most of the threshing done, but were surprised to find the almost innumerable stacks untouched. From the car window eighty and one hundred could be counted as the train was passing, and so it continued until darkness when it was too dark to count grain descending on the train, I asked him what the estimated yield was and his reply was 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other grains. When the train is added 45,000 head of beef cattle, the horses, wool and dairy products for export, we, as Canadians cannot but feel that the settlement of our Western country has been a success.

While visiting among our friends in Ontario we sometimes wished that the old province was home, and when the time arrived for taking leave, and saying farewell to parents and relatives, we felt we would like to remain with them, but since our return to the west, we feel that it is home and that our lot has been cast in a province soon to equal, if not surpass many of the older provinces of our Fair Dominion.

A. HICKS.

MOOSE JAW, OCT. 14, 95.

CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.

Rev. W. S. McTavish conducted the services last Sunday.

Miss Elliott led the Christian Endeavor Society meeting in the evening.

The Pastor's Bible class continues to increase steadily in numbers.

Rev. W. S. McTavish is representing the Sunday School at the Provincial Convention in Toronto this week.

The Senior and Junior divisions of the Mission Band held a thank offering meeting (Friday) evening at 7:15.

A CREDIT TO BELLEVILLE.

A credit to our city is a remark we hear every day regarding our big new store, such a store, never saw anything like it. Yes, our store is fine, but our stock is superb. Any gentleman in want of tailor made garments can be suited at Gough's new big store, and at a price equally as low as any wholesale house in Canada. It is not reasonable that we can and do sell cheaper than the west. We have the largest dealers in Canada. We turn a ten cent piece over twenty times when our opponents do not turn over a dollar. No doubt you can buy better clothing at a much lower price from Gough than any other place in Ontario.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Another advance in coal prices is reported. Ex-Governor Oliver Ames of Massachusetts is dead.

Nearly all of the St. Catharines druggists are engaged in a cut-rate war.

The Carnegie Company has a large contract for supplying car plates to Russia.

White has been assigned his seat in Parliament as member for Cardwell.

Mrs. Joseph Young, Port Stanley, was killed by falling through a trap door in her residence.

Mrs. John Langlois of Gaiterons Point, committed suicide by taking a dose of Paris green.

At Berlin Anders the Grand Jury returned a first bill against Kurechinski for murder, and the trial will probably begin to-day.

John W. Scott is being tried at Lockport, N. Y. for the murder of Samuel Conter of Toronto, one of the crew of the steamer Cibola.

Mayor Knowles of Dundas was assaulted in his office by John McDonald, a tramp, who was arrested and promptly sent down for six months. The Mayor's bathhouse was burned down, it is supposed by friends of McDonald.

At Hull in the basketball murder case, Antoine Asselin, the chief witness for the prosecution, swore that on the day of the murder he saw Mrs. Laframboise standing with an axe in her hand in the door of Jones, who was murdered.

In the local by-election for St. Anne's Division of Montreal Dr. Guerin, Liberal, was elected by 1,254 majority over C. A. McDonald, Conservative. Mr. A. L. Kennedy, Conservative, had 471 majority at the general election three years ago.

FALL and WINTER
1895.

We would respectfully call the attention of our patrons and the public generally to our Fall stock, comprising a full and choice assortment of Overcoats, Suits, Trimmings to match, at prices much lower than formerly, while the fit, style and workmanship will be up to date. Look in and see us.

W. STODDART,

The popular Tailor, Deseronto,
Main Street.

D. W. DART.

Manufacturer and Dealer in

FINE FURNITURE

—AND—

UNDERTAKING.

Our WAREHOUSES are largest and most complete found in Ontario.

Fine Furniture, Pianos, Sewing Machines, &c. all kinds, Oil C
Curtain Poles, &c

—THE CELEBRATED

Karn Pianos and Organs

which I carry, the largest and finest display ever seen in Deseronto. I invite competition.

Old Pianos and Organs taken in exchange.

Special attention will be paid to our Undertaking Department.

Our Factory

Is complete with the latest working machinery, and we are prepared to do all kinds of wood work, etc. Repairing a specialty. All work done with dispatch, and satisfaction guaranteed in all departments. I invite the public's general inspection.

D. W. Dart,
EDMUND ST., MARKET SQUARE.

CATARH RELIEVED IN 10 TO 60 MINUTES

One short puff of the breath through the new Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this Powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves instantly, and permanently cures Catarrh, Hay Fever, Colds, Headache, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis and Deafness. 60 cents. At W. G. Eggar's

Smoke TOBACCO
Chew T&B
MAHOGANY
Manufactured by
The Sun & Tuckett & Son Co.
Hamilton

Decoration.

blood

